Lewis and friends return to battle neuromuscular disease

Cover story

Like most holidays, the deeper purpose of Labor Day has been lost. Though a few labor unions may stage rallies, the holiday is now known for the last big cookouts of summer, back-to-school sales and banishing white shoes until Memorial Day. But one important pseudo-tradition of Labor Day weekend remains: the Telethon.

Beginning Sunday, Sept. 3, and running until Monday, Sept. 4, "The Jerry Lewis MDA Telethon" will be broadcast on more than 200 television stations including KSTP and WGN. This is the 35th such telethon, and if all involved had their wish come true, it would be the last. Cures finally would be found for 40 neuromuscular diseases.

Those involved are hopeful a cure is close because this year scientists announced the first "road map" of the human genome. The telethon will showcase the Muscular Dystrophy Association's efforts in this area.

"We're at a critical crossroad where even greater investments in applied research can yield exponential progress," says Lewis, MDA national chairman and telethon star. "I know the American people will keep our momentum going to eradicate neuromuscular diseases once and for all."

"MDA scientists and clinical centers are already involved in more than a dozen clinical trials, and we're aggressively exploring the healing potential of stem cells for neuromuscular diseases," says Robert Ross, MDA executive director and telethon executive producer. "Public support of the telethon enables MDA to expend more than $29 million on cutting-edge research worldwide. We annually fund some 350 investigative teams, and they're making phenomenal strides."

As Lewis and telethon anchor Ed McMahon look up agog at the ever-increasing tally, viewers may wonder just how much has come in and where it goes. Since 1966, the telethon has raised $1,006,790,210. The bulk of it — 78 cents of each dollar raised — goes to research and programs. Just in the past year, the MDA has sent more than 4,000 children with neuromuscular diseases to summer camp, provided for thousands of visits to 230 MDA clinics, helped to buy and repair thousands of wheelchairs and braces, and conducted meetings of more than 220 support groups for those with the diseases and their families.

As always, the personal side is shown in video profiles of those coping with neuromuscular ailments. Parents and children testify to how these insidious illnesses destroy bodies. And as the children with various neuromuscular diseases talk about their lives, other children around the country raise money to help them. This year, for the first time, people can log on to the telethon at www.mdausa.org to ask questions online and see moments from past telethons.

Many people, of course, tune in for the entertainment. This year's co-hosts are Jann Carl, Norm Crosby and Cynthia Garrett. Among the entertainers scheduled to appear are Christina Aguilera, Regis Philbin, Delta Burke, Charo, Tony Danza, Dennis Franz, Savion Glover, Jack Lemmon, Frank Sinatra Jr., Jack Jones, Marilu Henner, Maureen McGovern and Clay Walker. Multimedia stars Casey Kasem and Martha Stewart also are booked to appear.

PURON is good
by Sarah

Last summer, a nice man called Bryant came to our house with an air conditioner. He told us it has Puron, which will keep us cool and make the planet happy. He said that pretty soon they're not going to make the old kind of air conditioners anymore, so this one will save us money. And saving money is good.

Before 'Friends,' Perry was just one of the 'Boys'

By Taylor Michaels

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Pipeline

Did Matthew Perry of "Friends" ever act in a TV sitcom as a character named Chazz? -Carl and Aimee, Westerville, Ohio.

Yes, Perry made his TV series debut as Chazz Russell in "Second Chance," a 1987-88 Fox sitcom that was reconceived and retitled "Boys Will Be Boys" halfway through its one-season run.

Whatever happened to Fred Dryer and Stepfanie Kramer of "Hunter"? Are they still acting? -L.L. via e-mail.

Actually, Dryer, 54, never really went away. Since "Hunter" ended its weekly run in 1991, he has done two "Hunter" TV movies, starred in the syndicated series "Land's End" and appeared in a few other projects.

He recently started his own production company and currently is making his independent film debut in "Highway 395," which he also is directing and producing. Other projects in various stages of development include the movie "Hunter in China," which would reunite partners Rick Hunter and Dee Dee McCall.

After leaving "Hunter" in 1990, Kramer, now 44, moved to Denver, where she married businessman Mark Richards. The couple have a young daughter, Lily Claire, and have moved back to Los Angeles to allow Kramer to pursue acting jobs. She recently co-starred in an independent movie called "The Dogwalker," now making the festival circuit.

Both stars have launched Websites as a way of letting fans with online access know of their current projects. Dryer's is www.fdprods.com; Kramer's is www.stepfaniekramer.com.

I haven't seen "Hope Island" on Pax TV for some time. Has it been canceled? I hope not! -Angela F., Atlanta.

Pax CEO Jeff Sagansky says he was dismayed that this adaptation of the PBS hit "Ballykissangel" drew such a small audience for his network. It has not been renewed.

Sunday's Best Bets

Movie: Flipper

6 p.m. on ABC

Sandy (Elijah Wood), a rebellious teen-ager spending the summer in Florida with his fisherman uncle (Paul Hogan, "Crocodile Dundee"), saves a dolphin who later returns the favor in this 1996 adaptation of the popular 1960s TV series.

The Outer Limits

7 p.m. on SHOW

The sci-fi anthology series digs into its own past for the series finale, "The Final Appeal." It's a sequel to the 1996 episode "A Stitch in Time," which starred Amanda Plummer as a troubled doctor who uses a time machine to stop serial killers before they start. In the sequel, the good doctor faces a death sentence for tampering with time and technology. Plummer, who won an Emmy for her 1996 performance, reprises the role here and is joined by a star-studded supporting cast that includes Charlton Heston, Cicely Tyson and Swoosie Kurtz. The finale is preceded by an eight-episode "Outer Limits" mini-marathon and followed by a tribute special.

Malcolm in the Middle

7:30 p.m. on FOX

Francis (Christopher Kennedy Masterson) loses his phone privileges and goes AWOL from military school to be near his girlfriend, Bebe. Lois (Jane Kaczmarek) pulls out all the stops to search for her missing No. 1 son, never suspecting that he's hiding at home in the backyard the whole time. Only Malcolm (Frankie Muniz) knows where he is, and he's not telling. But what poor Francis doesn't know is that the girl he has the hots for has cooled down considerably since he's been gone. Bryan Cranston and Justin Berfield also star in "Francis Escapes."

MALCOLM IN THE MIDDLE

Movie: A Step Toward Tomorrow

8 p.m. on CBS

Judith Light ("Who's the Boss?") and Tom Irwin ("My So-Called Life") star in the story of a single mother whose 10-year-old son severely injures his spinal cord in a diving accident. She moves the family across the country to find medical help, then discovers her insurance company refuses to pay for treatment.

The Practice

9 p.m. on ABC

Ellenor, Eugene and Lucy (Camryn Manheim, Steve Harris, Marla Sokoloff) join forces to push for a DNA test that could save Stuart Donovan (guest star John Hawkes) from execution. Rebecca (Lisa Gay Hamilton) tries to help an elderly couple keep their marriage from being forcibly annulled by the wife's daughter.

Summer talk show scandals

Talk the Talk

By Lorri Antosz Benson
TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

What on earth is going on with talk today?

We have a woman baring her breasts, another murder of a guest and even the can't-do-wrong Regis Philbin accused of — doing wrong!

What's a talk fan to do?

It's been quite a summer for talk, especially since it's usually quiet while school's out. Shows generally are on hiatus, and there are lots of reruns. But this summer, "bizarre" seems to be the word of choice to describe the world of talk.

Let's start with the unidentified woman who flashed Matt Lauer and Katie Couric on the "Today"" show. While an unsuspecting camera operator panned the live morning show's audience outside the Rockefeller Center studio in New York, she pulled open her blouse, exposing her breasts and a W.O.W.! bumper sticker.

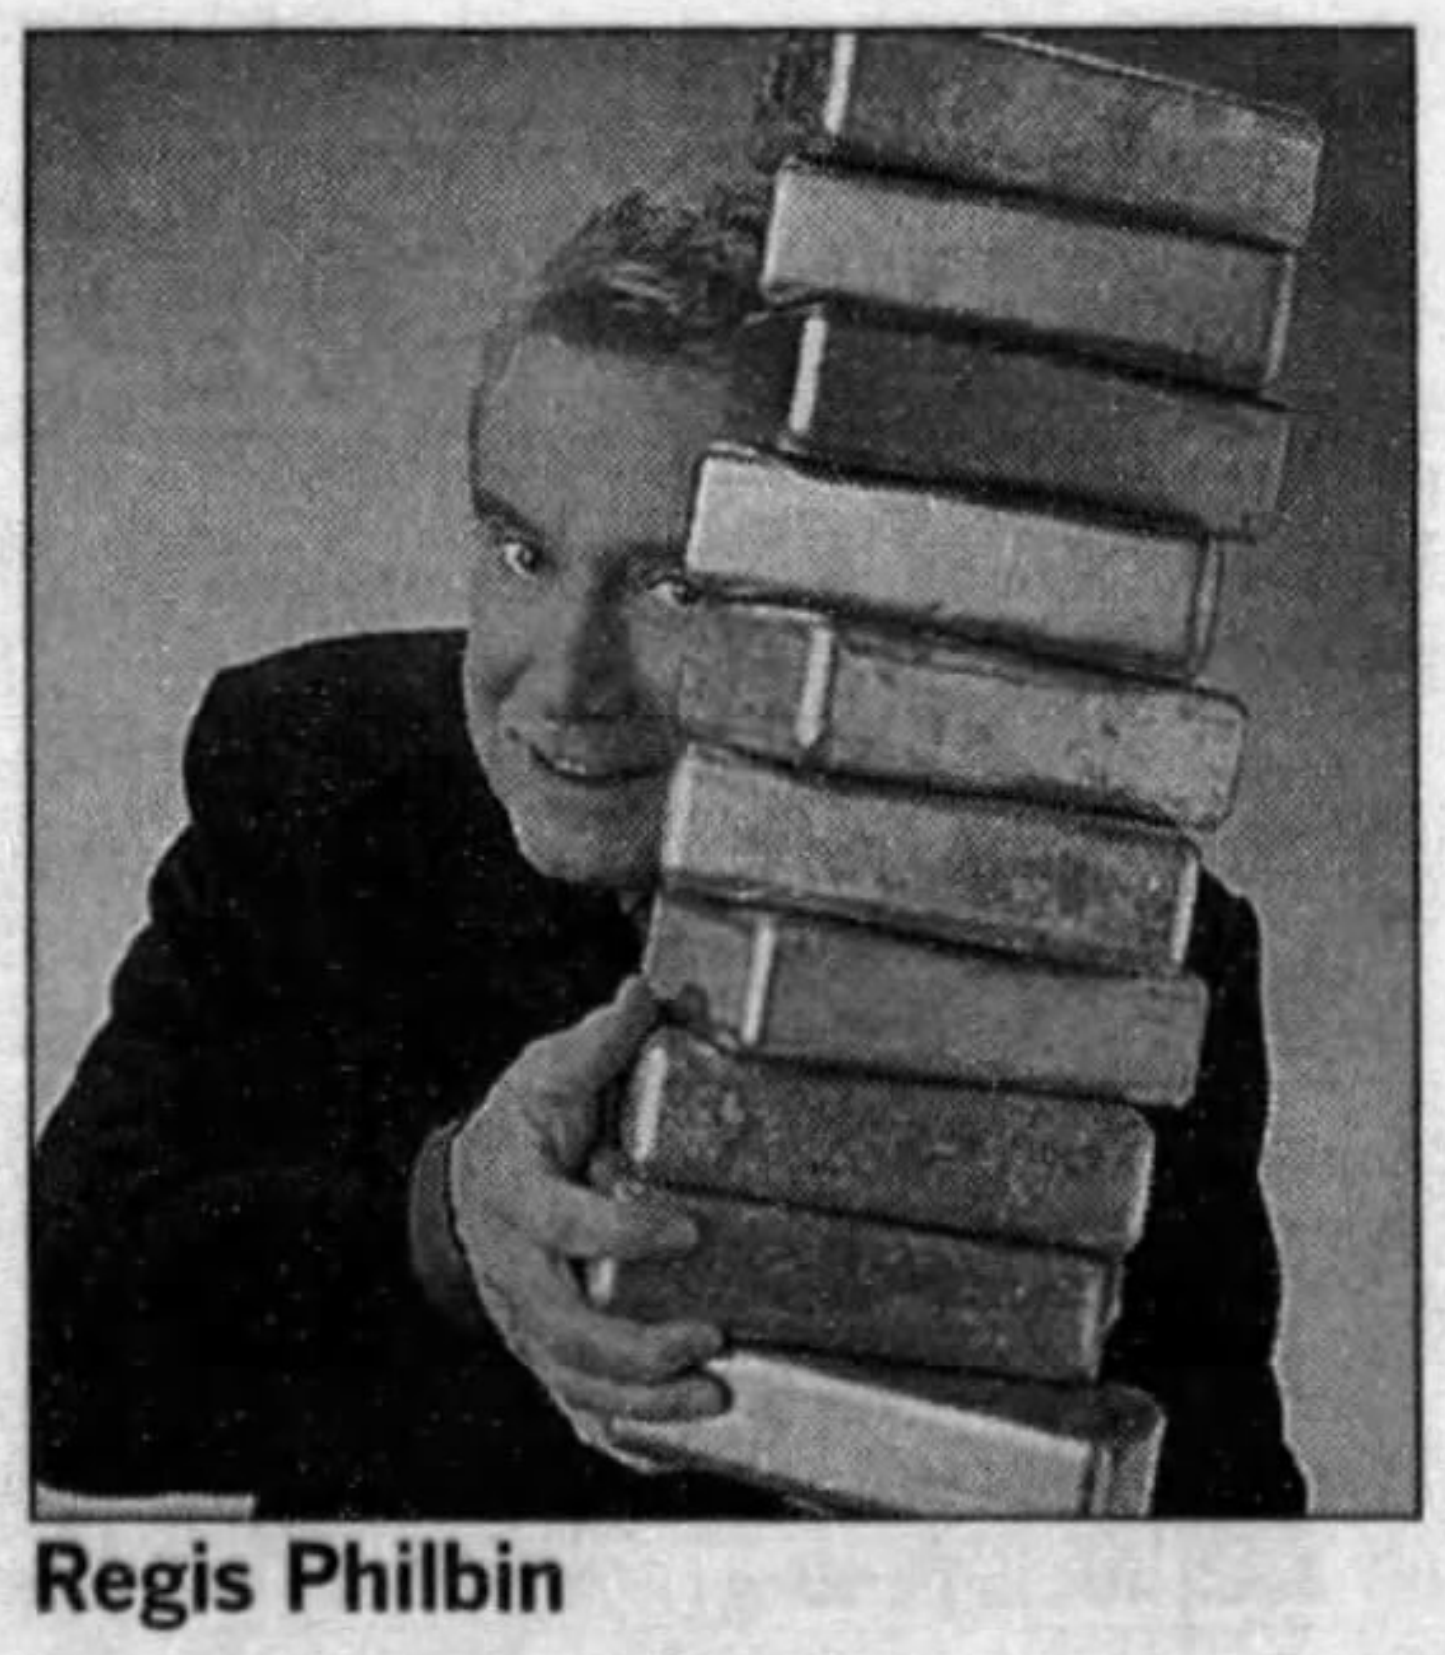
What was behind this exhibition? A New York radio talk show offered a $1,000 reward for any woman who would expose herself with the W.O.W.! (Whip em' Out Wednesday) sticker.

Needless to say, the exhibitionist collected, and the incident gave rise to a bumper crop of "boob tube" jokes.

A tragic summer development was a third murder linked to a talk show: the "Jerry Springer Show.""

The first occurred when Scott Amedure was shot to death by Jonathan Schmitz three days after revealing his homosexual fantasies about Schmitz on the Jenny Jones show in 1995.

Earlier this year, just after Robin Givens began hosting "Forgive or Forget," Charlene Burkey was shot three weeks after her taping and died the day the show aired. Her boyfriend, Larry "Sleepy" Kieper, who appeared with her on the show, was not arrested, but his friends were indicted.



Regis Philbin

About a month ago, Nancy Campbell-Panitz, who appeared on an episode of "Jerry Springer" titled "Secret Mistresses Confronted," was found murdered in Florida. Her ex-husband, Ralf Panitz, who appeared with her and his new wife on the show, was arrested and is being held without bail.

While it seems it's become dangerous to be a talk show guest, it's also not safe to be a host; just ask Philbin.

Monday's Best Bets

Intimate Portrait

6 p.m. on LIFE

"Betty White" is the life story of one of TV's most beloved stars, a pioneering producer, Emmy-winning talk show host and popular game show panelist. Oh, and did we mention she can act? Such a bright woman must be a heck of an actress to be so believable as a clueless ditz, and White pulled that off for seven seasons, playing lovable airhead Rose Nylund in "The Golden Girls." Two co-stars from that series, Rue McClanahan and Estelle Getty, are interviewed for the profile, which covers not only White's career but her storybook marriage to "Password" host Allen Ludden and her lifelong work on behalf of animals.

Mysterious Ways

7 p.m. on NBC

Is Peggy's (Rae Dawn Chong) patient having a divine revelation or a psychotic episode? The woman has been hearing a voice, which she believes is God telling her to do more with her life. When she's put on medication, the voice stops talking to her and starts talking to her daughter instead. That leads Declan (Adrian Pasdar) to speculate that this is no ordinary schizophrenic delusion.

NFL Football

8 p.m. on ABC

What a difference a year makes. The St. Louis Rams, virtually nonexistent on national TV the past few years, are now hard to miss. The Rams make the first of three Monday Night Football appearances when they kick off ABC's prime-time schedule at home against the Denver Broncos. The game matches the winners of the past three Super Bowls and also marks the return of 1998 NFL MVP Terrell Davis, who sat out most of Denver's 1999 season with a knee injury. The Rams last played on Monday night back in 1991, a point that new analyst Dennis Miller could weave into a quick one-liner. The comic joins veteran play-by-play announcer Al Michaels and newcomer Dan Fouts in the broadcast booth.

Bobby Cannavale and Kim Raver
THIRD WATCH

Third Watch

9 p.m. on NBC

Bosco (Jason Wiles) trades his uniform for a tuxedo to attend the opera with his girlfriend (Nahanni Johnstone) and her parents. Let's hope he doesn't fall asleep; he's had a difficult day, pursuing a car thief (Kelly Cole) in a parking-garage chase that came to a fiery end. Kim and Bobby (Kim Raver, Bobby Cannavale) get some upsetting family news, while Carlos' (Anthony Ruivivar) pregnant girlfriend (Samantha Buck) spills some unpleasant beans about him to his superiors. Coby Bell and Skipp Sudduth also star in "Just Another Night at the Opera."

Tuesday's Best Bets

3rd Rock From the Sun

7 p.m. on NBC

In "The Loud Solomon Family: A Dickumentary," the Solomons agree to be the subjects of Mary's (Jane Curtin) film about a typical American family. But "typical" hardly describes this merry band of aliens, who explain their strangeness with some wild excuses: Harry (French Stewart) is a lush, Sally (Kristen Johnston) is a lesbian, and Tommy is a bed-wetter.

Biography

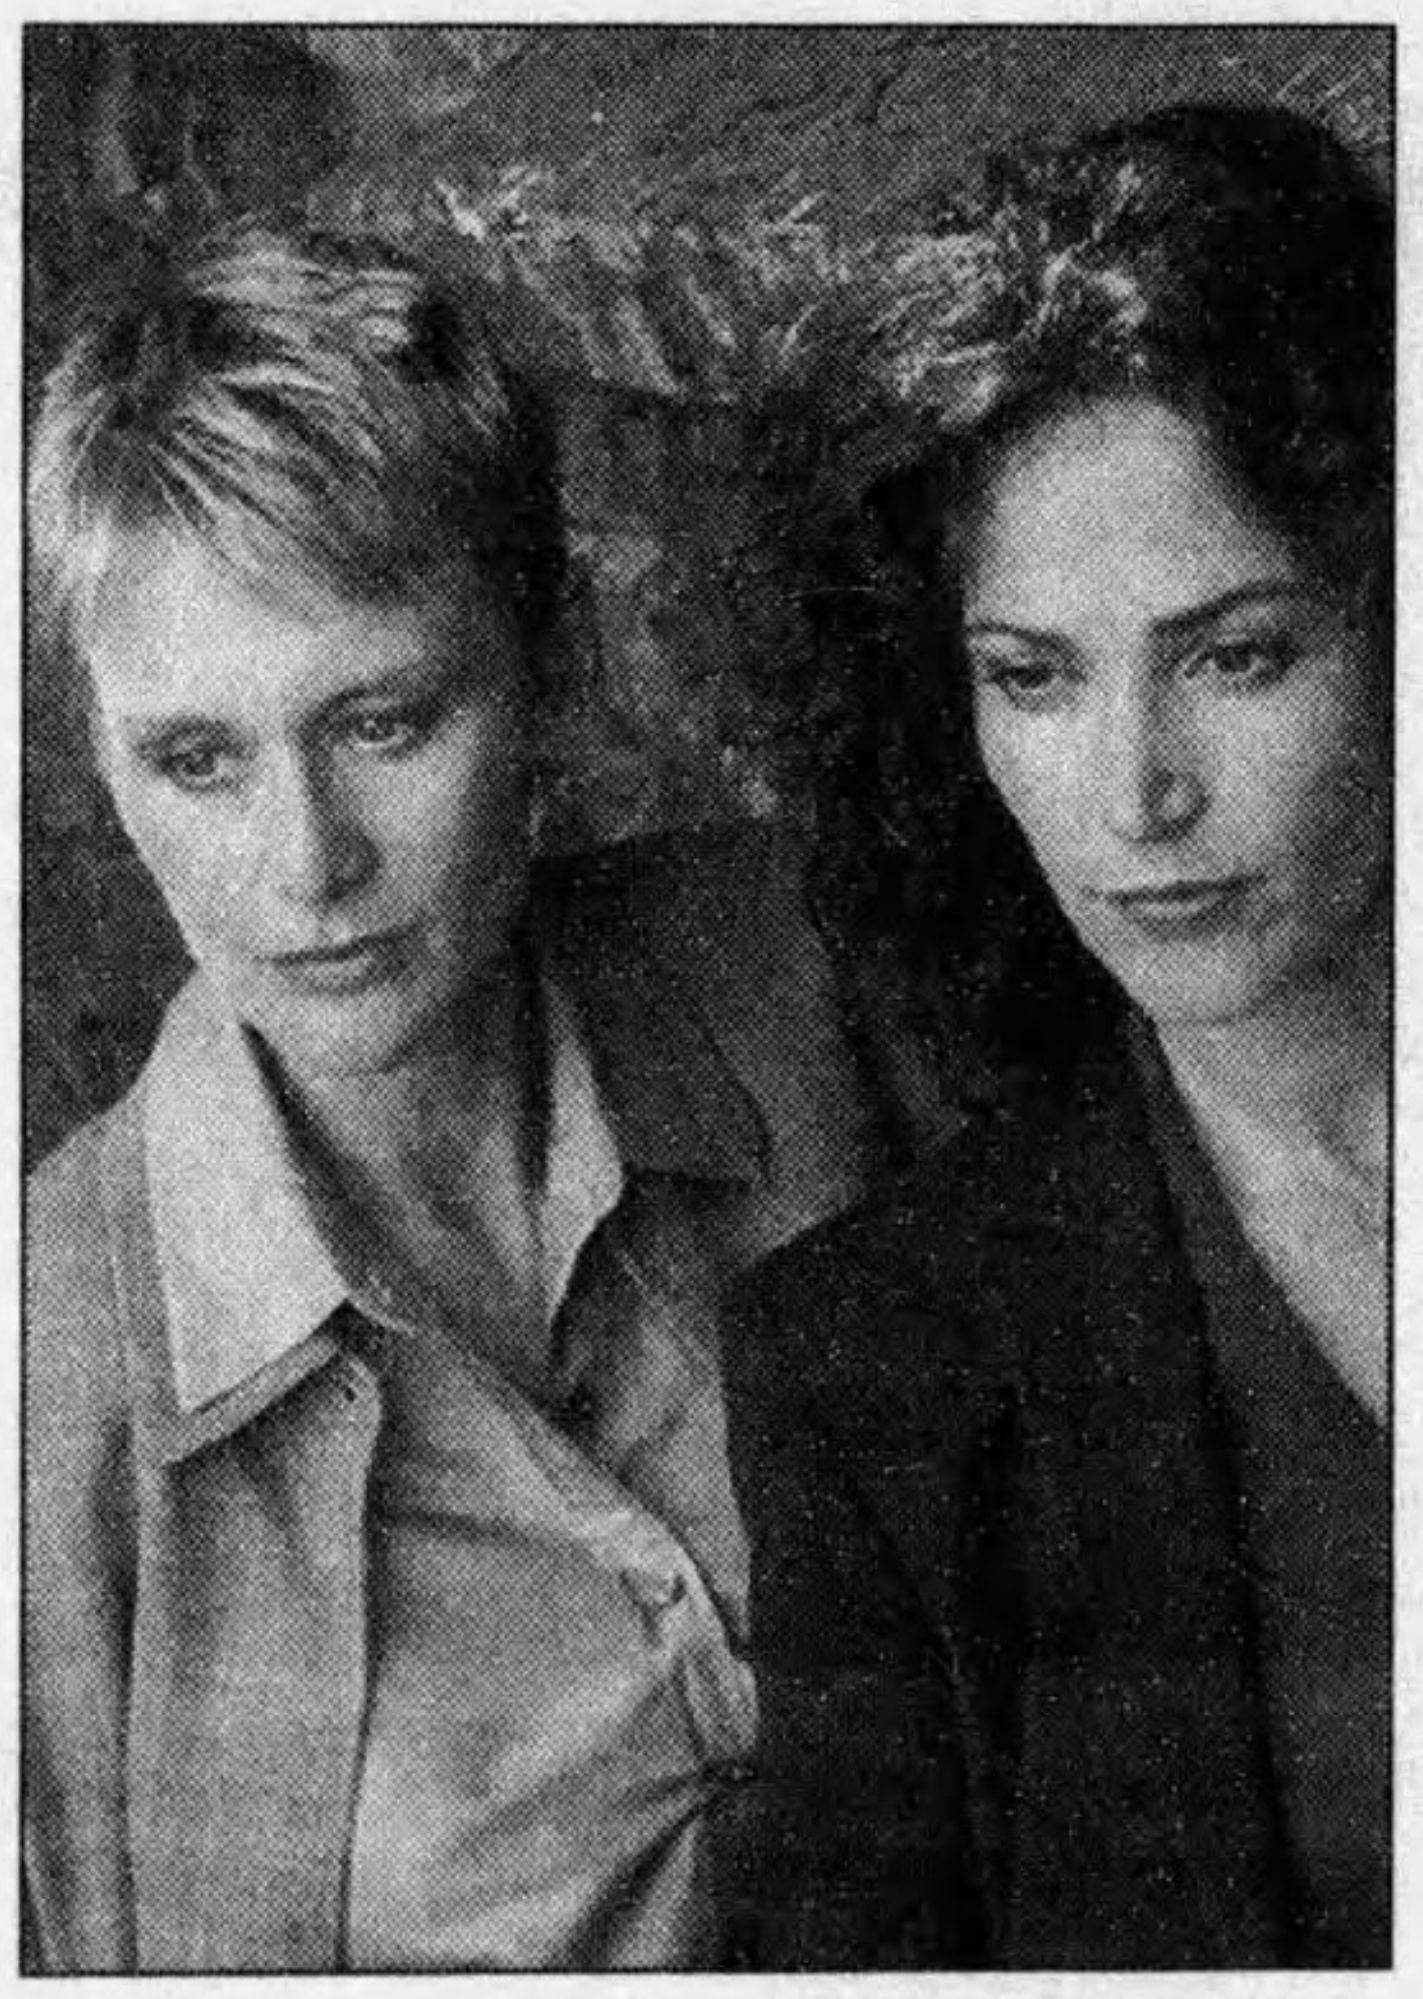
7 p.m. on A&E

"Cesar Romero: In a Class by Himself" remembers the handsome actor whose career spanned six decades and an awesome variety of roles. Born in New York to wealthy Cuban parents, he had the kind of generic exotic looks that served him well in roles ranging from Mexican (six outings as the Cisco Kid) to Indian (a sympathetic Hindu servant in Shirley Temple's "The Little Princess").

Chet Atkins: A Life in Music

7 p.m. on NASH

Ask today's country, pop, rock and jazz musicians to name the greatest living guitar picker, and you'll hear one name over and over: Chet Atkins. Born 76 years ago in Tennessee, he's been a gigantic presence in modern music since the 1940s. As a picker, he inspired and influenced dozens of guitarists, and as head of RCA records, he launched the careers of Dolly Parton, Waylon Jennings and other artists who became household names.



Andrea Thompson and Kim Delaney
NYPD BLUE

Movie: The Greatest Show on Earth

8 p.m. on AMC

Some were miffed that this 1952 circus epic took the best picture Oscar over such formidable competition as "High Noon" and "The Quiet Man." Perhaps it was a sympathy vote for aging director Cecil B. DeMille, whose only Oscar up until then had been an honorary one. The main story line is a love triangle involving the circus's manager (Charlton Heston), his trapeze artist girlfriend (Betty Hutton) and the new trapeze star (Cornel Wilde) who steals her spotlight and her heart.

NYPD Blue

9 p.m. on ABC

Sipowicz (Dennis Franz) has had plenty of bad news in his life, and he's about to get more, as son Theo is diagnosed with a serious illness. Life is equally uncertain on the job, with growing tension between partners Russell and Kirkendall (Kim Delaney, Andrea Thompson) that culminates in the latter's departure.

Wednesday's Best Bets

Movie: To Face Her Past

8 p.m. on CBS

As a teen-ager, Beth gave up a daughter from a marriage her father-in-law had annulled. Years later, she learns a daughter from her current marriage has leukemia — and her first daughter may be the best bone-marrow donor match. While learning about her half sister comes as a shock to the younger daughter, the blood tests hold a bigger one. Patty Duke and Tracey Gold star.

The West Wing

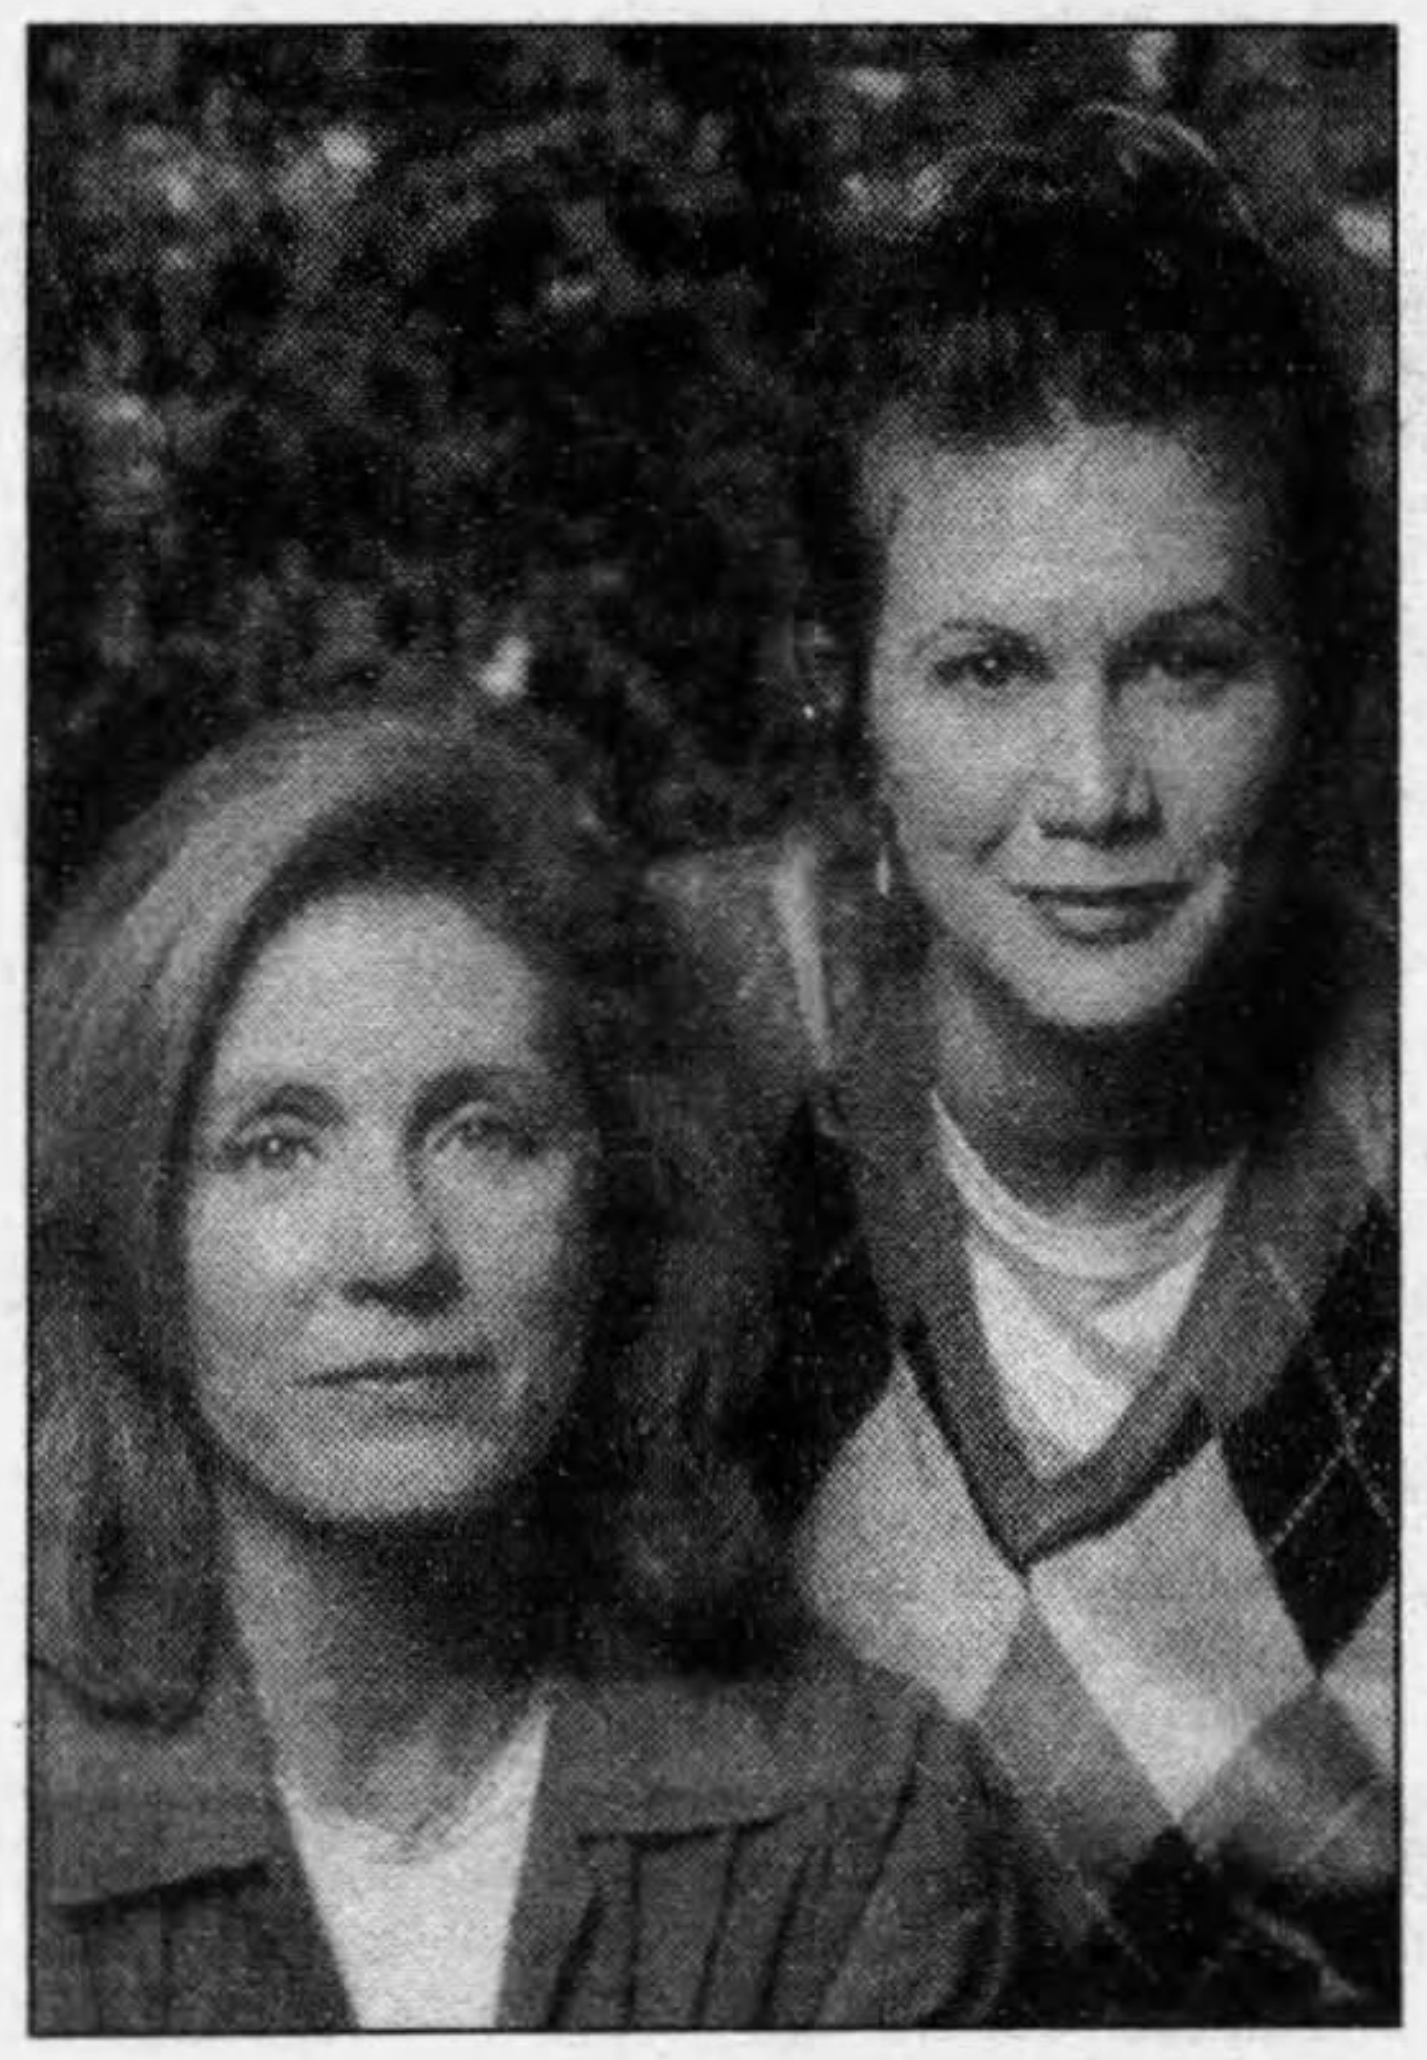
8 p.m. on NBC

While awaiting the latest poll numbers on his popularity, President Bartlet (Martin Sheen) tries to defuse sex scandals on two continents. First there's the ambassador who's been cheating on his wife with the prime minister's daughter. Then there's his own deputy communications director (Rob Lowe), who's caught on camera giving a gift to a known hooker (Lisa Edelstein). Marlee Matlin guest stars in "Lies, Damn Lies and Statistics."

Star Trek: Voyager

8 p.m. on UPN

B'Elanna Torres (Roxann Dawson) is injured when the Delta Flyer crashes and meets a real-life Scheherazade, a playwright (Joseph Will) on a life-or-death mission to use his work to sway his bellicose leader to the cause of pacifism. Torres becomes his Scheherazade, as her life aboard Voyager provides him with ample material. Kate Mulgrew and Robert Duncan McNeill also star in "Muse."



Patty Duke and Tracey Gold
TO FACE HER PAST

Survive VI

8 p.m. on DISC

You want survivors? Forget those wimps on Pulau Tiga; the survival stories in this special will have you on the edge of your seat. They include a police officer outnumbered in a shootout; a group of plane-crash survivors; and a gangrene-stricken man stranded on the high seas who gets help literally from out of the blue.

Investigative Reports

9 p.m. on A&E

Fraternities are a social staple on many college campuses, and most alumni have fond memories of their fraternity days: the parties, the bonds of brotherhood, the connections that helped them later in life. But the fraternity system has a dark side: initiation rituals that have become more brutal, sometimes fatal. "Frat Parties and Binge Drinking" examines the disturbing rise in dangerous hazing, which often involves the coerced consumption of deadly amounts of alcohol. Author Hank Nuwer points out that there's been more than one hazing fatality each week this year. The report also examines why hazing continues.

Thursday's Best Bets

The 2000 MTV Video Music Awards

7 p.m. on MTV

Shawn and Marlon Wayans host the ceremonies honoring the best in music video from the channel that started it all. Artists slated to perform during the three-hour telecast include multiple nominees Eminem, Britney Spears, Red Hot Chili Peppers and Blink 182; best rock video contender Rage Against the Machine; and Janet Jackson.

College Football

7 p.m. on ESPN

Fans get an early glimpse of Heisman Trophy candidate Michael Vick, who leads the Virginia Tech Hokies on the road against the East Carolina Pirates. Vick had an outstanding freshman season a year ago, leading his club to the national title game against Florida State. He was the first frosh ever invited to the Heisman presentation show, which began in 1981. The Hokies should put together another strong season, despite replacing 22 lettermen. East Carolina is coming off a 9-3 campaign and should challenge for the Conference USA crown.

Diagnosis Murder

8 p.m. on CBS

In "Jake's Women" Mark's (Dick Van Dyke) investigation of a friend's murder yields a shocking secret and several likely suspects. It turns out the dearly departed was dearly beloved indeed — by two wives and several girlfriends. Former "Dave's World" stars DeLane Matthews and J.C. Wendel guest star as the man's two spouses. Barry Van Dyke and Victoria Rowell also star.

"A&E Biography: Nina Van Horn" is just what it sounds like: a mock episode of the popular cable profile series with Nina (Wendie Malick) in the spotlight. Jerry Hall, Don Henley and Cheryl Tiegs guest star as themselves, giving interviews to A&E about life with Nina in her modeling and partying heyday. There's also footage from Nina's 1970s movie "Foxy Trouble." Laura San Giacomo, George Segal, David Spade and Enrico Colantoni also star.

Welcome to Armageddon

To many religious groups, "apocalypse now" isn't a movie title; it's reality. While some believers prepare for the end simply by seeking forgiveness for their sins; others have committed mass suicide; still others have stockpiled weapons for the expected confrontation between good and evil. This special looks at the destructive potential of apocalyptic religions by focusing on the House of Yahweh, a Texas-based group that expects the end to come in 2002.

Friday's Best Bets

Providence

7 p.m. on NBC

Can a person make decisions while unconscious? Sydney (Melina Kanakaredes), still in a coma, is faced with a big one. She's passed through a portal into a strange, beautiful resort where she wouldn't mind staying forever. But the real world is calling; will she go back? As Jim (Mike Farrell) waits by his daughter's bedside, Joanie (Paula Cale) leans on her fireman friend, Burt (Jon Hamm).

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

"Roddy McDowall: Hollywood's Best Friend" is the story of a child star who beat the odds and became an even bigger star in adulthood. In his youth, some of his more memorable roles were opposite animals — "My Friend Flicka," "Lassie Come Home." In middle age, he got to play animals himself in several "Planet of the Apes" films. In this profile, which premiered shortly after his death in 1998, he's remembered in interviews with "Apes" co-stars Kim Hunter and Charlton Heston, as well as Maureen O'Hara, his on-screen sister in 1941's "How Green Was My Valley."

Invisible Man

7 p.m. on SCIFI

Darien's (Vincent Ventresca) brother, Kevin, is supposed to be dead. So imagine Darien's shock when Kevin reappears in his life. But as our hero knows all too well since gaining the power of invisibility, what you see is not always what you get — and vice versa. Paul Ben-Victor also stars in "Reunion."

PROVIDENCE

The PJs

7:30 p.m. on WB

The foamy folks from the projects debut on their new home network with "The Last Affirmative Action Hero." When Jackie Chan's people come to the neighborhood to shoot a movie, Thurgood (voice of Eddie Murphy) offers to serve as a technical adviser; after all, who knows the projects better than he does? He's eager to help Chan and company avoid stereotyping the place and the people, but that goal soon gets lost in the glitz and glamour of the moment. Ja'net DuBois and Loretta Devine also provide voices.

Making the Band

8:30 p.m. on ABC

The season comes to a rollicking close with O-Town playing its biggest gig yet — before an audience of 2,000 — and even appearing on MTV's "Total Request Live." If the boys thought the pressure was hot and heavy before this, they ain't seen nothin' yet. With the last-minute turnover the group experienced, there's extra pressure to prove that these five are in it for the long haul. Ashley Parker Angel and Dan Miller star.

Sunday

Movie: Star Wars

7 p.m. on TBS

John Williams' Oscar-winning score will draw viewers to the screen once again, but it's the classic story line of good triumphing over evil — even in outer space — that keeps people in their seats. Luke Skywalker sets out on his incredible journey with friends Han Solo and Princess Leia (Harrison Ford, Carrie Fisher). 'PG'

Monday

Clifford the Big Red Dog

7:30 a.m. on PBS

Everyone's favorite oversized, red canine leaps from the children's book series and hits the small screen in his own new show. The lovable creature (voice of John Ritter, "Three's Company") and fellow residents of Birdwell Island teach educational concepts such as sharing and being responsible. In "My Best Friend," 8-year-old Emily Elizabeth searches for something special to share with her friends during show and tell. Next, in "Cleo's Fair Share," spirited poodle Cleo learns about sharing. Later in the morning is the premiere of "Caillou," a new series about a 4-year-old boy who deals with real problems and conflicts. In "When I Grow Up," Caillou begins dreaming about what his adulthood will be like. 'TV-Y'

Saturday

Movie: North

3 p.m. on FAM

North's (Elijah Wood) parents (Jason Alexander and Julia Louis-Dreyfus, "Seinfeld") are too wrapped up in their careers to spend time with him. He files a lawsuit, and the judge says he can have new parents. As the boy flies around the world, he realizes there is really no place like home. 'PG'

Saturday's Best Bets

Basketball

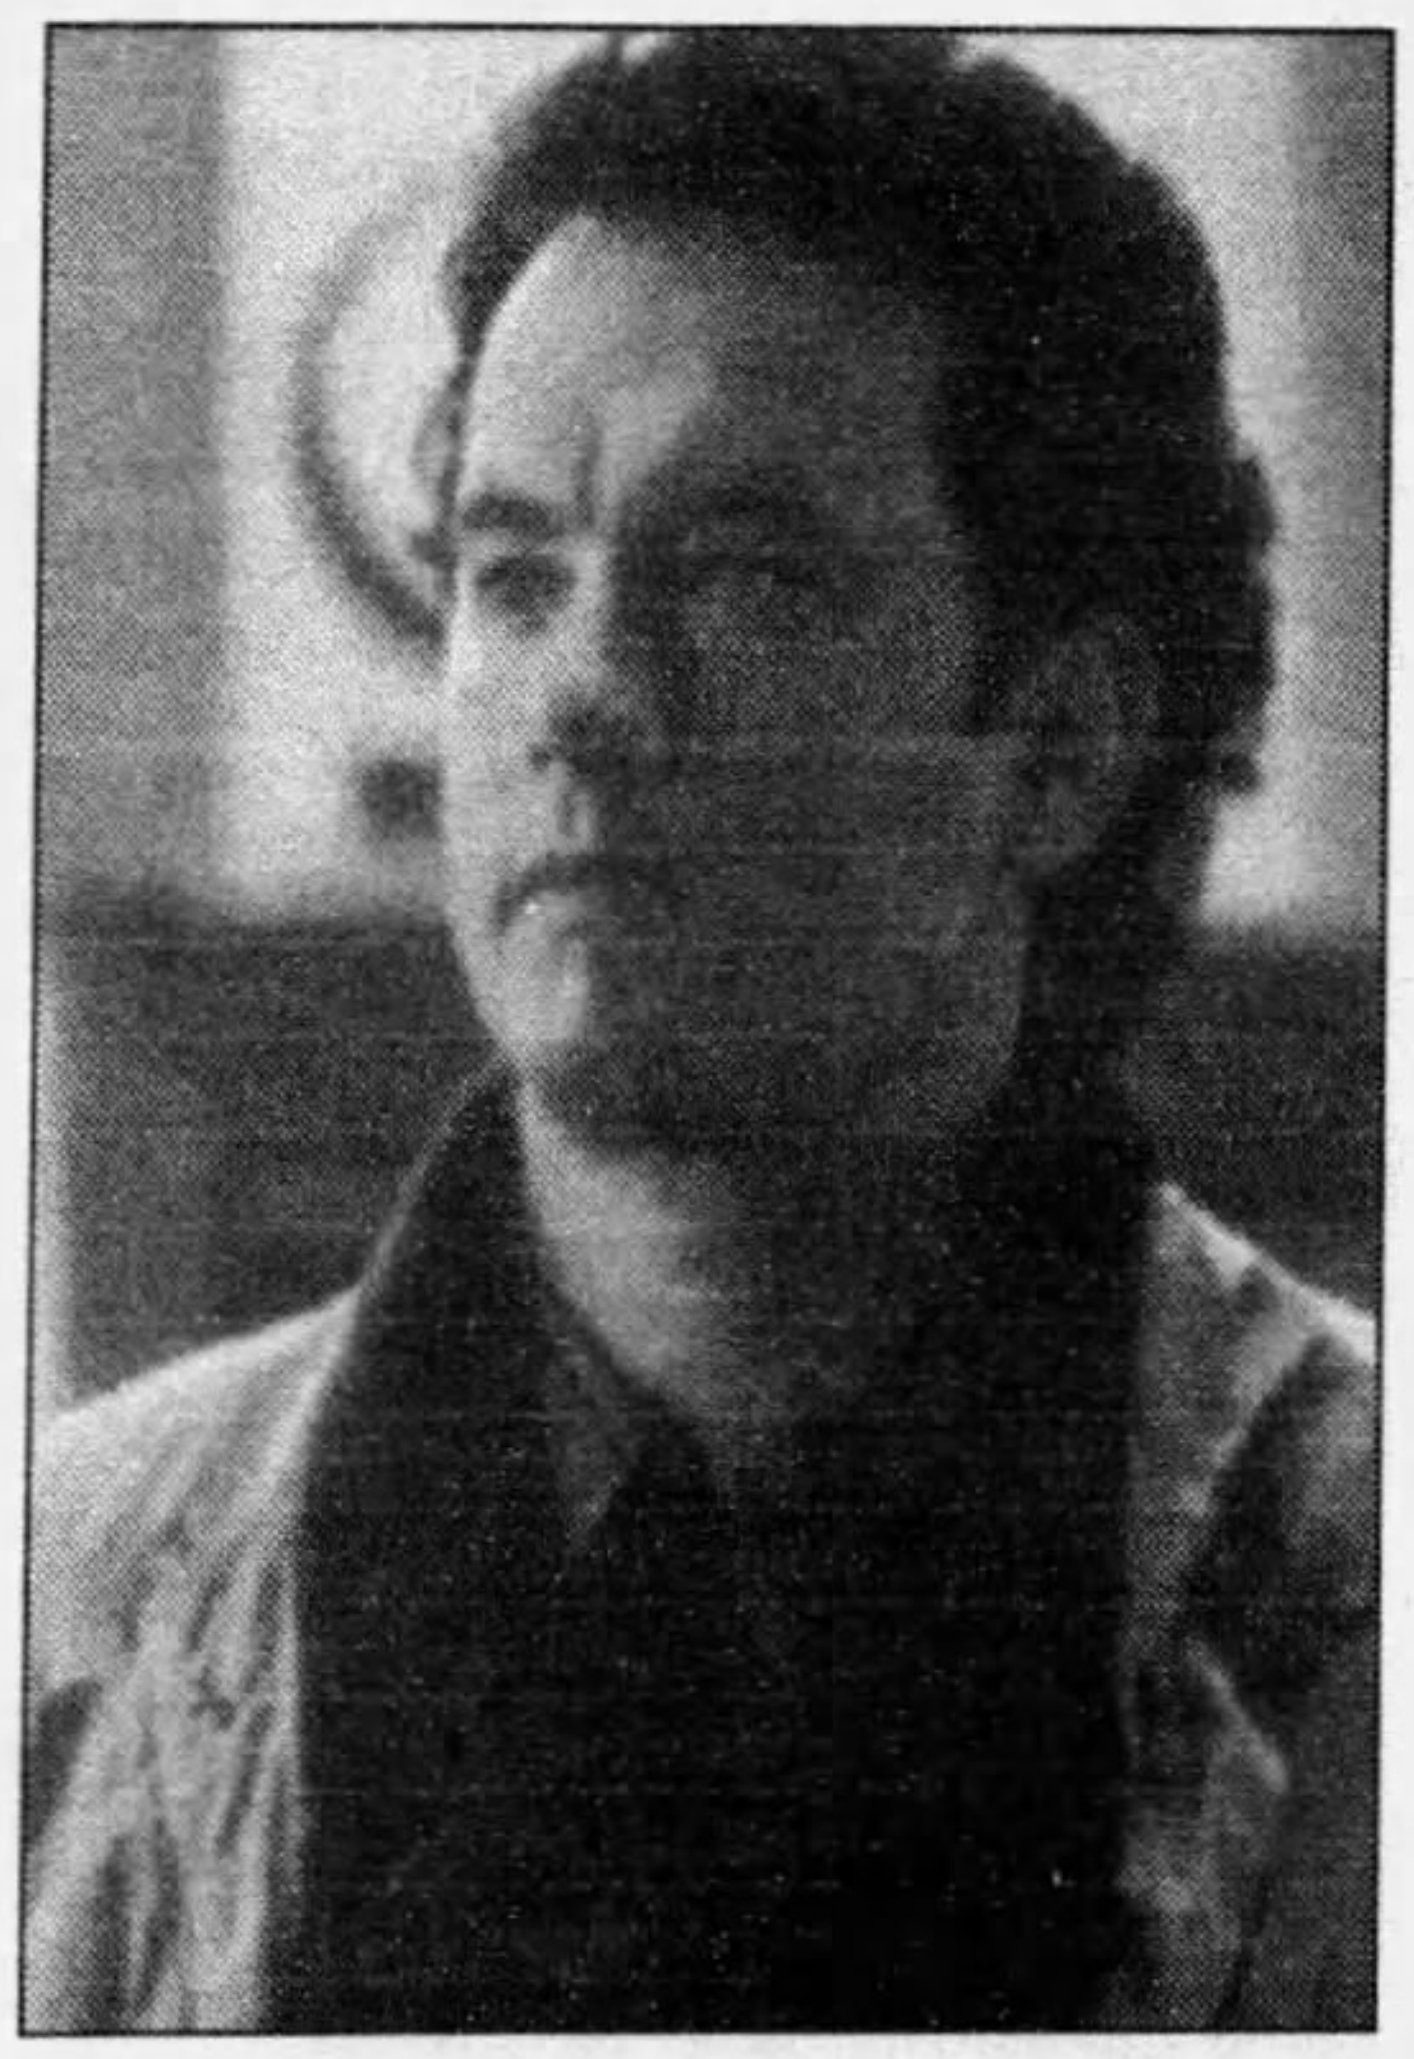
11:30 a.m. on NBC

The U.S. men's national team makes its final preparations for the Olympic Games with an exhibition against Australia from Melbourne. The squad, directed by Houston Rockets head coach Rudy Tomjanovich, has been training since Aug. 26 in Maui, Hawaii, trying to mold 12 NBA stars into a cohesive unit. Recent additions include forwards Antonio McDyess and Shareef Abdur-Rahim, who were named to replace injured superstars Tim Duncan and Grant Hill. They join the likes of Kevin Garnett, Alonzo Mourning and Vince Carter on the team. Mike Breen handles play-by-play duties with analyst Doug Collins.

Auto Racing

6:30 p.m. on ESPN

From South Carolina to Virginia, a frenzied week of NASCAR racing continues at the Chevrolet Monte Carlo 400 from Richmond International Raceway. The defending champion is Tony Stewart, who even before winning the 1999 race was considered a rising star and potential future champion in NASCAR circles. He led 333 laps in all, including the last 144, to become the first rookie winner in the series since Davey Allison in 1987. In 21 races this year, Stewart has chalked up another three wins while maintaining a consistent top-five position in the championship standings.



Tom Hanks
SLEEPLESS IN SEATTLE

Movie: The Brady Bunch Movie

7 p.m. on NBC

Take a lovely lady, a man named Brady and their bubbly blended brood, and transplant them from the 1970s to the '90s — geeky clothes and cluelessness intact. The result is a laugh-a-minute satire that will delight fans of the sunny '70s sitcom. As Carol and Mike, Shelley Long and Gary Cole do amazingly good imitations of Florence Henderson and Robert Reed.

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

"Hayley Mills: Seeing Double" profiles the British-born actress who became the darling of Disney live-action films in the early and mid-1960s. Her star turn in "Pollyanna" at age 14 earned her a special juvenile Oscar and a Golden Globe as most promising newcomer.

Movie: Sleepless in Seattle

8 p.m. on CBS

In Nora Ephron's 1993 comedy about romantic destiny, a Baltimore newspaper reporter (Meg Ryan) reaches out to a romantic widower (Tom Hanks) on the opposite coast, whose young son (Ross Malinger) engineers his father's participation on a radio call-in show. Rosie O'Donnell and Rob Reiner also star.

Emmy nominations make more sense this year

By John Crook

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Cover story

Maybe it has something to do with the dawning of a new millennium, but the Emmy Award voters finally seem to have bought a clue.

Perhaps more so than any other year in recent memory, the Emmy nominations for 1999-2000 actually make sense for the most part, after years of egregious oversights, lapses of taste and what often seemed to be willful wrongheadedness.

As a result, the Emmys — which will be handed out during an ABC special hosted by Garry Shandling on Sunday, Sept. 10 — may actually go to people and shows that deserve them. What a concept!

It hasn't always been that way. After all, the Emmy voters in 1982 saw fit to pass over the dazzling, emotionally complex performances of both Anthony Andrews and Jeremy Irons in "Brideshead Revisited" in favor of Mickey Rooney's more sentimental work in the TV movie "Bill" ("Brideshead" itself lost in the miniseries category to the handsome but empty-headed "Marco Polo.")

More recently, Emmy voters largely overlooked the consistently brilliant "Homicide: Life on the Street" in the outstanding drama series category and, out of its superb ensemble of actors, presented a lone Emmy to Andre Braugher (ironically, the show's casting director won an Emmy as well).

Perhaps even more shockingly, "Roseanne," which had a seismic impact on TV sitcoms, never was even nominated as outstanding comedy series.

Stuff really hit the fan last year, when the electrifying "The Sopranos" — a spectacular success by any measure — lost three categories that had been presumed a lock: best drama series, best actor (James Gandolfini) and best supporting actress (Nancy Marchand) in a drama series.

The resulting outcry by TV critics — not to mention a few of the "Sopranos" creative team members — may have jolted Emmy voters out of their rut. Whatever the reason, this year's roster of nominees really shines.

Check out, for example, the women nominated for outstanding supporting actress in a drama series. Newcomer Allison Janney dazzled viewers with her multifaceted work as press secretary C.J. Cregg in "The West Wing," but her competition includes her superb co-star Stockard Channing, who has a recurring role as first lady Abigail Bartlet; five-time Emmy favorite Tyne Daly ("Judging Amy"); last year's winner, Holland Taylor ("The Practice"); and Marchand, who not only was criminally passed over last year, but recently died.

Sure, Marchand was barely even in "The Sopranos" this season, and because of her failing health, her scenes were far less powerful, but the voters may very well award a posthumous Emmy to her to make up for last year's sorry oversight.

Gandolfini looks to be a safe bet this year, partly because of last year's flap and partly because he was just as good this season. His competition is solid, however: Dennis Franz, a four-time winner for "NYPD Blue"; presidential Martin Sheen ("The West Wing") and stalwart Sam Waterston ("Law & Order"), both previous winners for other shows; and Jerry Orbach ("Law & Order"), looking for his first Emmy win.

bryant PURON is good by Sarah

Last summer, a nice man called Bryant came to our house with an air conditioner. He told us it has Puron, which will keep us cool and make the planet happy. He said that pretty soon they're not going to make the old kind of air conditioners anymore, so this one will save us money. And saving money is good.

'Pretender' Jarod returns in TV movies

By Taylor Michaels

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Pipeline

I could handle hearing about most of the shows that won't be back next fall, but it broke my heart to learn that, after four years of loyal watching, I won't have any closure on "The Pretender"! Any chance of a wrap-up TV movie, as NBC did with "Homicide: Life on the Street"? -Peggy S., Montgomery, Ala.

For the past several weeks, I've been hearing off-the-record reports that a couple of TV outlets may be interested in doing one or more "Pretender" TV movies with Michael T. Weiss and his original colleagues.

Unfortunately, various spokespeople report that no firm commitment exists as of this writing. Watch this space for updates.

"We are very grateful to all the loyal fans who have stayed with our show and who wrote letters of support when we were canceled," says Steven Mitchell, one of the show's creators.

What was the name of the show starring Adrian Pasdar ("Mysterious Ways") as a guy getting revenge on people who had abused him as a child? As an adult, he slept naked in a cardboard box. -Marlowe Hiles, Summit Hill, Pa.

That was "Profit," a brilliant black comedy that aired for less than a month in the spring of 1996 on Fox. Pasdar starred as Jim Profit, a totally amoral young executive, in this complex series, which frequently leavened its drama with macabre laughs. Despite dazzling reviews, the show never found an audience on Fox.

Did an actor named Olan Soule play the father of the Darling clan on "The Andy Griffith Show"? Is he still alive? And was that Peggy McCay of "Days of Our Lives" playing Andy's old sweetheart on a show about his class reunion? -Eleanor S. Flower, Ottawa, Ill.

Soule, a veteran character actor who died in 1994, had a recurring role as a character named John Masters on "The Andy Griffith Show." Denver Pyle, who died in 1997, played Briscoe Darling.

Soap Synopsis

All My Children

Jake was shot while trying to protect Gillian. Stuart and Marian shared a loving reunion. Tad and Liza devised a plan to make Adam jealous. Adam's plan to sabotage Col-Mar Tower went to new levels of destruction. Greenlee told Leo she loved him. Brooke, Hayley and Mateo worried about Edmund. Liza and Adam were in a compromising position when the tower began to crumble.

Next Week: Gillian gets news about Dimitri.

As the World Turns

Lily's homecoming was less joyous than anyone had expected. Lucinda discovered several surprising facts about Rose. Carly begged Jack not to go through with the marriage to Julia. Kate's foes plotted her downfall. Lily and Holden didn't seem to be able to get past their current troubles. Katie made the most of the opportunity Craig offered her.

Next week: Carly receives an unexpected offer.

The Bold and the Beautiful

Sally surmised C.J. had fallen in love with Amber. The Forresters tried to convince Amber to move back into the guest house. C.J. realized the Forresters were trying to get baby Eric away from him and Amber. Rick tried to convince Amber that he wanted her back, but C.J. convinced her that the Forresters were up to no good.

Next week: Kimberly's plan to keep Thorne away from Brooke begins to work.

Days of Our Lives

Mimi was shocked when she learned the truth about the Last Blast dance. Sami and Brandon's tender moment was interrupted. John admitted to Marlena that he had a feeling that Princess Gina was once his lover. When they learned he was trying to get the goods on Stefano, Bo's family forbade him to travel to Ireland. Fay tried to get Hattie her job back.

Next week: Chloe and Phillip take their friendship to the next level.

General Hospital

Stefan did his best to manipulate Chloe into believing him. Sonny was discouraged when Carly turned down his marriage proposal. Ned's attempt to right the Eddie Angel situation turned out to be more destructive than helpful. Roy provoked Luke into confessing. Carly begged Jason to take her and Michael out of the country. Luke refused Roy's help in getting out of Prague.

Next week: Emily is taken hostage.

Guiding Light

Holly's efforts to derail Billy's interest in her turned campy. Emotions ran high when Susan's family waited for word of her whereabouts. A well-intentioned Ray was drawn into Michelle and Danny's problem. An explosive situation arose at the Spaulding construction site. Danny warned Tony to stay away from Marah. Olivia lied to Josh. Noah's help made Reva more suspicious.

Next week: Vanessa says goodbye.

One Life to Live

Friends and family shared an emotional welcome home for Nora. Unfortunately, the only person she remembered was Hank. Todd threatened Blair into helping him take back The Sun. Sam was shocked when he learned Ben was Asa's son. Cristian was devastated by his shattered relationship with Jessica. Sam decided it was time to find out who Matthew's father was. Todd tossed Roseanne out of the penthouse.

Next week: Larry discovers the cause of Nora's memory loss.

Passions

Tabitha and Timmy received a terrifying message from the forces in the basement. Rebecca and Pilar faced off over their daughters. Ivy and Rebecca confronted Ethan about his feelings for Theresa. Sunday's Best Bets

Movie: Speed

6:30 p.m. on FOX

In this fast-paced thriller, a Los Angeles police officer squares off against a crazed nemesis who has rigged a city bus to explode if its speed drops below 50 mph. The cop is assisted by a plucky female passenger who takes over steering the unwieldy vehicle while he tries to find and defuse the bomb.

The 52nd Annual Prime Time Emmy Awards

7 p.m. on ABC

There's lots of competition among co-stars at this year's awards for the tops in TV. Jerry Orbach and Sam Waterston ("Law & Order") are both up for outstanding lead actor in a drama series, and "The West Wing" has two nominees each in the supporting actress and actor categories: Stockard Channing and Allison Janney, and Richard Schiff and John Spencer. Edie Falco and Lorraine Bracco ("The Sopranos") are up against each other again for outstanding lead actress in a drama series. In comedy, Peter Boyle faces his "Everybody Loves Raymond" co-star Brad Garrett for the supporting actor prize, while first-time nominee Jennifer Aniston ("Friends") has competition from co-star and 1998 winner Lisa Kudrow. "The West Wing" and "The Sopranos" are the shows to beat, with 18 nominations each. Garry Shandling hosts the ceremony.

The Search for Atlantis

7 p.m. on A&E

Did Atlantis really exist? If so, where was it, and where is it now? Actor Ted Danson, an archaeologist's son with a lifelong interest in ancient civilizations, hosts a fascinating two-hour tour through the history and mythology surrounding the fabled lost city. The search for the truth "down there" has captured imaginations for 2,400 years, from Plato, who first described Atlantis to the world, to Adolf Hitler, who believed the "master race" had its roots there. Interviewees in the special include scientists searching for traces of Atlantis under Antarctica.

Movie: City Hall

7:30 p.m. on NBC

A starry-eyed Southern transplant (John Cusack) serving as deputy mayor of New York discovers his boss's feet of clay in this intelligent 1996 drama. The catalyst is an encounter between a cop and a drug dealer with mob connections that results in the death of a child. As he investigates, the deputy mayor comes to the painful realization that corruption and politics go together like peanut butter and jelly, and although his hero is one of the good ones, he's not immune.

Fall TV abounds with realism

By Lorri Antosz Benson

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Well, here we go again. Another fall season is upon us, which means new television shows going head to head with returning favorites.

Although the talk genre is represented among the rookie shows (see next week's column), the big boom this year is the courtroom show. The success of last year's "Divorce Court" is mostly responsible. The fact that "Judge Judy" is still so popular doesn't hurt, either. The "if it works, make 10 of them" mentality is at play, as usual.

Two entries drawing the most attention are "Curtis Court" and "Power of Attorney." The latter features such lawyers as Chris Darden and F. Lee Bailey pleading cases for everyday people.

Of course, the other television category being feverishly developed is the reality-based program. Following the aforementioned mentality, producers are being cajoled into coming up with new versions of "Survivor," "Blind Date" and "Who Wants to Be a Millionaire."

Talk the Talk

In the United States, the development emphasis appears to be in the marriage between romance and reality. One hopeful is "Love Cruise," which involves sending regular single men and women out on a ship with cameras recording their interaction.

Taking it a step further, another show will bring established couples together in a big group to test their commitment to each other. The big question will be who leaves with whom.

Perhaps one of the more unusual productions is one from the same Dutch production company that brings us "Big Brother" on CBS. "Big Diet" is from Germany and features 10 overweight contestants, each trying to lose the most pounds in 100 days. They must stay at a deluxe wellness center that offers a swimming pool and personal trainers but also presents tables of fabulous desserts among other serious temptations. The winner receives bars of gold equaling his weight loss. Every two weeks, viewers will vote out one participant.

There's no shortage of imagination going into the development of these reality-based shows.

Monday's Best Bets

-Minute Drill

p.m. on ESPN

Looking to capitalize on the suc-ess of "Who Wants to Be a Mil-onaire," ESPN debuts a sports triv- game show called "2-Minute rill." The half-hour program will ombine the drama of "Million-ire" with ESPN's personality and assion for sports," according to the etwork, and is being produced by ichael Davies, who developed Millionaire" for ABC.

ince You've een Gone

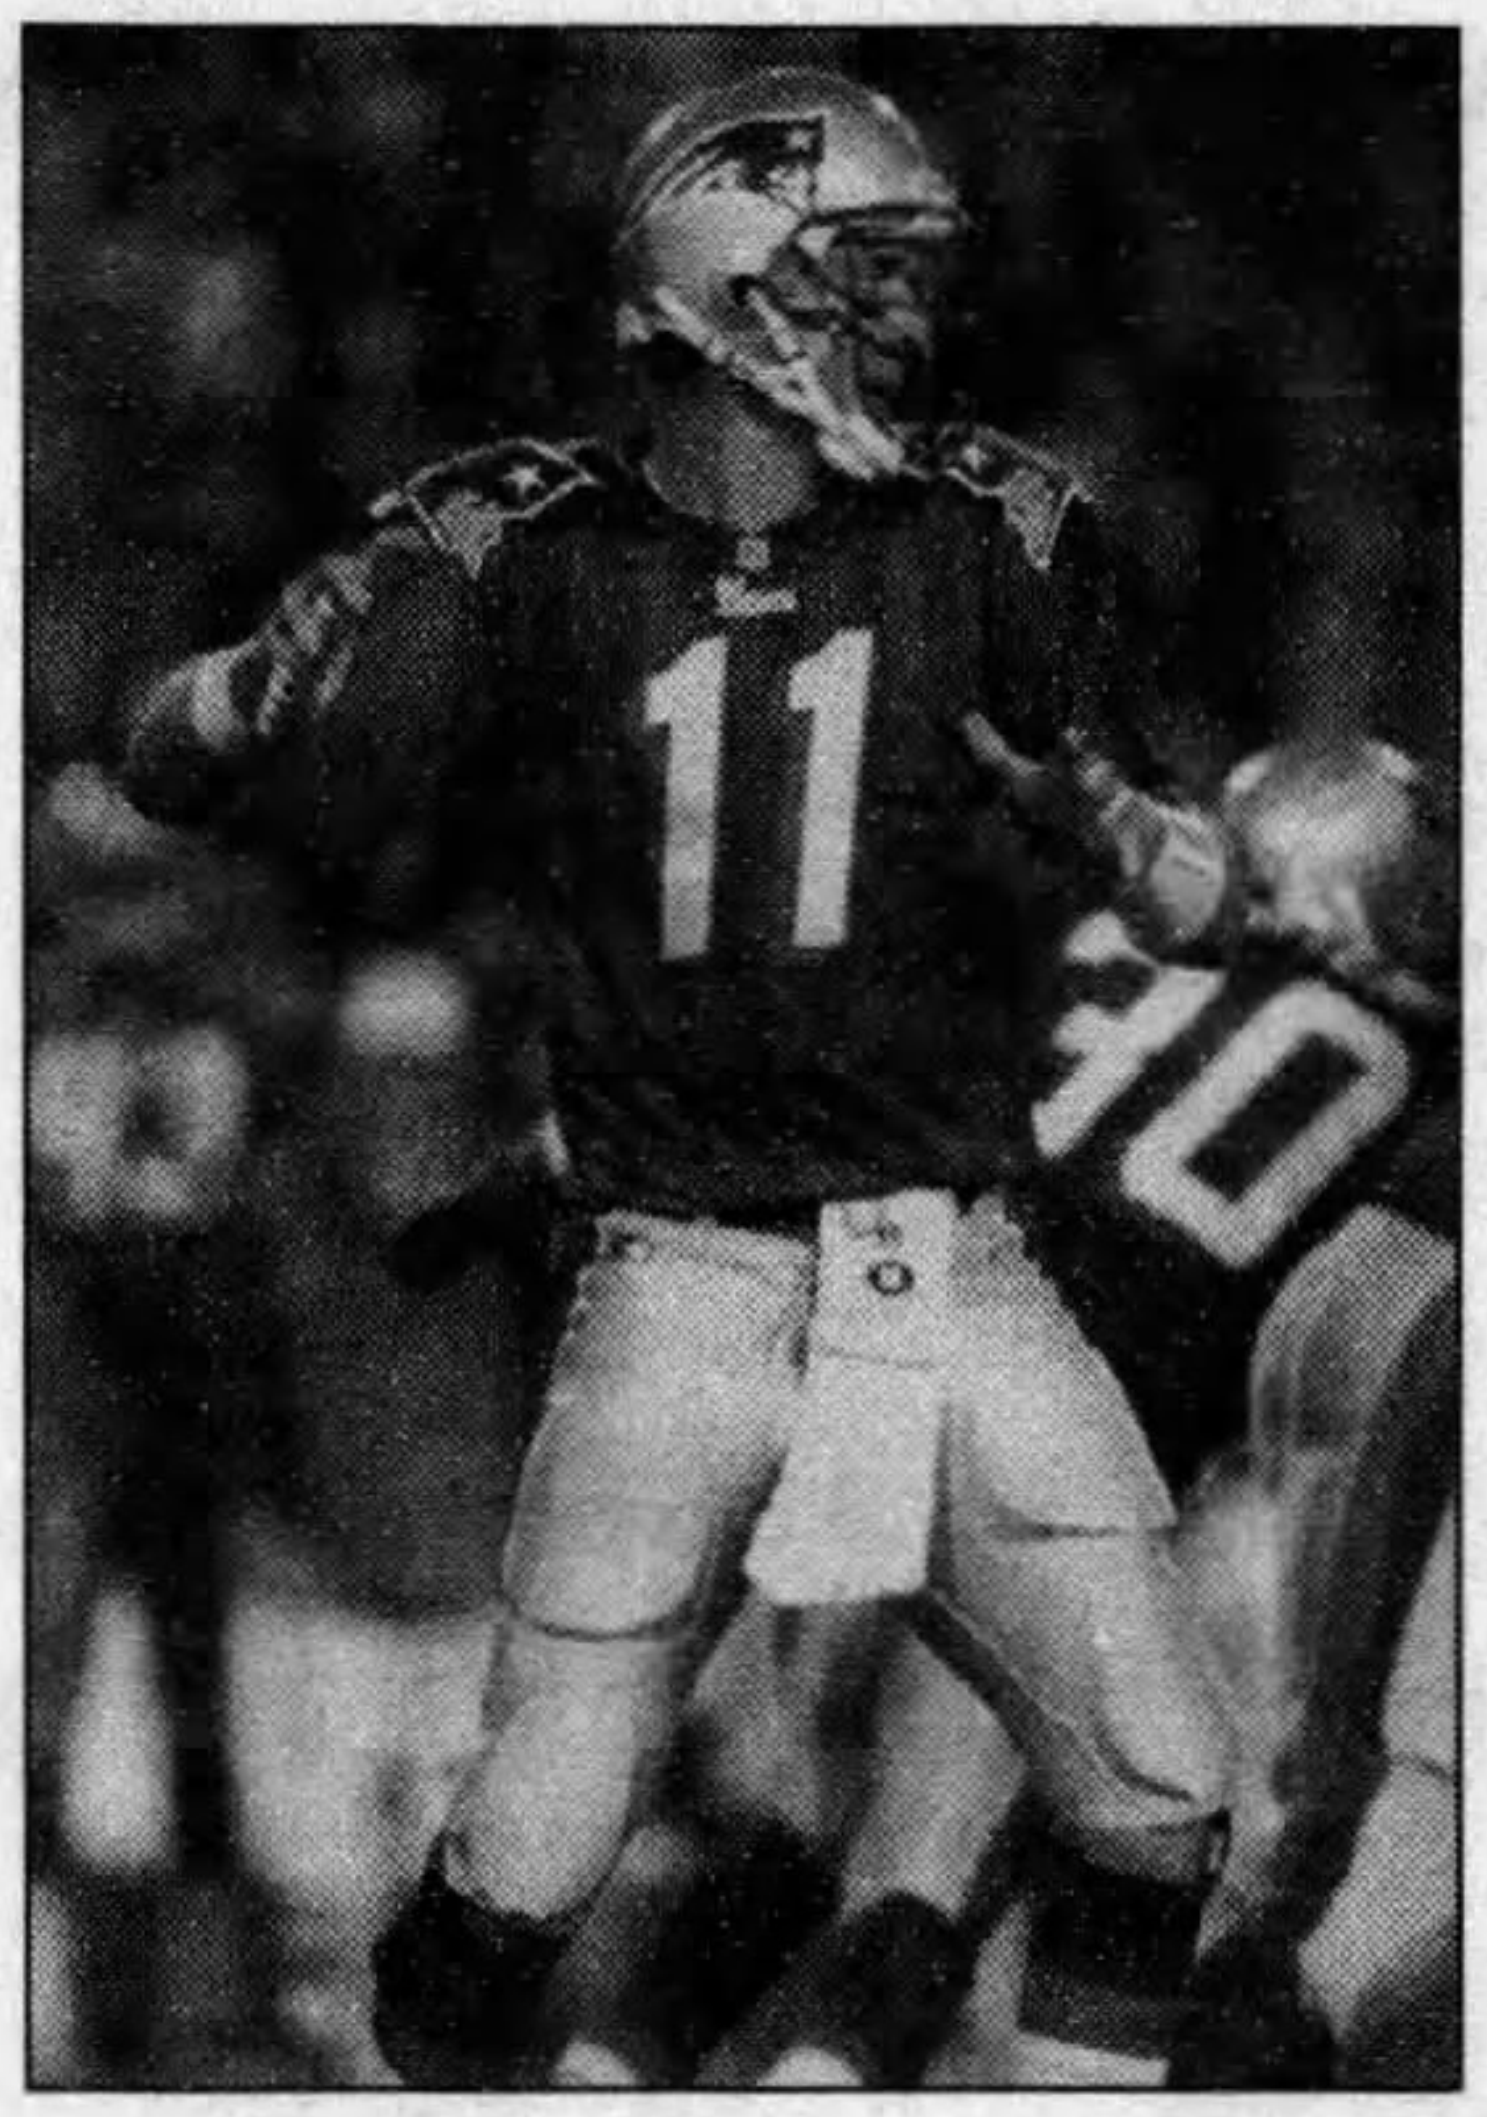
p.m. on FOX

Feeling a little out of touch? ou've got nothing on the contestants in this goofy game. The players are sequestered for a week — no newspapers, no TV, no nothing — and then quizzed on what happened during those seven days. And, of course, the events they'll be asked about are not your run-of-the-mill items, but the weirdest news and celebrity gossip the producers can dig up. Whoever makes the most accurate guesses takes home a pile of money and prizes.

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

"Mary Hart: Heart's Ambition" profiles the veteran TV host whose background has a couple of eerie echoes of Kathie Lee Gifford. Like that recently retired talk host, Hart got her start as a state pageant winner — South Dakota's entry in the Miss America contest, to be exact. And she once co-hosted a morning show with Regis Philbin.



Drew Bledsoe
NFL FOOTBALL

NFL Football

8 p.m. on ABC

One of the NFL's fiercest rivalries resumes when AFC East foes New England Patriots and New York Jets tangle from East Rutherford, N.J. It's an unusual rivalry, involving the team's front offices more so than any heated action between the players. Another chapter was added in the off-season when Bill Belichick resigned as Jets coach to eventually accept a more lucrative deal to coach the Patriots. On the field, Jets quarterback Vinny Testaverde returns from a torn left Achilles' tendon, while Pats QB Drew Bledsoe looks to rebound from a disastrous 2-6 finish last season.

Everybody Loves Raymond

8 p.m. on CBS

Ashley Crow ("Turks") guest stars in "The Sister" as Jennifer, Debra's (Patricia Heaton) free-spirited sibling, who stuns the family with the news that she's planning to become a nun. Debra has a big problem with that, but she won't reveal the real reason. Instead, she declares that Jennifer's decision isn't a calling but just another one of her phases. Ray Romano also stars.

Tuesday's Best Bets

Movie: Thin Air: A Spenser Mystery

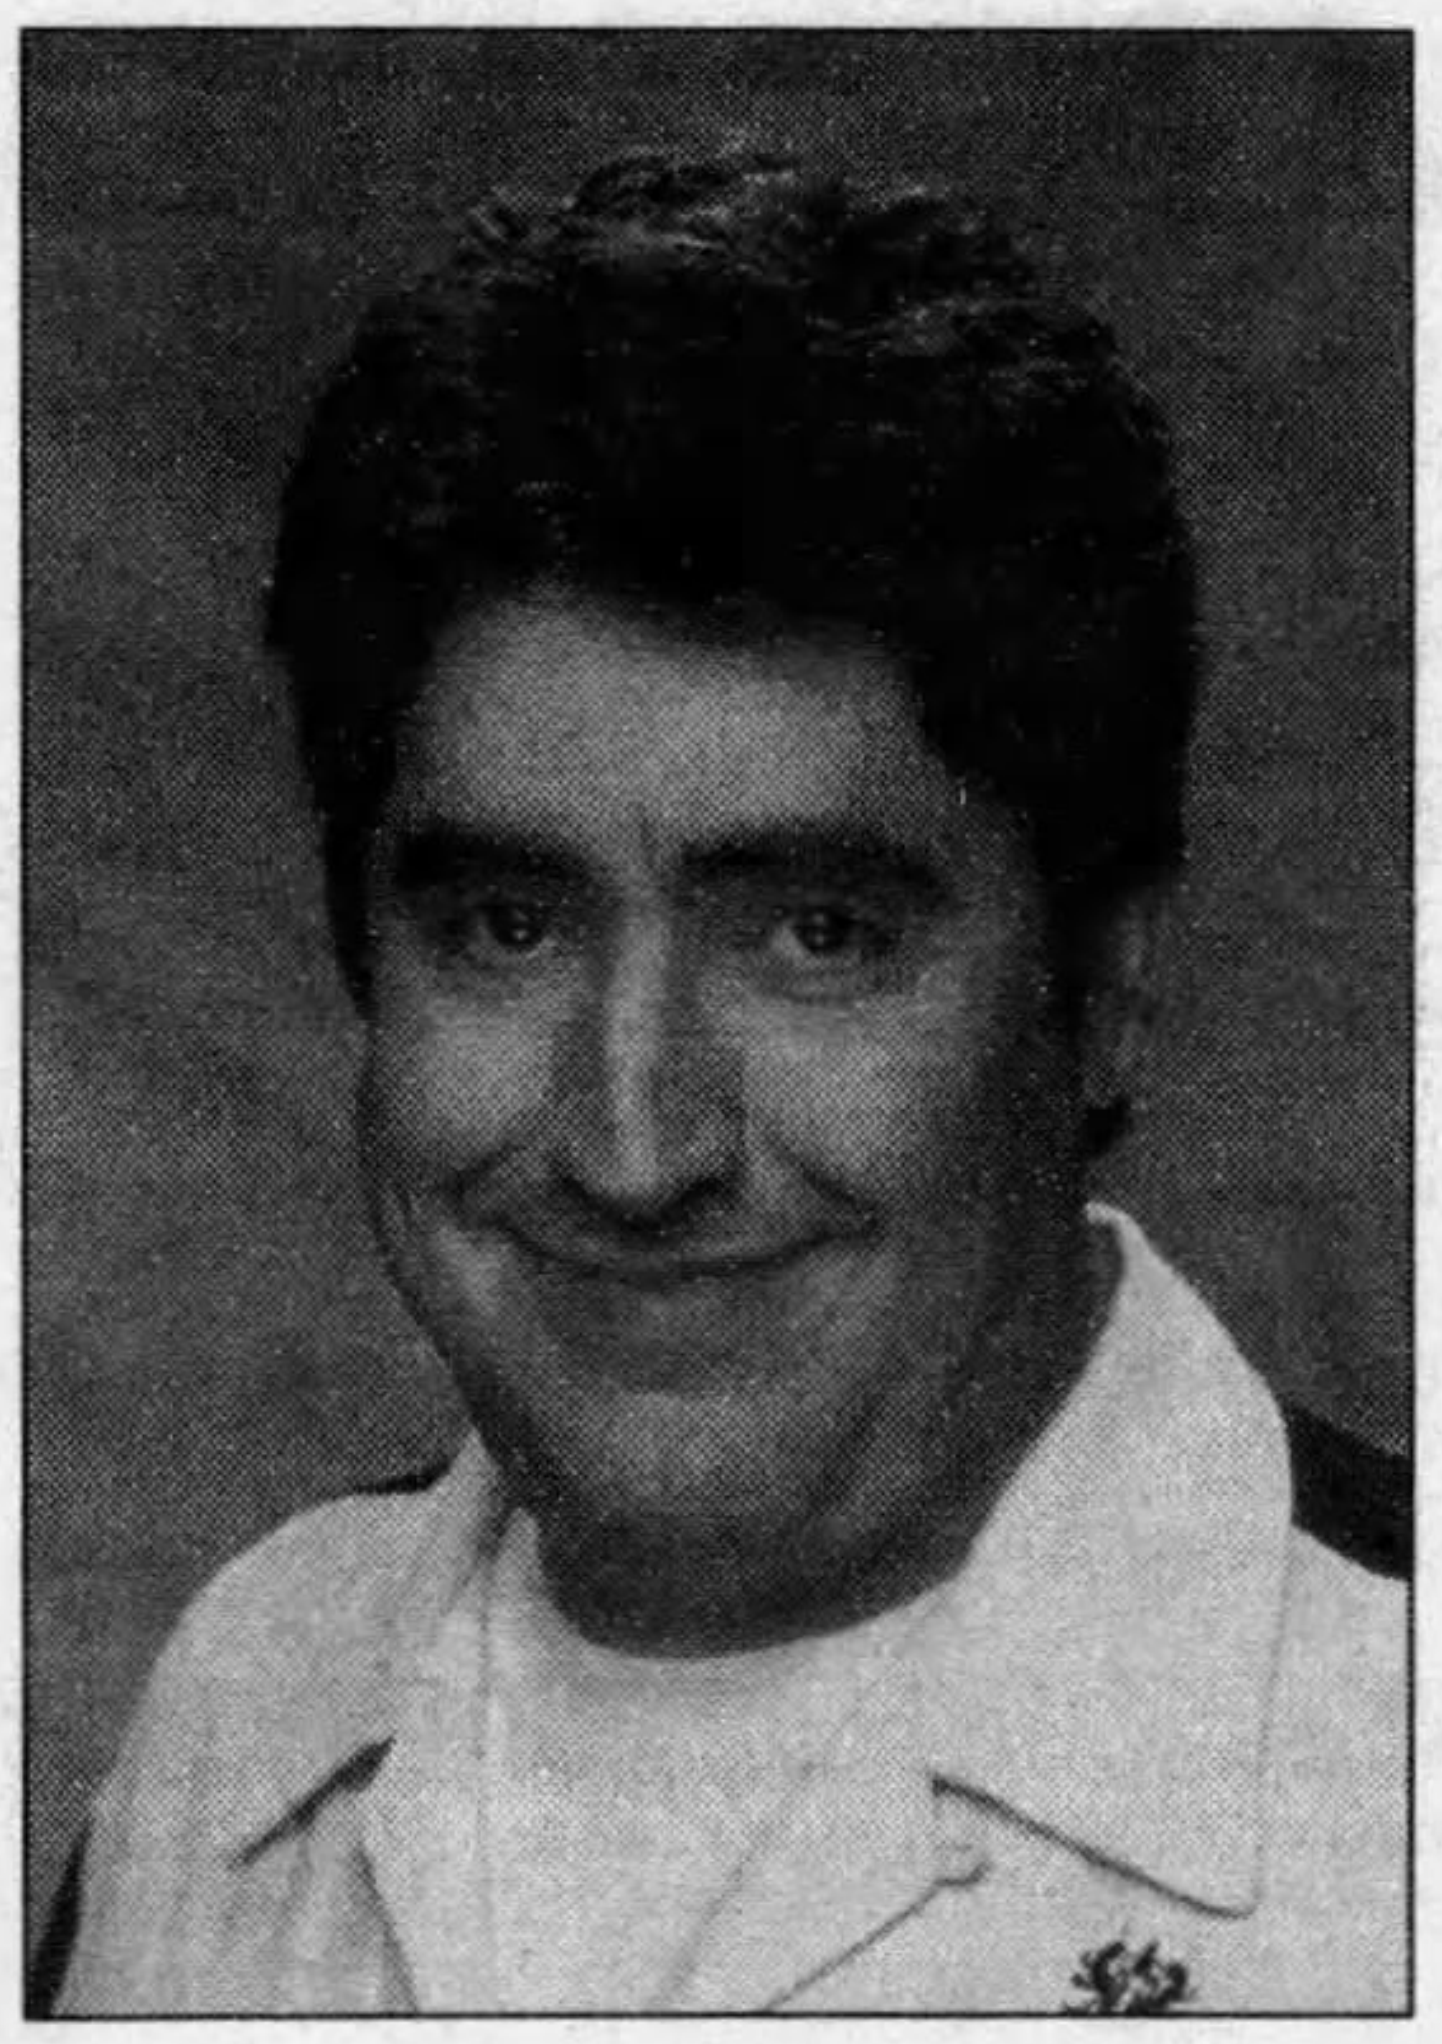
7 p.m. on A&E

Joe Mantegna reprises the role of author Robert B. Parker's beloved Boston private eye, a character first made famous on the small screen by Robert Urich. This time, Spenser's on the trail of a missing young bride with a mysterious past. He must get past a variety of interesting characters, from burned-out police to megalomaniac gang leaders, to find his man: an obsessed madman who sees no reason why he can't just take what — or whom — he wants. Marcia Gay Harden, Luis Guzman and Yancy Butler also star.

Obsessed With Vertigo

7 p.m. on AMC

Many consider 1958's "Vertigo" to be Alfred Hitchcock's masterpiece, although the Academy didn't agree, giving it only two Oscar nominations and no wins. It's a classic, thanks in large part to James Stewart's performance as the height-phobic retired detective obsessed with a woman who's not what she seems. This special, which highlights the making and restoration of the film, features interviews with Hitchcock's daughter, fellow director Martin Scorsese and some of the movie's stars, including Kim Novak and Barbara Bel Geddes. Roddy McDowall narrates. A screening of the movie itself follows.



Alfred Molina
LADIES MAN

Ladies Man

7:30 p.m. on CBS

In "12 Angry Kids," Wendy (Alexa Vega) is suspended from school under the sexual harassment rule for kissing a boy without his permission. Jimmy (Alfred Molina) thinks this is absurd and vows to fight it. But he has some tough opposition: a student court populated by a kiddie judge, jury and prosecutor who are taking their jobs very seriously. Sharon Lawrence also stars.

Titus

7:30 p.m. on FOX

You know what an intervention is: Family members and friends of an alcoholic or drug addict get together to coax him into treatment. Titus and Dave (Christopher Titus, Zack Ward) and their friends are having one for Ken, but with a twist.

Frasier

8 p.m. on NBC

Last season's hourlong finale gave the show's fans something they'd been awaiting for years: Niles and Daphne (David Hyde Pierce, Jane Leeves) finally declaring their love for each other. Their timing, however, is a little off: Daphne is about to marry Donny (Saul Rubinek), and Niles has just impulsively tied the knot with Mel (Jane Adams). The hour ends with the star-crossed pair riding off into the sunset in an RV, leaving us wondering since May what happens next.

Wednesday's Best Bets

Two Guys and a Girl

7 p.m. on ABC

An angry Sharon (Traylor Howard) cancels all the fancy wedding plans in the wake of a fight. But of course, the impulse wears off, and not even all the king's men can put everything back together again. Enter Irene (Jillian Bach), who saves the day by throwing Sharon and Johnny (Nathan Fillion) a wild wedding with a Mexican theme. Ashley's (Suzanne Cryer) new sweetie blows it on the baseball field after a prank by Pete (Richard Ruccolo) has him believing Ashley and Berg (Ryan Reynolds) spent a weekend together. Tiffani Thiessen — waiving the Amber — and Robert Goulet guest star in "El Matriomonio Loco."

Movie: Sole Survivor

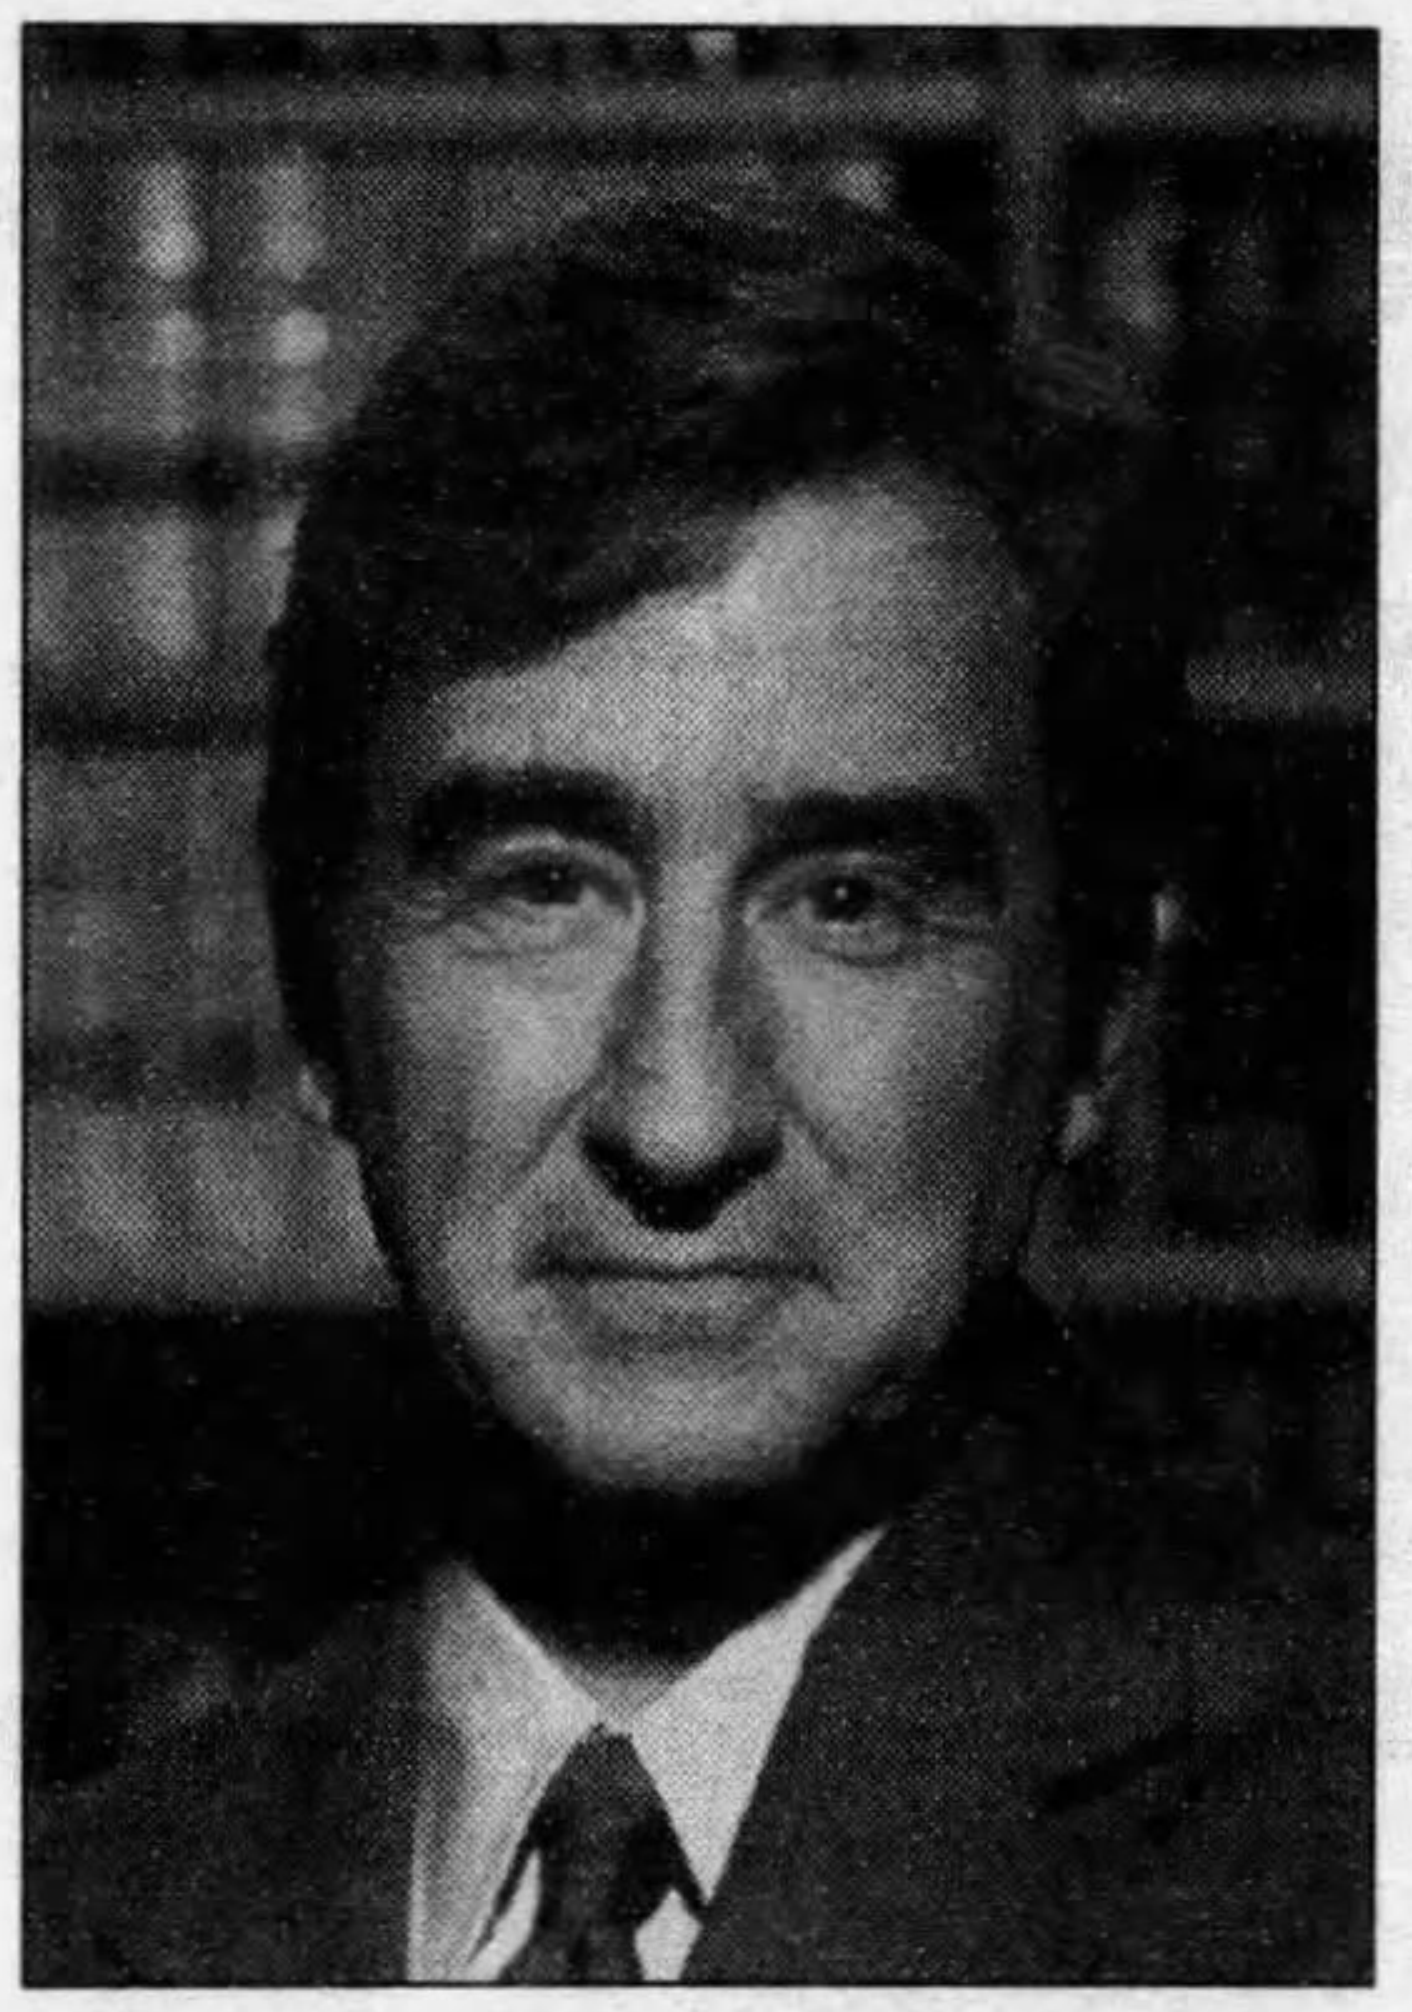
7 p.m. on FOX

A journalist (Billy Zane, "Titanic") who lost his wife and daughter in a plane crash learns of a woman (Gloria Reuben, "ER") who survived the accident and seeks her out for answers about his loved ones' last moments. But he's not the only one looking for her; there's a conspiracy afoot to keep her mouth shut about the crash.

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

Before Nadia Comaneci and her perfect 10s, before the Magnificent 7, there was Olga Korbut. She was only 17 when she won the world's hearts at the 1972 Olympic Games in Munich, Germany. The combination of her winning smile and her incredible moves — somersaults on the balance beam were unheard of before then — made her the first superstar of gymnastics and upped the ante for those who came after her.



Sam Waterston
LAW & ORDER

Movie: Blues Brothers 2000

7 p.m. on VH1

Without John Belushi, this sequel to 1980's "The Blues Brothers" can't quite match up to the original, but it does have a stellar lineup of real musicians in cameo roles, including Isaac Hayes, Eric Clapton, Bo Diddley, Erykah Badu and James Brown. Dan Aykroyd reprises the role of Elwood Blues, newly sprung from prison and aiming to get his band back together, win a competition and save a children's hospital. With a young orphan named Buster as his new sidekick, he dodges the Russian mob, a militia and other obstacles on his cross-country trek.

Law & Order

9 p.m. on NBC

Briscoe and Green's (Jerry Orbach, Jesse L. Martin) latest murder turns out to be anything but routine, especially for McCoy (Sam Waterston). They discover the victim had been trying to get at the truth about his son's death at the hands of the Chilean army almost 30 years earlier.

Thursday's Best Bets

College Football

7 p.m. on ESPN

An unusual nonconference matchup features Mississippi State playing its second game on the road against Brigham Young, which already has three games under its belt. The Bulldogs are coming off a 10-2 season, including a win over Clemson in the Peach Bowl. Junior quarterback Wayne Madkin returns, one of only nine starters back, which will make this season a tougher one for coach Jackie Sherrill's team. For BYU, this is coach LaVell Edwards' last season. Edwards took over the Cougars' program back in 1972 and has led it to 26 consecutive nonlosing seasons.

Movie: The Client

7:30 p.m. on CBS

Susan Sarandon and Tommy Lee Jones star in this 1994 adaptation of the John Grisham thriller. After an 11-year-old boy witnesses a Mafia-related suicide, a lawyer tries to protect him from both the mob and overzealous federal agents. Brad Renfro, Mary-Louise Parker, Anthony LaPaglia, Ossie Davis and Anthony Edwards also star.

Will & Grace

8 p.m. on NBC

Sleeping with your boss is a bad idea, but how about sleeping with your best friend's boss? Grace (Debra Messing) orders Will (Eric McCormack) to mind his own business after he finds out she's been seeing Ben (Gregory Hines). Jack (Sean Hayes) has his own extracurricular fun with Ben: a tap-dancing challenge, which just might take his mind off Rosario's (Shelley Morrison) request for a divorce. Megan Mullally also stars in "Ben? Her?"

Susan Sarandon
THE CLIENT

ER

9 p.m. on NBC

A school shooting has the doctors scrambling in last season's finale, "May Day." Dr. Benton (Eriq La Salle) butts heads with Dr. Kovac (Goran Visnjic) over whom to treat first — victim or shooter — and joins forces with Dr. Corday (Alex Kingston) to save another victim's life with a risky operation. Emily Bergl guest stars as a young stabbing victim who resists Kovac's efforts to save her unborn baby. Carter is confronted by the other doctors about his drug use.

Investigative Reports

9 p.m. on A&E

Although the line between amateur and professional athlete has become blurred in recent years, the Olympic Games are not about money, with one exception. Big bucks are at stake for the city that hosts the Games. And where major money is involved, corruption is an ever-present risk. "Tarnished Gold" revisits such a situation: the bribery scandal surrounding Salt Lake City's efforts to get the 2002 Winter Games.

Olympic Summer Games

6:30 p.m. on NBC

We can't let the Games begin without a little pomp, circumstance and spectacle first. Bob Costas hosts as Sydney, Australia, welcomes the world to the 2000 Summer Olympics. Aside from such must-have features as the Parade of Nations and the lighting of the flame, the details of the opening ceremony are traditionally a closely guarded secret. But given Australia's fascinating flora, fauna and history, and veteran Olympic ceremony producer Ric Birch's enthusiasm about working in his homeland, this should be one to watch.

Music Mania

7 p.m. on FOX

All the hottest musical acts of the year are here in one convenient two-hour package. Taped in Jacksonville, Fla., in front of the requisite audience of screaming fans, it includes performances by Mandy Moore, *NSYNC, 98 Degrees, Jessica Simpson, Sisqo, Destiny's Child, Vitamin C, Westlife, Pink, Don Philip, P.Y.T. and more, with more than 50 dancers and plenty of backstage tidbits.

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

It wasn't America's first mass murder, but Richard Speck's slaughter of eight student nurses in 1966 was one of the most frightening, shattering the security of middle-class suburbanites who thought such horrors couldn't happen in their midst. "Richard Speck" traces the killer's troubled childhood, his capture and conviction, and his return to the headlines in 1996 with the discovery of a shocking video of his prison antics.

Movie: Days of Thunder

7:05 p.m. on TBS

Tom Cruise tried to re-create the magic of "Top Gun" on the ground with this 1990 drama. He plays a rookie stock-car driver who's long on natural talent but short on skill — a fatal combination in this fast-moving sport. Enter Harry (Robert Duvall), who gives him the guidance he needs, and Dr. Claire (Nicole Kidman), who gives him a few lessons in love and responsibility ... after fixing him up in the wake of a crash. The film received an Oscar nomination for best sound.

Survivor

8 p.m. on CBS

In case you missed it the first time around, here's another chance to catch the show that had everyone buzzing this summer. It starts tonight with "The Marooning," the premiere, in which the 16 survivor wannabes are brought to that remote island, divided into two tribes and given their first challenge.

Saturday's Best Bets

Olympic Summer Games

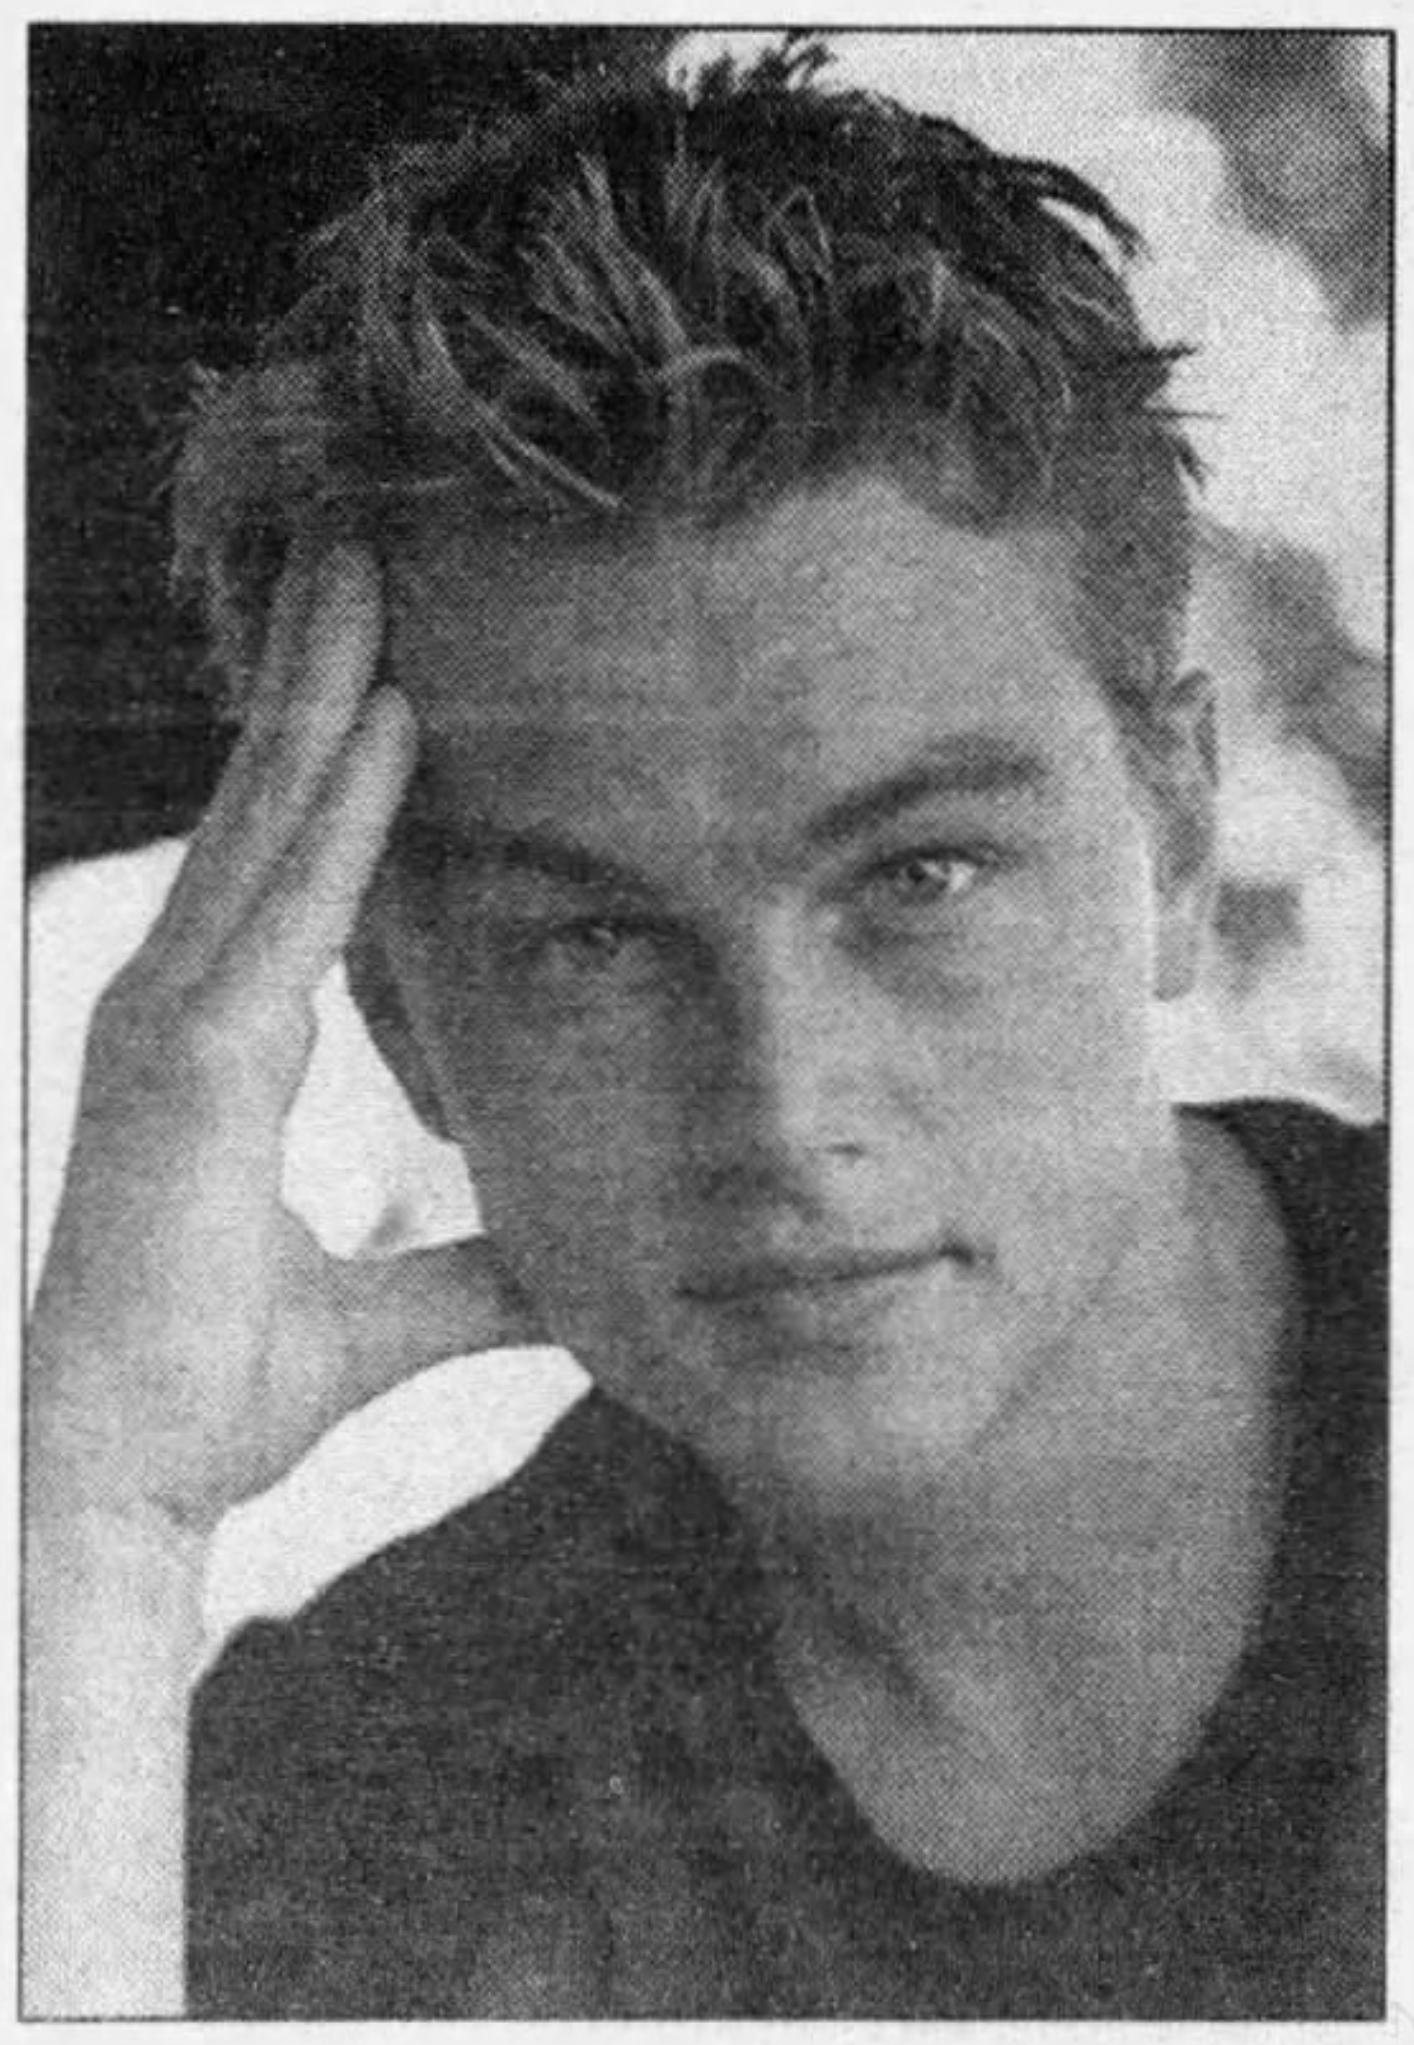
6 p.m. on NBC

The Olympic Games start to pick up some steam, with gold medals scheduled to be handed out in four events at the Sydney International Aquatic Centre. At the top of the list is the men's 400-meter freestyle final, where Klete Keller has a chance to medal. Keller set an American record in the event at last month's trials, but he faces stiff competition, most notably from hometown hero Ian Thorpe. The Aussie holds the world record in the 400, nearly six seconds faster than Keller's best. Thorpe is only 17, with massive size-17 feet that some say help propel him in the water. Finals are also on tap in the men's and women's 4x100-meter freestyle relay and the women's 400-meter IM.

Love Chronicles

6 p.m. on A&E

Appropriately enough, "Forbidden Love" airs after an encore of "Investigative Reports" about Mary Kay Letourneau, the Washington state teacher who went to prison for having an affair with a very young student. The program includes interviews with real-life Romeos and Juliets who have defied age and other social taboos to be together, and with experts who attempt to explain why we're drawn to the forbidden. John Corbett hosts.



Leonardo DiCaprio
DAVID BLAINE: STREET MAGIC

Movie: Spy Hard

7 p.m. on ABC

Leslie Nielsen brings his trademark brand of deadpan comedy to the James Bond genre in this sight-gag-filled spy parody. He plays Agent WD-40, whose mission is to stop the evil Gen.

Country Legends Homecoming

8 p.m. on NASH

Ho-hum, another concert. Think again. This country music special is, well, special. Its lineup is filled with names that will be familiar even to nonfans of the genre — Glen Campbell, Willie Nelson, Crystal Gayle, Kris Kristofferson and B.J. Thomas, to name a few. And sprinkled among the songs are a few true confessions from the performers, from Campbell confiding stage fright to Lorrie Morgan admitting she reads lyrics off a teleprompter. Ralph Emery and Bobby Bare host the event.

David Blaine: Street Magic

9 p.m. on ABC

Illusionist David Blaine presents sleight-of-hand tricks and levitations in this hourlong program featuring special appearances by actor Leonardo DiCaprio, and Dallas Cowboys Emmitt Smith and Deion Sanders. Instead of a theater stage, Blaine uses the streets of Los Angeles and New York as the backdrop for his tricks.

Loving hateful characters a guilty pleasure for 'Bull' fans

Cover story

By Jacqueline Cutler

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

"Seinfeld" wasn't a runaway success only because it was funny. Most of the characters had the ethics of recently hatched snakes, yet the nation tuned in regularly.

Part of its appeal was wondering just what lousy deed was next — mugging an old lady for her bread, lying on a resume, pretending to be someone else — and realizing these were characters people loved watching but wouldn't want to befriend.

In "Bull," TNT's new Tuesday drama, some of the main characters also display reprehensible moral traits, and it's a kick to watch just how low they can go. Proud capitalists who take huge gambles professionally and personally, the traders are not afraid to be traitors — providing they don't cheat their sole motivator: money. And they make no bones about it. "We don't make laws or medicine," character Corey Granville (Malik Yoba) says. "We make money."

This drama isn't intended to provide role models for children — or adults, for that matter. Though creator, executive producer and head writer Michael S. Chernuchin had pitched the show to networks and studios for a decade, he was repeatedly rejected. "I got the same response over and over again: 'Nobody cares about money. People who make money are evil.' " Indeed, even though early reviews of the show were overwhelmingly positive, some critics took swipes at the subjects, investment bankers and traders.

"These are ordinary people in an extraordinary situation," Chernuchin says. "They go to the office. Of course, what they deal with is $100 million, not $40,000, but they are people. If you look back at the history of literature, look at Shakespeare's tragedies: 100 percent nobility. Do you think he had executives saying, 'Don't write about nobility because nobody cares'? Americans, and audiences by definition, are voyeuristic. They want to look in at somebody's life. Me, too. I would rather see something I am not familiar with."

Chernuchin, a "recovering lawyer," acknowledges that the cast is based on amalgams of people he has known. Mostly, however, each of the six main characters is a part of him, he says. That may seem difficult to believe in the case of Corey, the show's well-educated African-American whose race becomes an issue in his dealings with a client. Chernuchin, a Jew who attended Dartmouth when students bragged about being anti-Semitic, says he could relate to Corey's outsider status. Like Marissa Rufo (Alicia Coppola), who comes from a working-class family in Queens and tends to a sick mother, Chernuchin says he, too, hails from Queens and cares for a sick parent.

Viewers will likely relate to these characters who deal with what most people must — once they accept that the main characters are millionaires in their 20s.

Early in the series, the nefarious Hunter Lasky (Stanley Tucci) "greenmails" a paper plate company into giving him millions — just so he won't take the company over, fire everyone, shutter the plant and essentially kill a town. A factory boss tells him he can call it what he likes, but he knows it is blackmail. To ante up the money and save their livelihoods, the townspeople dip into their savings and mortgage their houses.

Who makes Tony Soprano's cool shirts?

By Taylor Michaels

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Who makes those cool tropical shirts Anthony "Tony" Soprano Sr. (James Gandolfini) wears on "The Sopranos"? -Caitlin Spears via e-mail.

"The costumes Jim wears come from a variety of sources," an HBO spokesman replies. "Some of the favorite short-sleeve print shirts are manufactured by two companies, Axis and Burma Bibas."

Check at your favorite upscale department stores to see whether they carry these lines.

Pipeline

Will "American High" return anywhere now that Fox has canceled it? Where can I complain? People were watching it! -Madison H., Phillipsburg, N.J.

Not nearly enough people were watching, but "High" executive producer R.J. Cutler says he hopes this terrific show will resurface somewhere. Write to Viewer Services, Fox Broadcasting Co., P.O. Box 900, Beverly Hills, CA 90213-0900, to complain.

What has become of Hal Sparks? I never saw any explanation for why he left "Talk Soup." - David Zucca, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Sparks abandoned "Soup" after less than a year to accept some interesting movie offers. Right now, he's in Canada filming "Queer as Folk," a new Showtime series in which he plays a gay man named Michael (essentially the "Vince" character from the original British version of "QAF"). He also has roles in two upcoming films, "Dude, Where's My Car?" and "Stages."

In the closing credits to "Fargo," the actor playing Victim in the Field is identified with a symbol like the one the musician Prince used to use. Yet the guy from the back looks nothing like Prince. What gives? -Clint Hadden, Owensboro, Ky.

That was just a joke by the filmmakers, Clint. That was actually "Fargo" storyboard artist J. Todd Anderson playing that role.

THE SOPRANOS

Soap Synopsis

All My Children

The building collapsed with Adam still inside. Liza and Mateo blasted Arlene for her involvement in the destruction of the tower. Adam was surprised when he found Stuart by his hospital bed. David pulled Erica into a passionate kiss. Alex and Dimitri planned their future. Jake asked Gillian for time to mend their relationship. Derek took Greenlee in for questioning.

Next Week: O-Town performs at Bianca's party.

As the World Turns

All eyes were on Katie at the Endicott Awards, but not for the reason she had expected. Holden continued to be furious over his wife's attachment to Simon. Lily and Rose finally met. Craig proved to be an unlikely savior. Isaac took on a partner in his quest to prove Ben's innocence. Jack and Julia found that the skies could be very unfriendly.

Next week: Molly and Jake take their relationship a step further.

The Bold and the Beautiful

Brooke decided to ask Taylor for help in dealing with Bridget. Taylor suggested Brooke take her daughter on a special trip. Bridget saw Thorne kissing Kimberly and wondered what her friend was doing. Thorne wasn't happy when Brooke told him she was leaving for Hawaii with Bridget.

Next week: Stephanie and Eric make a decision that affects Amber.

Days of Our Lives

Hattie tried to commit suicide but Roman jumped in to save her. Angela told Brandon that Kate was behind Franco's murder. Chloe and Philip shared a kiss. Shawn saw Belle in a new light, but his timing was off. Sami was stunned when Brandon told her that he was marrying Angela. Austin was surprised when Greta told him she was made a princess and inherited millions.

Next week: Philip races to tell Chloe the truth before it's too late.

General Hospital

Carly and Sonny set a wedding date. A.J. was devastated by Emily's kidnapping. Taggert had Jason arrested before he could save Emily. Sorel went after Lucky. Hannah persuaded Taggert into letting Jason out of jail. Luke and Roy arranged to meet in Port Charles. Maxie and Georgie planned a romantic dinner for Felicia and Mac. Zander took Emily to a clinic when her health declined. Carly panicked when she began to repeat her vows.

Next week: Felicia chooses Mac over Luke.

Guiding Light

Sam gave Susan advice about dealing with her parents. Vanessa shared an emotional goodbye with Billy and Bill. Pilar was concerned with the decision Danny was making about the business. Olivia used Josh's injury to drive him further away from a real reconciliation with Reva. Beth was surprised by her residual feelings for Phillip.

Next week: Selena begins to regret recounting her past.

One Life to Live

Melanie discovered Lindsay wasn't helping Nora regain her memory. Jessica shocked Will when she told him she was returning to Llanview. Roseanne gave Cristian money so he could go to Ireland. Antonio decided to move in with Roseanne and Sophia to keep them safe from Todd. Ben planned an unusual surprise for Viki.

Next week: Asa makes a shocking discovery at Llanview Hospital.

Passions

Gwen claimed she would destroy anyone who tried to take Ethan away from her. Evil Charity ordered Tabitha to burn Miguel and Kay alive. Theresa tried to tell Luis about her relationship with Ethan but they were interrupted. Chad learned he was being evicted. Chad and Whitney shared a close moment as they discussed love. Julian gave Gwen heirloom jewels as a wedding gift. Theresa confessed her fears to Pilar about Ethan's family.

Next week: Luis asks Sheridan if she has decided about their future.

Port Charles

Frank and Joe began to reconnect in a brotherly way. Alison turned Courtney into an adversary. After learning he had been exposed to HIV, Karen gave Joe her support. Ian and Eve's friendship grew stronger. Scott and Lucy were upset they didn't find Christina, but grateful they helped shut down the baby-selling ring.

Next week: Neil decides he would like to live with Frank.

The Young and the Restless

Mac was devastated when she opened the door and saw Brittany and Billy together. Rianna kissed Raul. Nikki wanted Victoria to come home to the ranch, but she refused. Ryan wasn't sure what he was going to do with an emotional Tricia. Matt was upset when he realized he would have trouble framing Nick. Victoria was upset by Jabot's success and Nick suggested they look for a Website producer.

Next week: Billy doesn't understand what's going on with Mac.

Sunday's Best Bets

The '70s: The Decade That Changed Television

6 p.m. on ABC

Television in the 1970s broke ground in so many ways. "All in the Family" paved the way for "Married ... With Children." "Hill Street Blues" broke the "Dragnet" mold and cleared a path for "NYPD Blue." And the newsmagazine and talk show booms owe huge debts to "60 Minutes" and Donahue. This two-hour educational field trip down memory lane covers all the bases of '70s TV, with segments on sitcoms; crime shows; reality programming; variety shows; and changes in how love, sex, family and women's roles were portrayed. Mike Farrell, Betty White, the Smothers Brothers, Peter Falk, John Ritter, Melissa Gilbert and Hugh Downs host the special, which has clips from almost all those '70s shows — from "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman" to "M*A*S*H."

Olympic Summer Games

6 p.m. on NBC

If swimming is your sport, then this is the week to tune in to the Olympic Summer Games, where a strong U.S. team should be well represented when medals are handed out. In the women's 100-meter butterfly, Dara Torres and Jenny Thompson may compete against each other for a spot on the podium. Also, world-record holder Tom Dolan is the favorite to defend his gold medal in the men's 400-meter individual medley, and Ed Moses is the top American swimmer in the 100-meter breaststroke. NBC is employing the latest TV technology on the swimming events, which should make an already strong competition a better one for viewers.

Best Kept Secrets of: The Military

7 p.m. on TLC

In this age of information, it's amazing that anything is secret anymore. But the military, the FBI and assorted secret societies have had lots of practice at keeping them. Three specials go deep inside these institutions to see some amazing sights. The opener looks at some of the military's most unusual secret weapons, including killer dolphins and photo-replicating uniforms, and visits the notorious Area 51, where the big secret isn't aliens, but the possible existence of a very closely guarded new plane. Next, meet FBI agents working under cover and visit the agency's Internet policing operation. The final hour goes behind the doors of secret organizations such as the Ku Klux Klan and a controversial Korean fitness club.

Animal guests make a big hit

By Lorri Antosz Benson

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

The new talk show season is under way, but the "dog days" of summer provided some very memorable animal stories.

Host Sally Jessy Raphael just couldn't let a recent show guest go home empty-handed after hearing his unbelievable story.

It happened on an episode highlighting a controversial new Website with a "Dare for Dollars" format. Contestants volunteer to do really bizarre things for money, and Raphael's guest, Mike McGowan from Waldorf, Md., attempted to set a new world record by eating 62 worms in one minute.

McGowan needed $3,000 to pay for an operation for his very sick dog, and this apparently was the best way he could come up with the money.

Unfortunately, McGowan failed in his quest (surprise, surprise), and the Website people, naturally, refused to give him the money. His sad and sickening tale made Raphael feel sorry for him. She gave him the money personally, writing him a check after the show finished taping.

Talk the Talk

Also on the animal front, several "Sally" staffers left the studio with new pets after taping a show on animals that included crocodiles, bears and lemurs from the Philadelphia Zoo.

Animal lover Raphael taped the show before an audience of delighted youngsters from area youth centers, who loved the segment featuring dogs and cats from a New York animal care group that doesn't euthanize its charges.

It seems Raphael's staff was paying attention when the host urged viewers to adopt abandoned dogs and cats. After the show, the featured puppies and kittens found new homes courtesy of the production crew.

Sally Jessy Raphael

Raphael's not the only talk show host with a soft spot for animals. Last month, Maury Povich was watching a New York newscast with his producer when a story caught his eye.

Seems an 85-year old Brooklyn lady, Pauline Solow, found a young Rottweiler on the Brighton Beach boardwalk. The poor pup was crying in pain, so Solow and her daughter brought the dog in for medical attention.

Monday's Best Bets

Olympic Summer Games

6 p.m. on NBC

Swimming and gymnastics share the spotlight. American Lenny Krayzelburg, the world's best backstroker, is going for his first gold in the 100-meter event. In the women's 100-meter breaststroke, 16-year-old Megan Quann tries to unseat reigning Olympic champion Penny Heyns of South Africa. Also, watch for Australian Ian Thorpe in the 200-meter freestyle final. Thorpe, 17, is a star in his homeland, and should dominate each of his freestyle events. In gymnastics, five-time national champion Blaine Wilson leads the United States in the team finals.

Movie: Dumb & Dumber

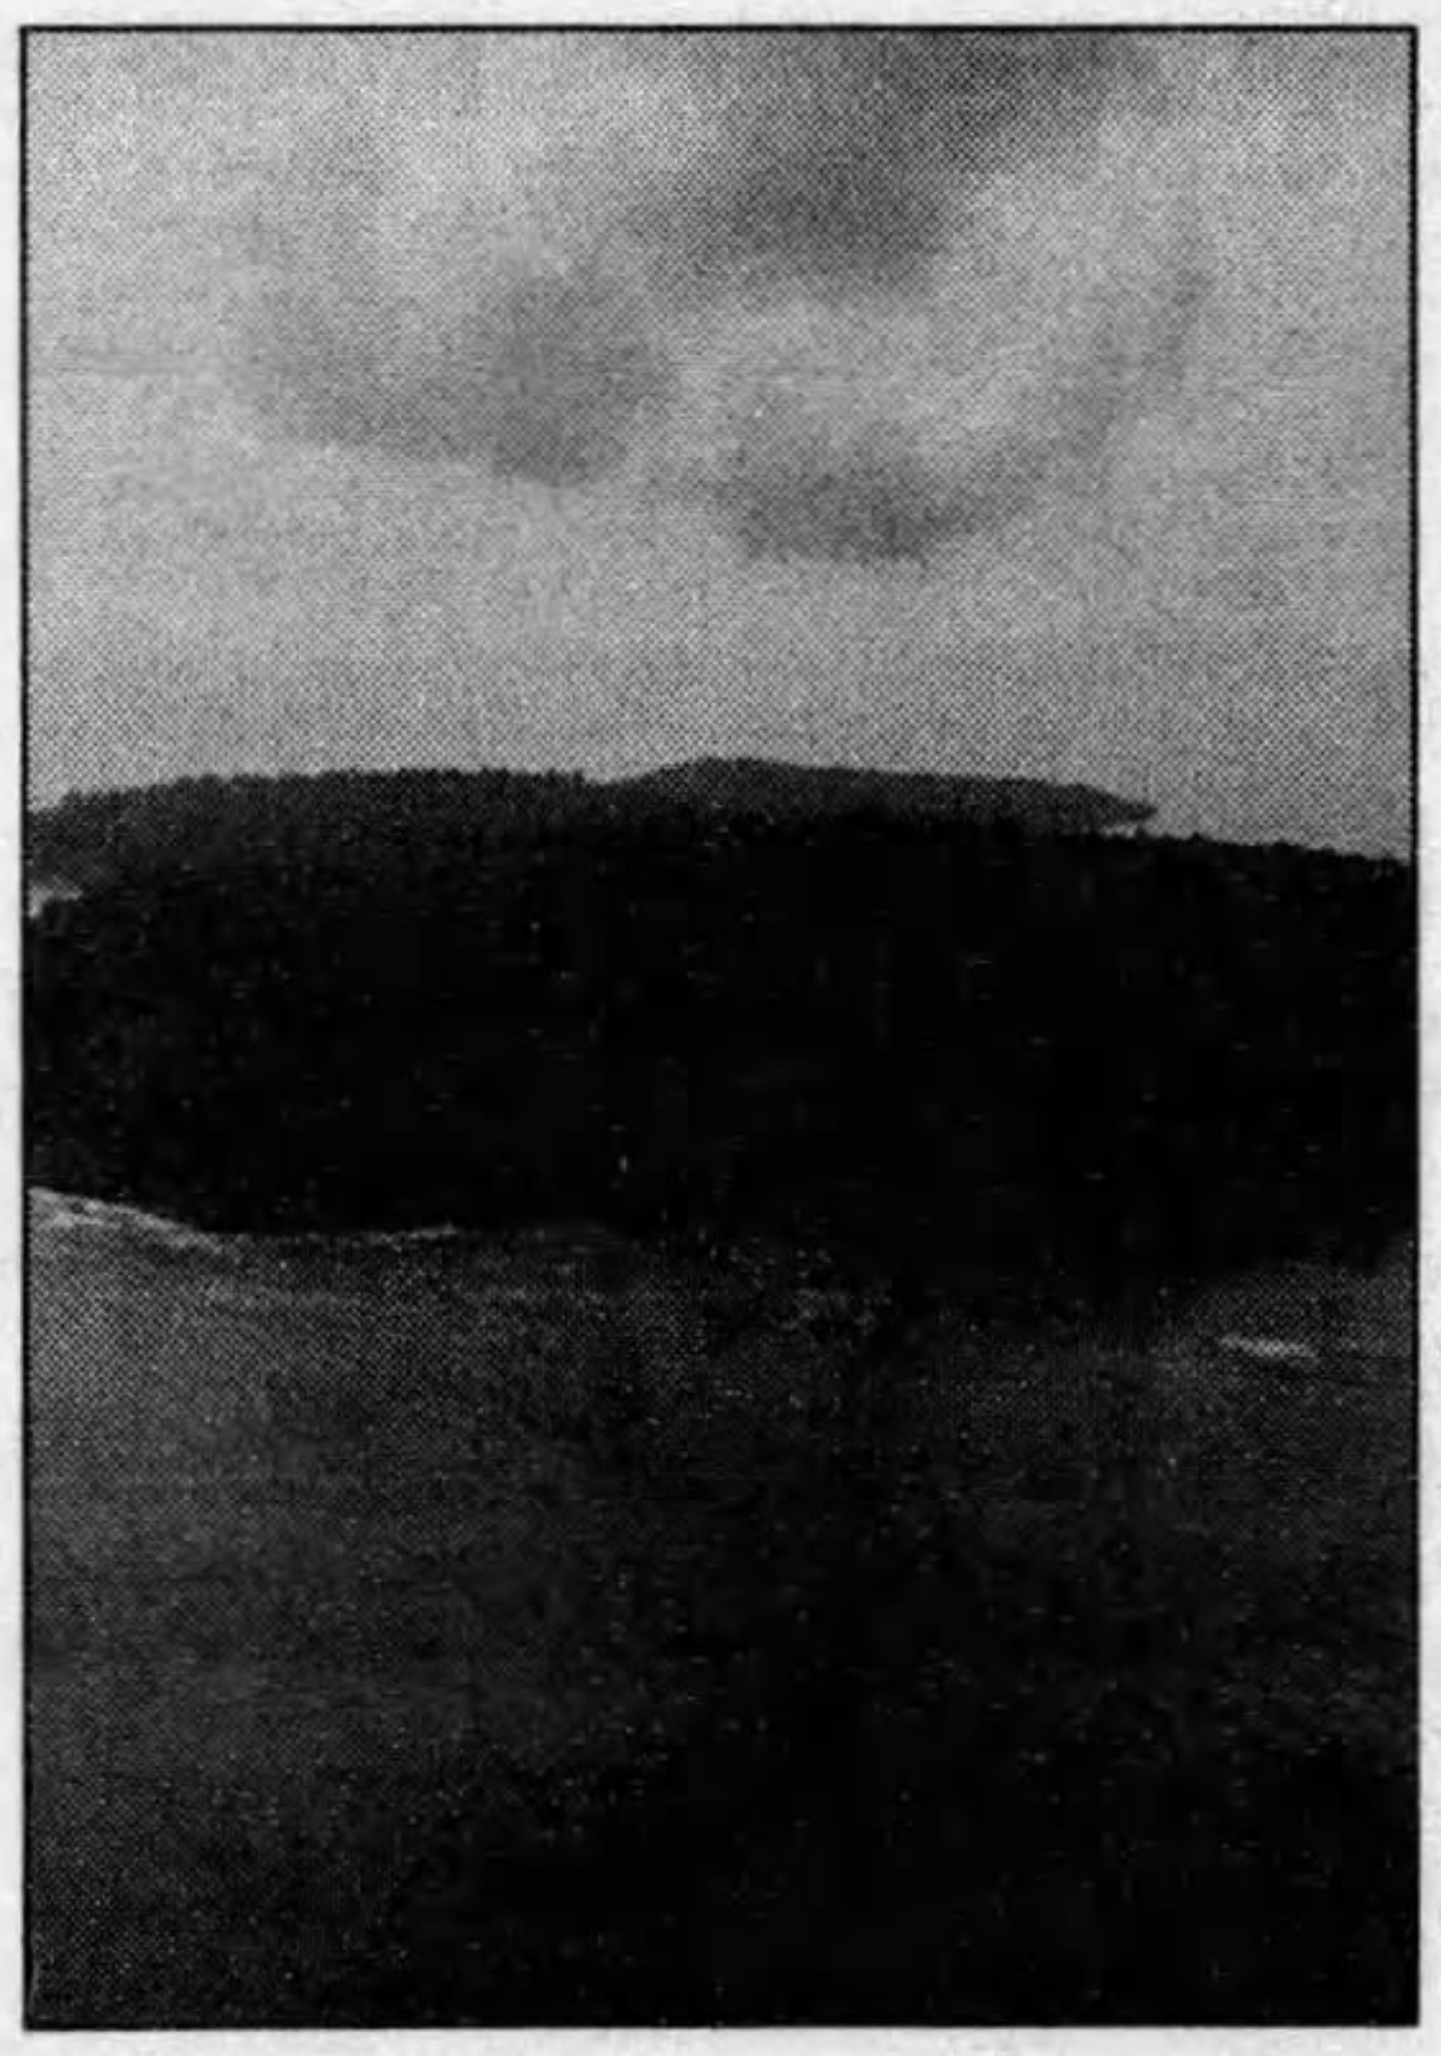
7 p.m. on FOX

Jim Carrey and Jeff Daniels star in this 1994 comedy as two doofuses — one a dog groomer and the other a limo driver — who commit every bathroom joke in the book during their cross-country quest to return a suitcase full of ransom money to a pretty socialite. Lauren Holly, Teri Garr, Charles Rocket and hockey great Cam Neely also star.

Moesha

7 p.m. on UPN

Moesha and Niecy (Brandy Norwood, Shar Jackson) are live on the Web, and they're not happy about it. Blame Alicia (Alexis Fields), who secretly planted a camera in their room. When they discover it, she's due to be on the receiving end of an elaborate revenge plot.



Pulau Tiga
SURVIVOR

Latino Filmmaker Showcase

7 p.m. on SHOW

The home of TV's only drama with an all-Latino cast and crew spotlights up-and-coming Hispanic filmmakers with a minifestival patterned on its "Black Filmmaker Showcase." It opens with "New Suits," Regina Don Rodman's tale of father-son bonding over clothes shopping. Next up are "The Hot Room," an exercise in nonverbal communication from Guillerminda Zabala, and "Taino," Edwin Figueroa's story of a boy inspired by an ancient warrior.

Survivor

8 p.m. on CBS

"Quest for Food" is the episode that riled up the animal rights activists, as the hungry denizens of Pulau Tiga chow down on roasted rat. But it's almost anticlimactic after the previous episode's maggot-munching immunity challenge. The food situation is looking better, though, thanks to the latest challenge; the winning team gets snorkeling and spear-fishing gear. In the end, it's the Tagi tribe's turn to weed out its chaff.

Tuesday's Best Bets

Olympic Summer Games

6 p.m. on NBC

Like figure skating in the Winter Games, gymnastics tends to attract the casual fan who otherwise wouldn't tune in. NBC hopes that's the case as the women's team final is contested. The U.S. squad is highlighted by Amy Chow and Dominique Dawes, the only two returning members from the Magnificent Seven, the gold medal-winning team in the Atlanta Games. In swimming action, American Tom Malchow is the favorite in the 200-meter butterfly. The St. Paul, Minn., native won a silver medal in the same event four years ago. Later, Italy takes on the U.S. men's basketball team.

Movie: Jumanji

7 p.m. on FOX

Two children (Kirsten Dunst, Bradley Pierce) discover a mysterious board game in their new home's attic. They begin to play, only to discover each roll unleashes terrifying consequences. When a jungle-ravaged man (Robin Williams) pops out of the game, they learn he was trapped in another world during a roll of the dice 20 years earlier. They must finish the game he started to undo all the damage and put things right. Bonnie Hunt and Bebe Neuwirth also star.

Leah Remini
KING OF QUEENS

The King of Queens

7:30 p.m. on CBS

Your money or your life? For Doug (Kevin James), it's his bowling team or his wife. The team's sponsor (guest star Robert Klein) is tired of its losing streak and wants Doug to get rid of the person who's holding it back. Unfortunately, the team's worst bowler is Carrie (Leah Remini), which puts Doug in an extremely awkward position.

Anyplace Wild Special

9 p.m. on PBS

"Taking Australia by Land and Sea: Canyoneering and Kayaking Down Under" offers two views of Australia you won't get watching the Olympics.

Investigative Reports

9 p.m. on A&E

"The Cold Case Files, Program No. 10" revisits a series of arsons that plagued California in the 1980s. Fire investigator Marvin Casey had two suspicions: that one person was responsible, and that the culprit was in the fire business — especially since one of the blazes occurred at a fire conference. Two years later, when another fire conference was hit, Casey compared the lists of attendees and found his suspect: a respected arson investigator. Another series of fires yielded a fingerprint that nailed the man for good.

Wednesday's Best Bets

lympic ummer Games

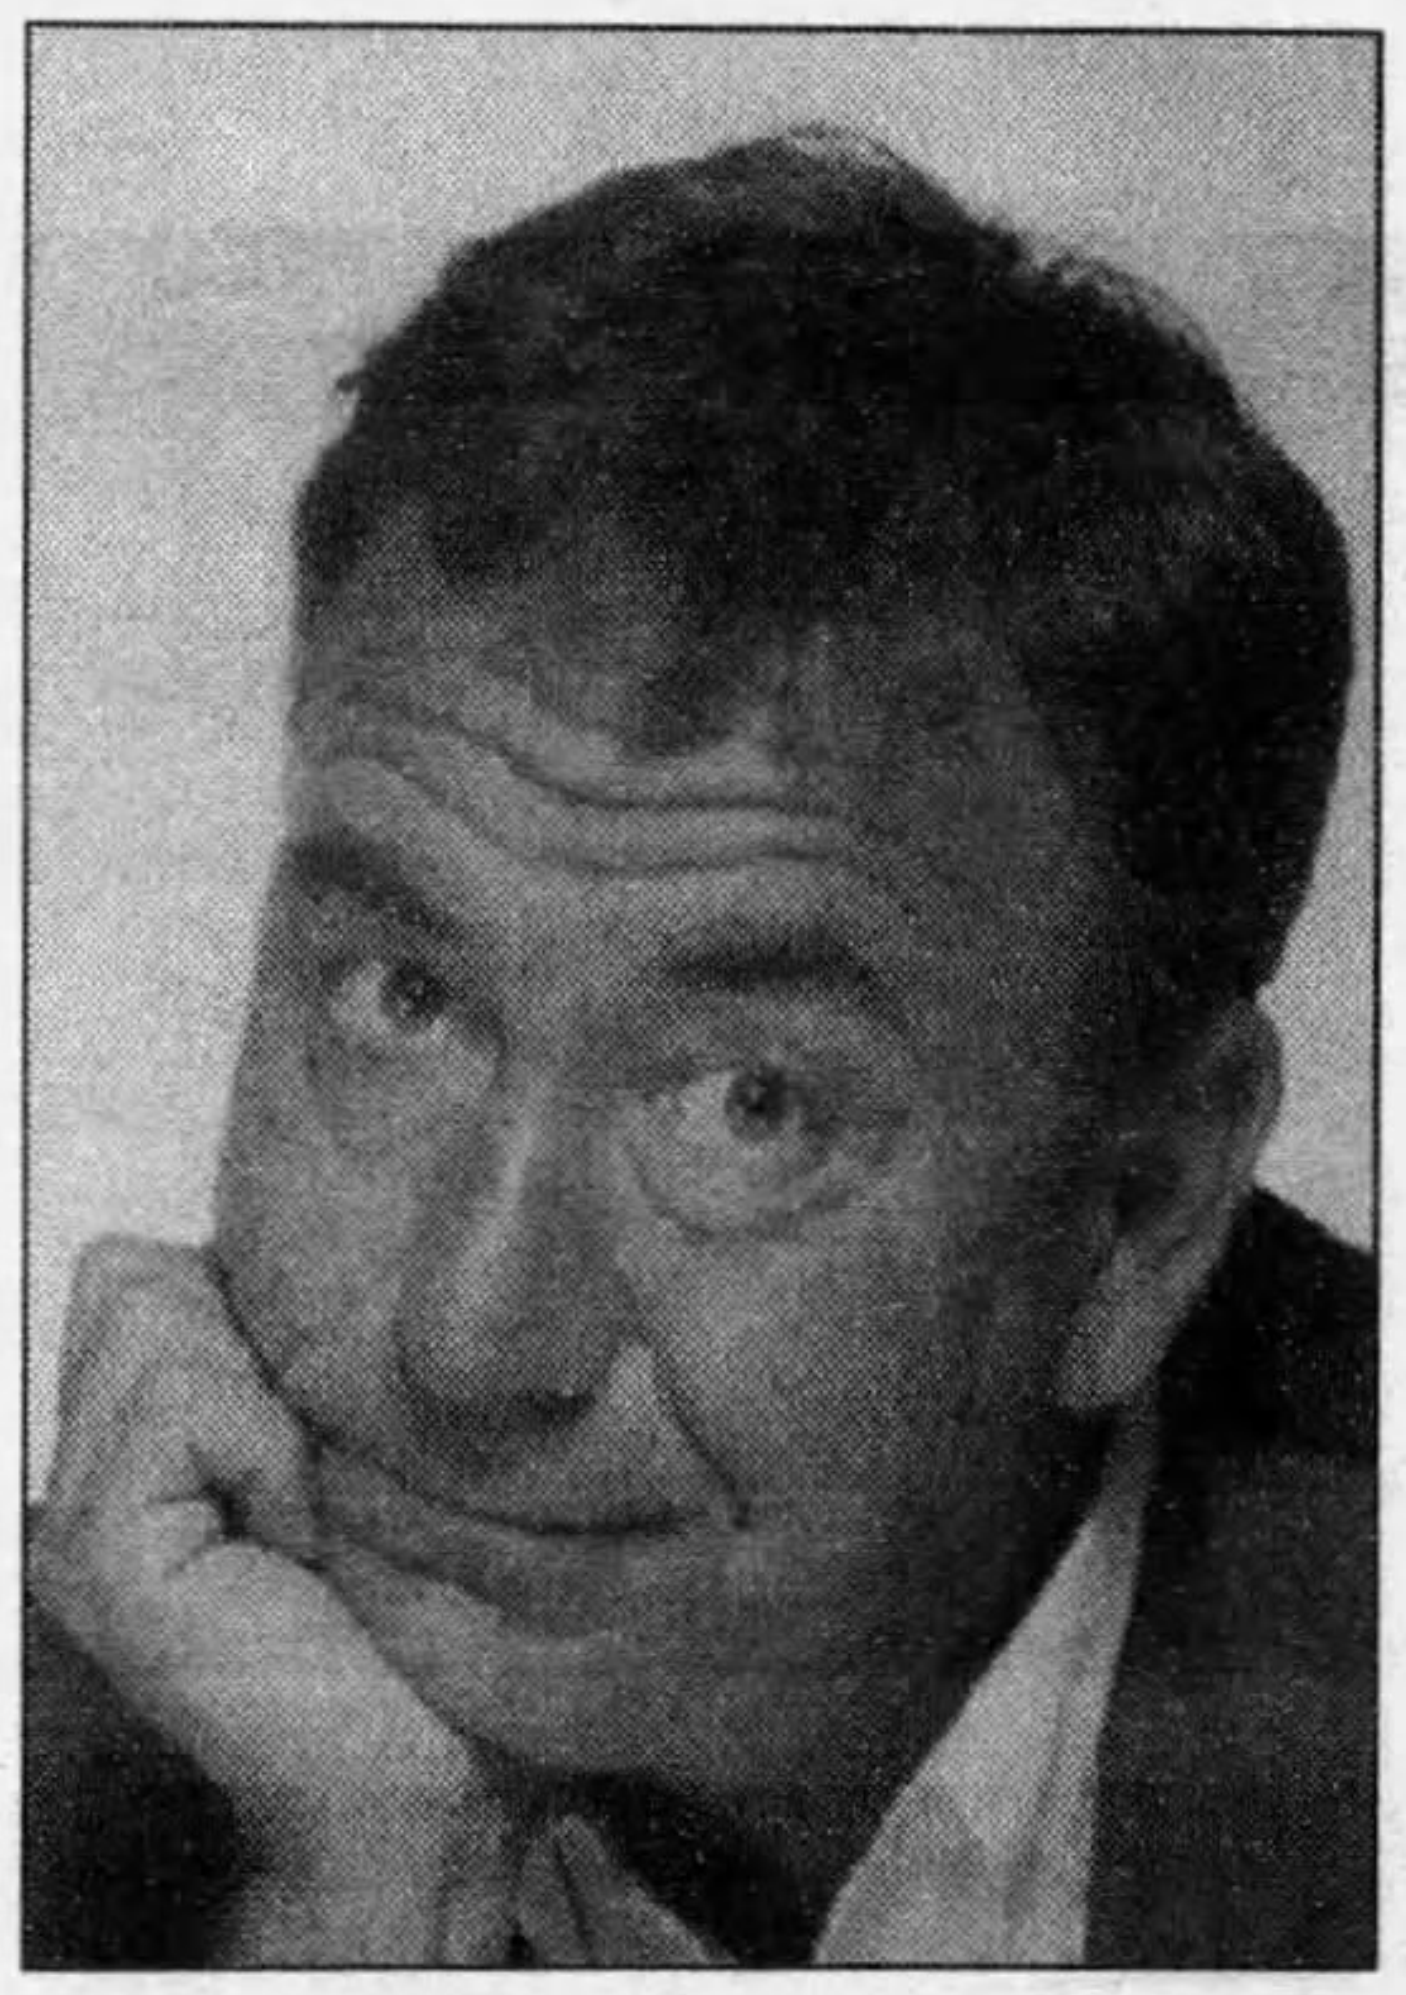
p.m. on NBC

Men's gymnastics takes the spot-ight, with Blaine Wilson, Ameri-a's best gymnast the past five ears, looking to perform well nough on the world stage to win medal in the individual all-round. In women's basketball, the nited States plays its third pre-iminary game against a formida-le Russian team. Russia earned a ilver medal at the 1998 World Championships and followed that with a third-place finish at last year's European Championships. Four finals are scheduled in swimming, including the men's 100-meter freestyle.

Behind the Scenes of Who Wants to Be a Millionaire

7 p.m. on ABC

Who wants to see how it all comes together? This hourlong special from May takes you deep inside the workings of the popular quiz show, all the way to the top-secret writers department where they pick the questions. Contestants talk about what it's like to be on the show, and winners discuss what it's like to become rich and famous. Comic Will Durst talks about his stint as a lifeline and the agony of defeat, and host Regis Philbin and executive producer Michael Davies expound on how a British game show was reborn as a stateside hit.



Will Durst
BEHIND THE SCENES OF WHO WANTS TO BE A MILLIONAIRE

Movie: Murder in the First

7 p.m. on TNT

Kevin Bacon gives an intense performance as an inmate at a maximum-security prison who murders a fellow convict after being mistreated by prison officials.

American Justice

8 p.m. on A&E

"The California Killing Field" tells the grisly story of Leonard Lake and Charles Ng. The latter left the country when he learned police were seeking to question him about a petty theft. The former, his friend, committed suicide during questioning, leaving a note with Ng's name. That led police to a horrifying discovery: a field of mutilated bodies and charred bones, a torture chamber, and a video of two of the men's victims.

Hopkins 24/7

9 p.m. on ABC

Listening is the theme of the next-to-last episode of this six-part miniseries, which peeks behind the closed doors of the Johns Hopkins medical complex. A trip into the psychiatric unit offers frank discussions between therapists and anorexia patients, while down the hall, a deaf child hears for the first time with the help of an electronic implant.

Movie: Home Alone 2: Lost in New York

7 p.m. on FOX

Macaulay Culkin and other cast members from the original holiday blockbuster return in this 1992 sequel, in which young Kevin is left alone in a suite in New York's Plaza Hotel. Joe Pesci and Daniel Stern reprise their roles as the dimwitted antagonists; Catherine O'Hara, John Heard and Brenda Fricker also star.

Charmed

7 p.m. on WB

Get ready for a new season with a doubleheader of the Halliwell sisters' first- and second-season openers. In 1998's "Something Wicca This Way Comes," Prue, Phoebe and Piper move into the old family homestead together and discover their bewitching powers.

HOME ALONE 2: LOST IN NEW YORK

Movie: Giant

7 p.m. on AMC

Edna Ferber's generation-spanning tale of a Texas ranch family was James Dean's last film. So it's gone down in movie history as a Dean picture, even though his character — a troubled ranch hand who strikes it rich — isn't the star. That distinction belongs to the ranch's crusty owner (Rock Hudson) and his Eastern wife (Elizabeth Taylor), who spends years battling the ingrained racism and sexism of Lone Star culture. Dennis Hopper and Mercedes McCambridge also star in the 1956 epic, which was nominated for 10 Oscars and won one (George Stevens, best director).

Movie: Crocodile Dundee

7:05 p.m. on TBS

All of America's eyes may be on Australia this week, but this 1986 comedy gives an Australian's-eye view of New York. An American reporter (Linda Kozlowski) travels Down Under to interview a well-known safari guide and poacher (Paul Hogan) who earned the nickname "Crocodile" after defeating one of the reptiles with his bare hands.

Friday's Best Bets

Movie: Money Talks

7 p.m. on FOX

Chris Tucker merges elements of Eddie Murphy and Jim Carrey in his 1997 comedy directed by Brett Ratner. He plays a small-time con man who's in the wrong place at the wrong time and becomes a suspect n a terrorist bombing engineered by a jewel smuggler. With both the cops and the bad guys after him, he latches onto a new acquaintance..

Movie: Leaving Las Vegas

7 p.m. on TNT

Nicolas Cage received an Academy Award for his portrayal of a hopeless alcoholic who goes to Las Vegas to spend his savings drinking himself to death. While there, he shares a brief relationship with a prostitute (Elisabeth Shue) who loves him enough not to stop him. Directed by Mike Figgis, the 1995 drama is based on a novel by John O'Brien.

Grosse Pointe

7:30 p.m. on WB

Producer Darren Star ("Beverly Hills, 90210") shows that he can laugh at himself in this delightful satire. It's all about the off-camera lives of the cast and crew of a teen drama that looks suspiciously like Star's old show. In fact, one character had to be rewritten because she was way too close to Tori Spelling for comfort. "Pilot" introduces Bonnie Somerville, Irene Molloy, Lindsay Sloane, Kohl Sudduth and Al Santos as the young actors, with William Ragsdale ("Herman's Head") and Joely Fisher ("Ellen") as the producers.

MONEY TALKS

JAG

9 p.m. on CBS

A near-fatal accident during a Navy-Marine training exercise is blamed on Bud's (Patrick Labyorteaux) brother (Michael Bellisario), a Navy petty officer. Bud goes to Florida to help get his brother out of the brig and lands in there himself. Just when everyone thought things couldn't get any worse, the whole situation escalates into a political matter that gets even the White House involved.

Investigative Reports

9 p.m. on A&E

Two decades ago, Cambodian dictator Pol Pot and his Khmer Rouge forces slaughtered more than a million — perhaps as many as 2 million — of their countrymen in a bloody effort to cleanse the land of potential threats to their socialist scenario. "Return to the Killing Fields" talks with some of those who survived the four-year horror and those who helped commit it, and wonders, along with all of Cambodia, if the killers will ever be brought to court for their crimes.

Sunday

Totally Circus

3 p.m. on DISN

In "Raber's Return," the performers welcome Raber back after being away for a month with a broken arm. But after seeing the troupers perform a great show, he worries that his arm won't heal well enough for him to resume with the other children. 'TV-G'

Sunday

Movie: Mighty Joe Young

8 p.m. on DISN

This entertaining 1998 adventure is about an oversized African gorilla whose world turns upside down when he is sent to the United States. His childhood human friend (Charlize Theron) and a wildlife refuge worker (Bill Paxton) are the only people who can save him from an untimely fate. 'PG'

Thursday

Movie: Stepsister From Planet Weird

6 p.m. on DISN

Courtnee Draper stars as Megan, a teen-ager who is shocked to learn that her eccentric, single mother plans to marry. Megan and her brother think their mother's fiance has some unusual habits, but that's nothing compared to his daughter, Ariel, who is afraid of wind.

Saturday

Movie: Annie

2 p.m. on FAM

Adorable Aileen Quinn stars in this 1982 film adaptation of the Broadway musical, whose hit song "Tomorrow" became the audition ditty of choice for a generation of child-star wannabes. Albert Finney plays Daddy Warbucks, and Carol Burnett is at her comic best as the evil Miss Hannigan. 'PG'

Charlize Theron and Bill Paxton

Saturday's Best Bets

Olympic Summer Games

6 p.m. on NBC

The drive for five begins for Marion Jones at Olympic Stadium. She's the odds-on favorite in the women's 100-meters, the first step in her attempt to become the first female track athlete to capture five golds at a single Games. In the men's 100-meters, Maurice Greene holds the world record (9.79), so don't look away from the TV during the final or you'll miss it. Greene struggled in pre-Olympic meets, opening a small window for someone to rise to the challenge and pull an upset. Also on tap: the men's platform synchronized diving final and four swimming finals.

Movie: Uncle Buck

6 p.m. on USA

A big-hearted but bumbling man (John Candy) agrees to look after his brother's children for a few days when the parents are called away on an emergency. As if looking after a house, two small tykes, their rebellious older sister and her endangered virginity weren't enough, he's also trying to make up with his girlfriend (Amy Madigan) and fend off the advances of a man-hungry neighbor (Laurie Metcalf).

Movie: Metro

7 p.m. on ABC

Mix a little "Beverly Hills Cop" and "Lethal Weapon" and you have the formula for this 1997 action comedy-drama. Like "Cop," it stars Eddie Murphy as a law-enforcement type — a San Francisco hostage negotiator this time — seeking his buddy's killer after being officially taken off the case.

Wild Discovery

7 p.m. on DISC

Mosquitoes stole the spotlight in some parts of the United States this past summer, as concerns rose about their spreading the potentially lethal West Nile virus. But the tick is a far more versatile spreader of diseases, second only to the malaria-carrying mosquito in terms of the danger it poses to humans. "Ticks: The Real Vampires" explains how these tiny bloodsuckers have played host to a wide variety of even tinier critters — nematodes, viruses and bacteria — that can make us sick.

Midsomer Murders

8 p.m. on A&E

In "Blue Herrings," Barnaby's (John Nettles) elderly Aunt Alice suspects something other than old age caused the death of a fellow resident at the Lawnside Rest Home. Barnaby is busy with civic affairs and doesn't take his aunt's suspicions seriously until a couple more residents meet mysterious ends. Now he has to get to the bottom of things before Alice becomes the next victim. Daniel Casey also stars.

Human drama in 'Code Blue'

Cover story

Charity begins at home, they say, but a new TLC series suggests you have to go to the Big Easy for the real thing.

"Code Blue," a new 13-week reality series premiering Monday, Sept. 25, marks a new phase in reality programming as it takes viewers into the touching human dramas playing out in Charity Hospital, a New Orleans community hospital that opens its door to all, regardless of insurance status.

"What you see in Charity is a magnifying glass of society," says executive producer Jane Wagner, who spent 12 weeks with her crew at the facility. "And so much of the stuff coming through Charity is preventable, but these are real people going through profound human experiences. You can ask yourself, 'What would I do in that situation?' but you also can ask yourself, 'What can we do to prevent these situations?' "

Regardless of which viewpoint audiences take, it's a given that viewers will find themselves caught up in the intense stories presented every week. But unlike "Trauma," another long-running TLC series, "Code Blue" isn't aimed at thrill junkies. It takes a path that is at the same time less hectic and more emotionally engaging.

That reflects a growing hunger in society at large, Wagner suggests.

'Code Blue' and a lot of the other reality programs today (are) approaching documentary not as sheer 'factual programming,' but as human drama unfolding, as a narrative experience. This is storytelling, stories that you will get involved in," she says.

"People are thirsting to learn from human experience, both in terms of books on the best-seller lists and also programs that you see as well. We can learn from people in these extreme situations, and that's what makes them so compelling to us."

From a patient perspective, the most riveting personal story in the first episode is that of Dr. Eduardo Marvez's patient Edwinna Tanner, who is plagued by serious circulatory problems. Not to put too shiny a face on it: Her foot is rotting, but she remains in denial that amputation is her only hope.

We get only brief shots of the infected foot itself, but that may be enough to send more squeamish viewers racing for cover. Wagner says this particular story challenged the filmmakers.

"We really tried to pull back," she says. "The goal of the series is to go with the emotional drama rather than the frenetic excitement to carry you through a story. It's a question of connecting with the patient. If you are talking about Mrs. Tanner's foot and you want to have a sense of her denial, at some point you have to actually see what it looks like. We tried to put in just enough so you didn't sit there going, 'Well, what is it?' but also weren't distracted by going, 'Oh, my God, look at that!'

"The aim is that you will be stunned that s[illegible] could be living with this (horrib[illegible]) and be in such a state of denial because she is so fearful of the hospital that she ignores what is going on."

If it helps, Tanner's extraordinary and life-affirming rebound after surgery more than makes up for any squeamish moments early on, when attending doctors immediately realize they are dealing with a very, very sensitive patient.

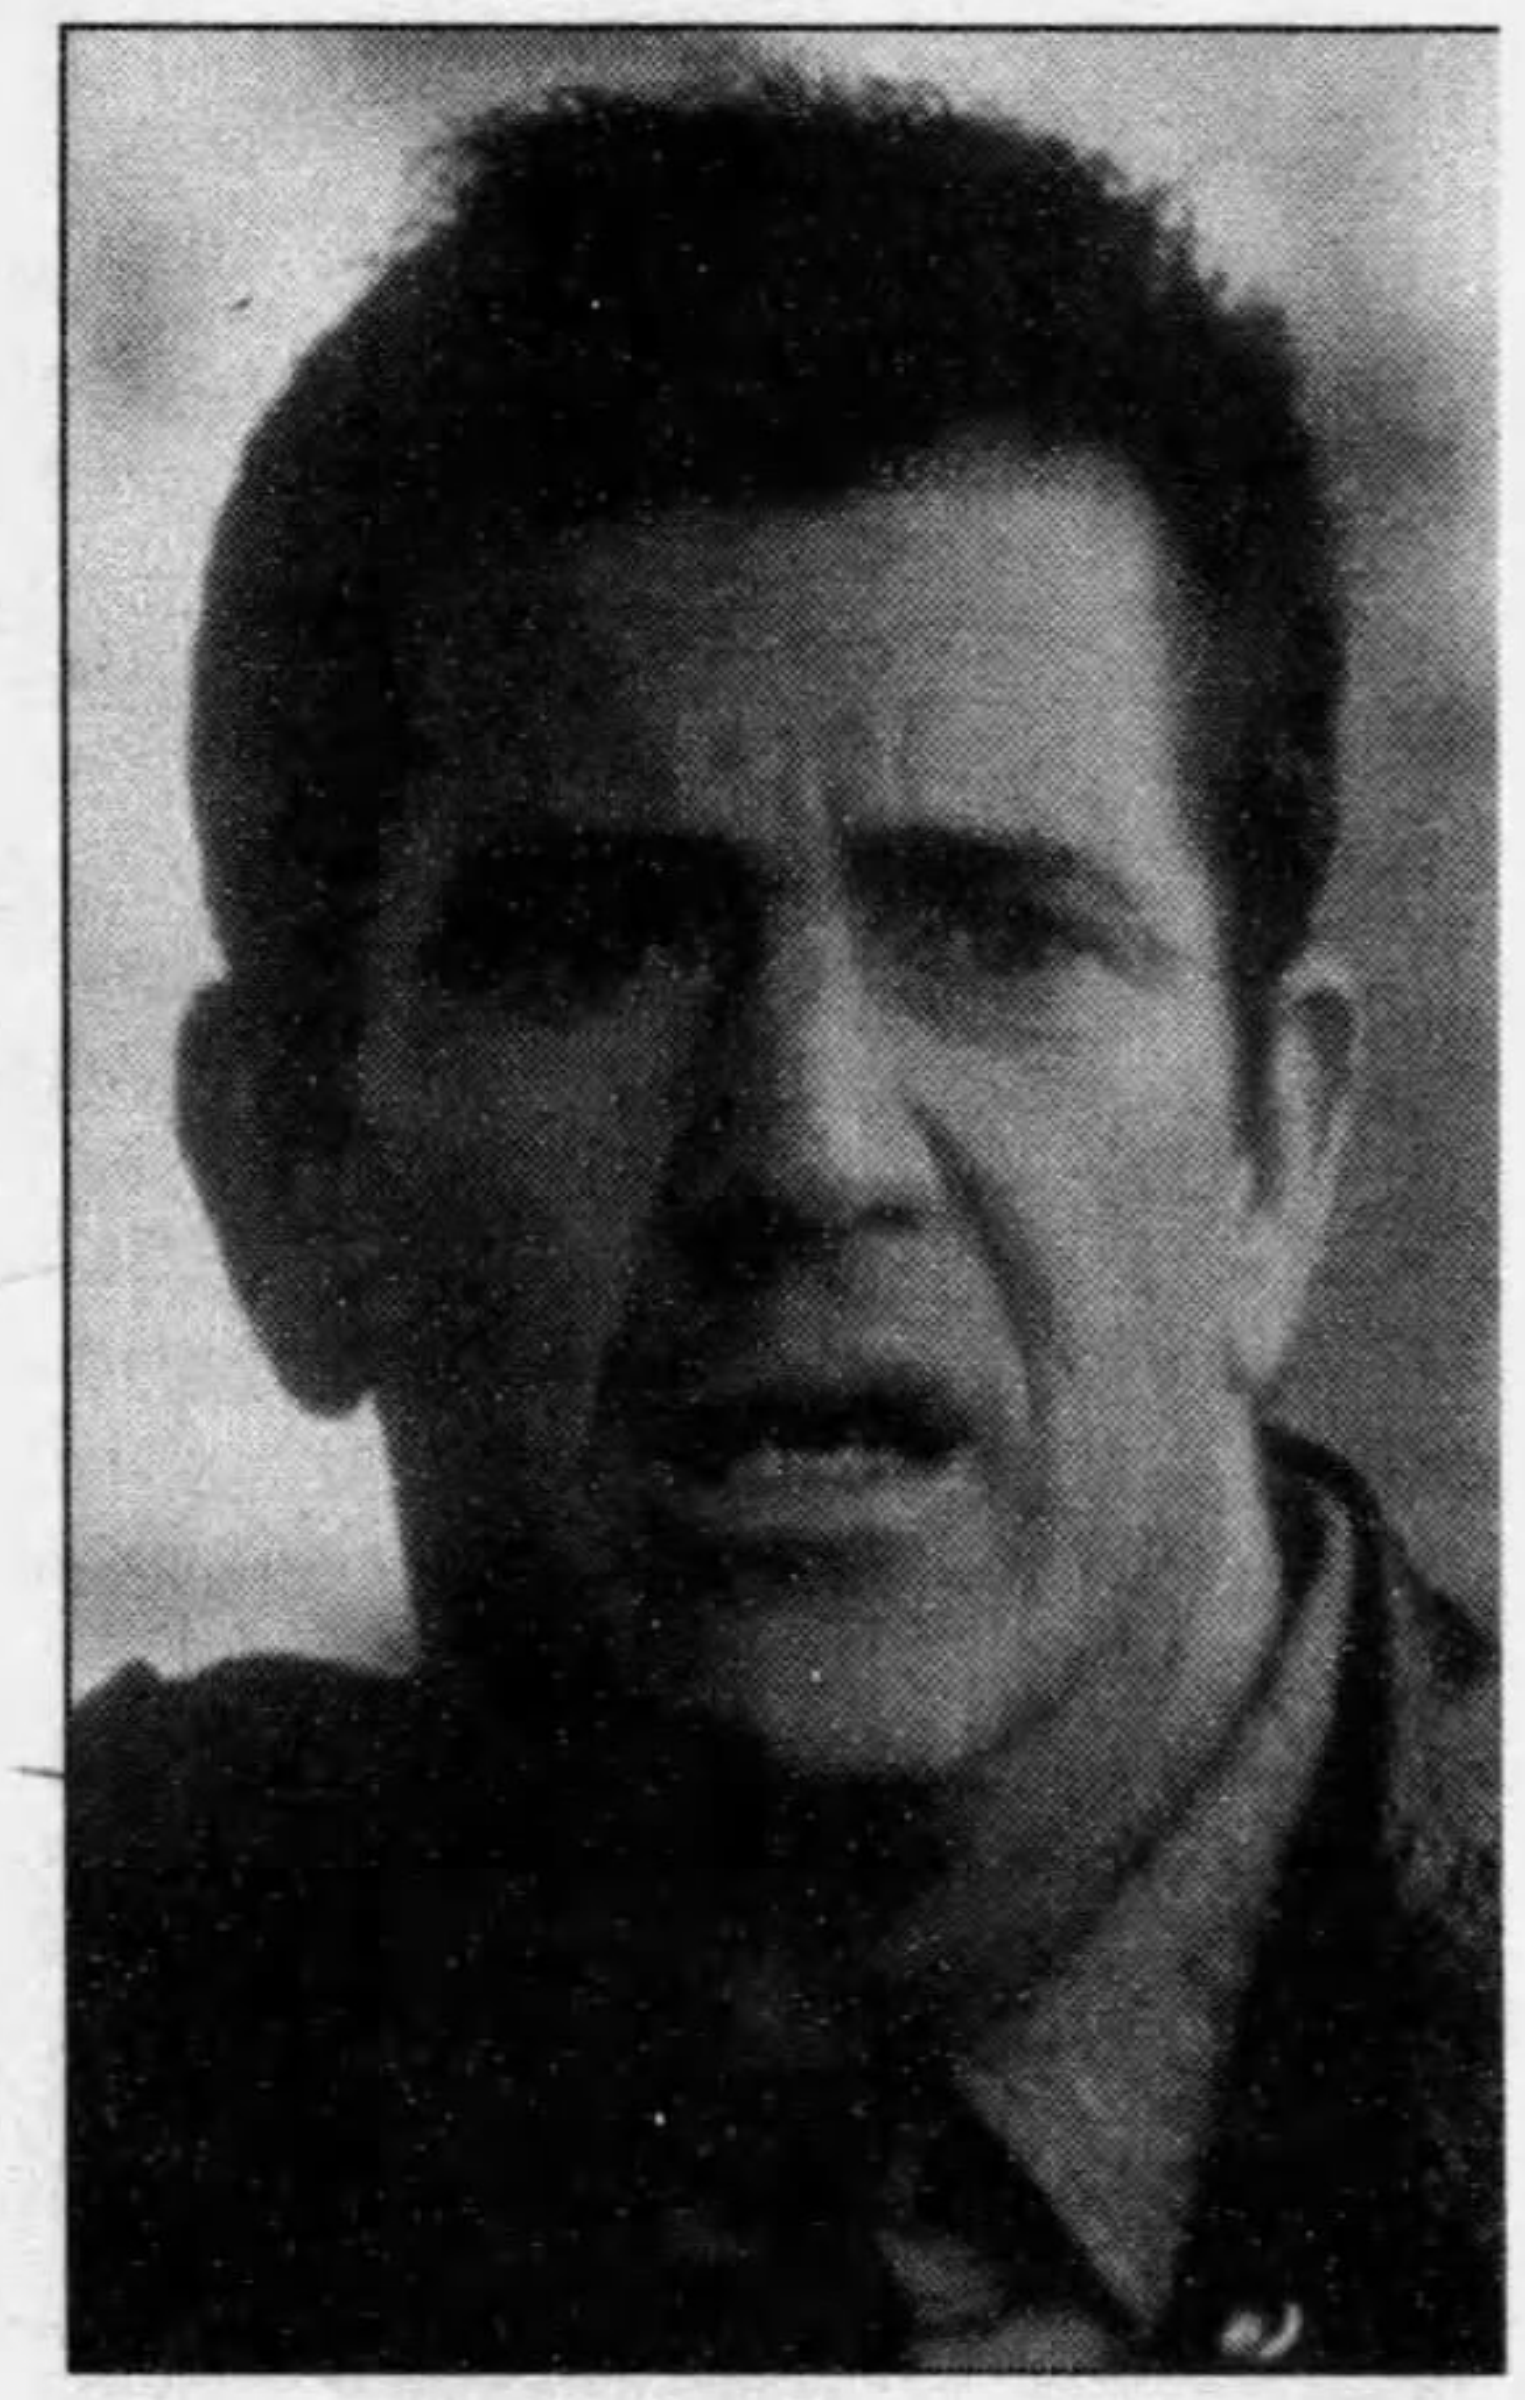
Don't fall for bogus Gibson Internet yarn



Mel Gibson
INTERNET STORY

By Taylor Michaels
TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

Pipeline

A friend recently forwarded to me a bizarre story about Mel Gibson that is making the rounds on the Internet. It supposedly was reported by Paul Harvey and says, among other things, that Gibson once was beaten so badly in a fight that he had to have extensive reconstructive surgery, an incident that inspired his movie "The Man Without a Face." This is completely bogus, right? -Hank S., Charlotte, N.C.

This ridiculous hoax, falsely attributed to Harvey, includes an alleged chronicle of Gibson's early years that is almost entirely false.

In fact, there is barely a glimmer of truth anywhere in this maudlin Internet story. Gibson did, in fact, get into a barroom brawl years ago on the night before his audition for "Mad Max," but his routine cuts and bruises not only did not require extensive surgery, they also didn't even prevent him from successfully auditioning as scheduled.

As was widely reported at the time of its 1993 release, "The Man Without a Face" is based on a 1972 novel of the same name by Isabelle Holland.

You can read a detailed dissection of the multiple falsehoods in this Internet report at www.urbanlegends.com.

A few weeks ago, TV Land had a memorial tribute to Meredith MacRae of "Petticoat Junction." When and how did she die, and what did she do after "Petticoat Junction"? -Ellen Hilton, Marseilles, Ill.

MacRae, 56, died July 14 of complications from brain cancer. After "Petticoat" was canceled in 1970, MacRae appeared in TV movies and episodic television until the late 1980s. After that, she worked on two local Los Angeles TV shows: "Mid-Morning L.A and "Born Famous."

I once read that Sarah Jessica Parker is the daughter of an actress named Diane. Who is she? -P. Sebesta, Fairbanks, Alaska.

Parker's mother, Barbara, is not an actress.

Sunday's Best Bets

Olympic Summer Games

6 p.m. on NBC

While the track and field men compete in the high jump and hammer throw, their female counterparts give it their all in the triple jump and heptathlon. Rowing, gymnastics (individual) and the women's platform diving final round out the day's televised medal matchups.

King of the Hill

6:30 p.m. on FOX

Precooked turkey and spare propane tank in tow, the Hills are heading to Peggy's mom's place in Montana for Thanksgiving. But first they have to get out of the airport — no small feat, given the weather and an overenthusiastic bomb squad (turkey nuggets, anyone?). But all the family's friends are trying to get out of town, too, so the gang's all there for an unconventional but festive celebration when all flights are grounded. Mike Judge and Kathy Najimy lead the voice cast of "Happy Hank's Giving."

Movie: L.A. Confidential

7 p.m. on CBS

Kevin Spacey, Russell Crowe and Guy Pearce star in this smartly conceived film noir as policemen in 1950s Los Angeles. Their methods differ, but each is on the trail of interlocking crimes, from a shootout in a diner to the brutal rape of a Mexican woman to an attack on a gay politician's career. Kim Basinger and Danny DeVito also star.

Peggy Hill
KING OF THE HILL

Las Vegas: Gamble in the Desert

7 p.m. on A&E

This two-part documentary special is based on the best-selling book "Easy Street" by Susan Berman, whose father was a close associate of legendary mobster Bugsy Seigel. Interviews with major figures from the worlds of gambling, prizefighting, politics and entertainment tell the story of the infamous city and reveal secrets from behind the scenes. Part 2, "Las Vegas: House of Cards," airs immediately afterward.

The Practice

9 p.m. on ABC

It happens to most lawyers at some point in their careers: a case that tests their loyalties and their consciences. "The Honorable Man" has two. Eugene (Steve Harris) is appointed to represent an unsavory character on rape and murder charges, while Jimmy (Michael Badalucco) is approached to defend a friend who's being accused of firing an employee with AIDS. Dylan McDermott and Camryn Manheim also star, with Holland Taylor in her recurring guest role as Judge Roberta Kittleson.

Controversy follows Dr. Laura

By Lorri Antosz Benson

TVDATA FEATURES WRITER

The old cliche, "You either love (her) or hate (her)" couldn't be more true than when applied to one of this season's talk show newcomers. The famous — or infamous — Dr. Laura Schlessinger has come to television.

No stranger to broadcasting, Dr. Laura hosts a radio program that's billed as the fastest-growing talk show in radio history, claiming 18 to 21 million listeners a week on more than 450 stations. Not all those listening, however, like what they hear. Dr. Laura's staunch "no excuses" stand on homosexuality resulted in a heated protest by the gay community. Her references to homosexuality as "deviant" and a "biological error" motivated the protesters to rise up against the new TV show months before it even hit air.

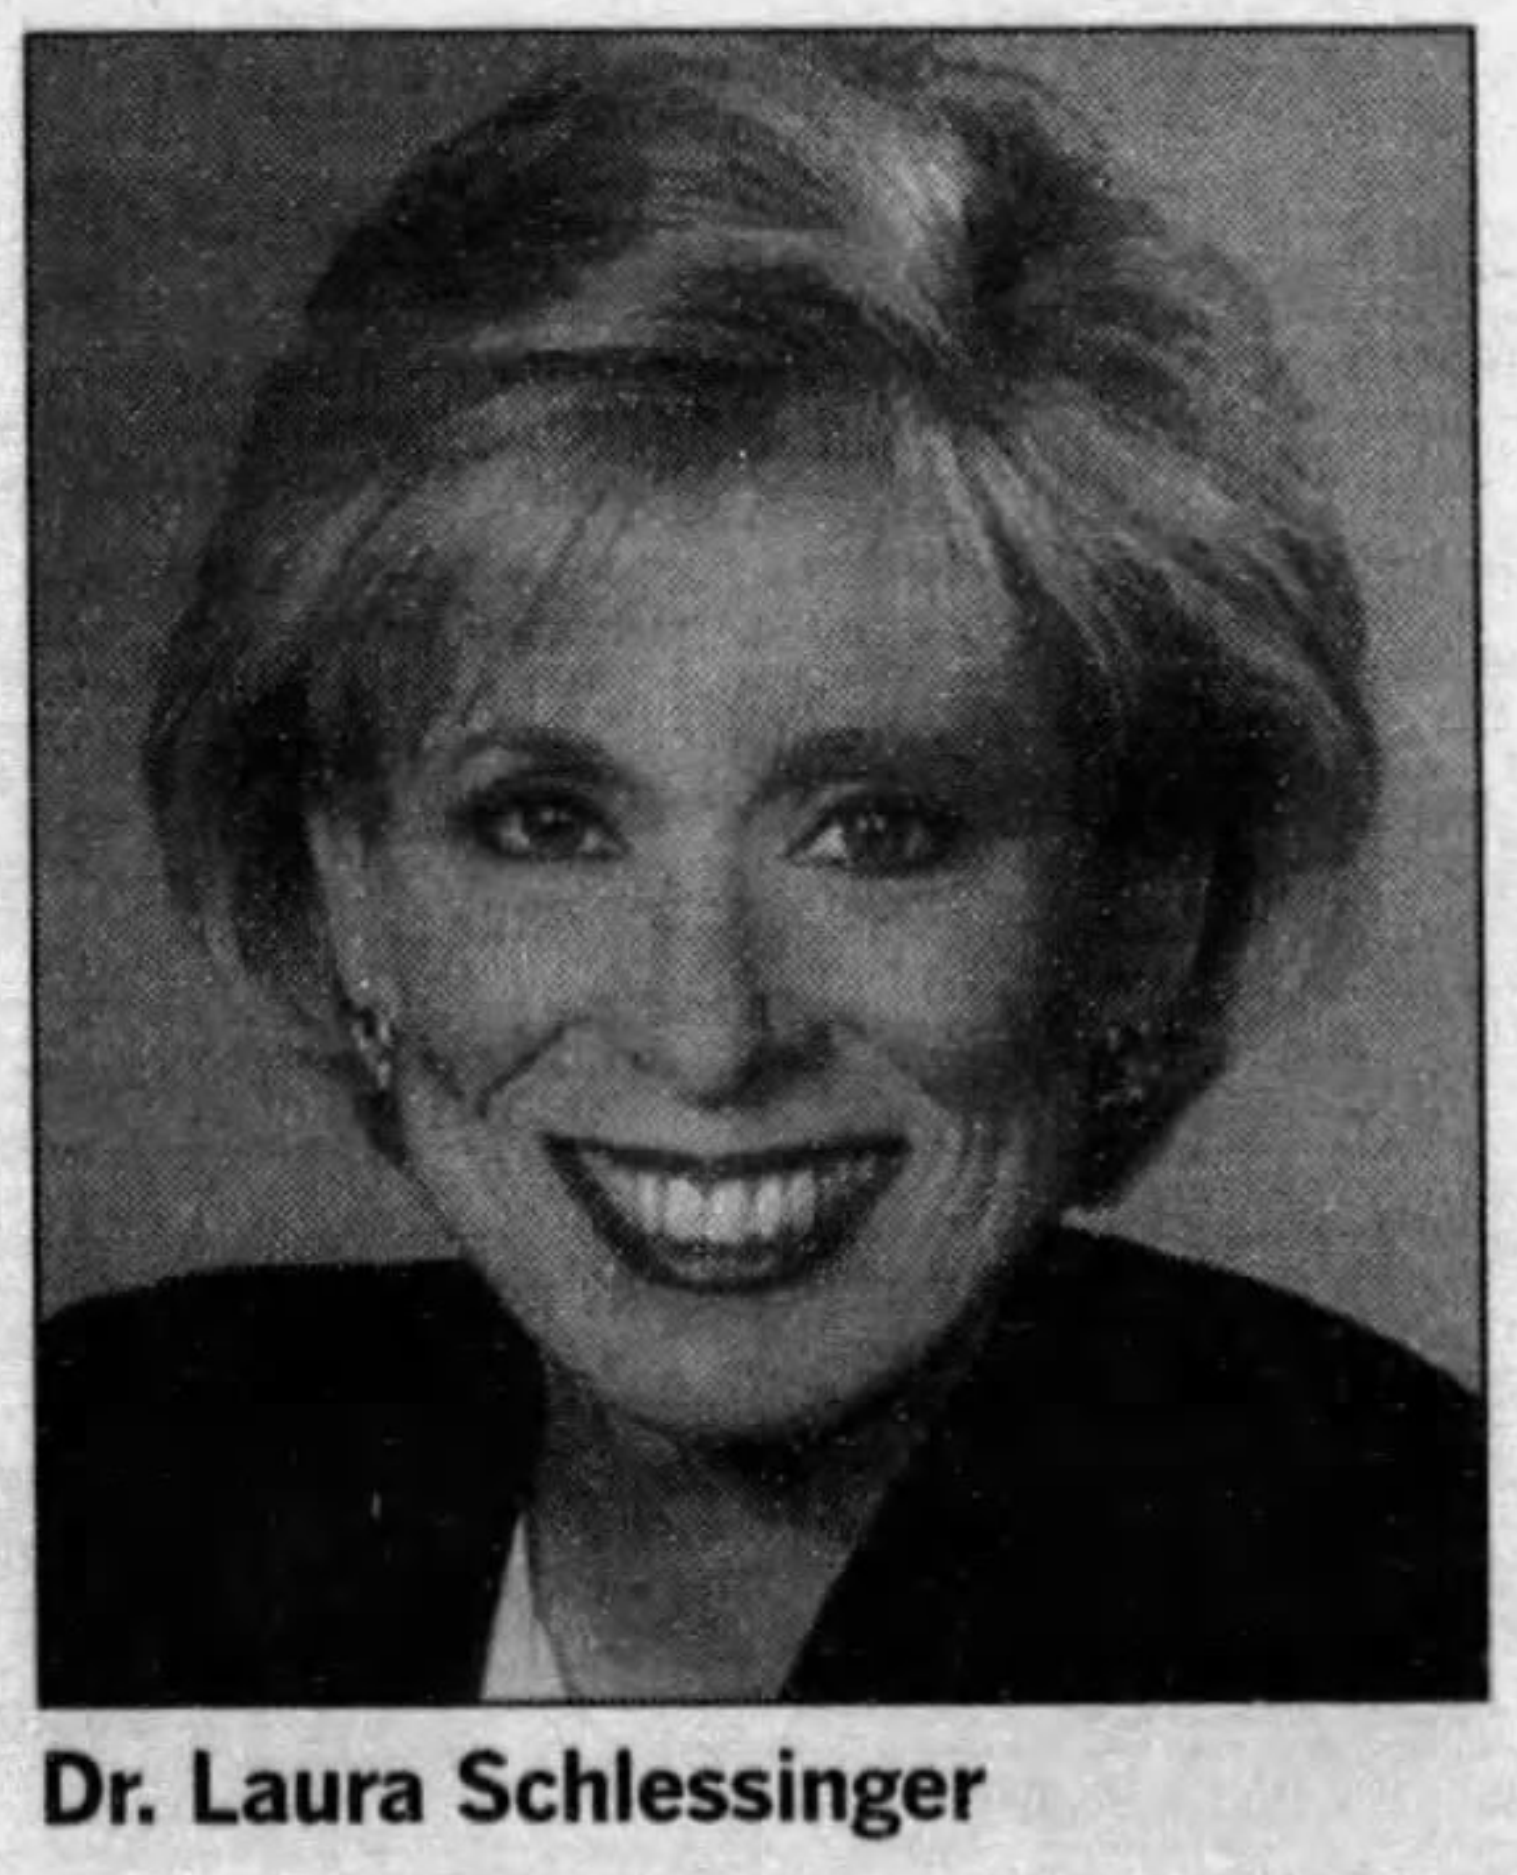
"Dr. Laura," which launched two weeks ago despite those efforts, is a "morality" play seeking to motivate and empower individuals to "do the right thing." According to executive producer Velma Cato, the morality angle is just one aspect of the new show that makes it stand out from other talk shows. "Dealing with moral and ethical issues is novel for TV today. Dr. Laura wants people to think and make choices," Cato says.

Talk the Talk

Another difference is the host's intense study of the issues. "She gets a three-ring binder each day with background on everything," Cato says. "She reads all the books and doesn't always know which side or way she's going to go."

If you think the controversy from the gay community is going to stifle Dr. Laura's opinionated comments, think again. She'll still be "preaching, teaching and nagging." As Cato says, "Her value judgments are what Paramount ... and her 21 million radio listeners expect."

What Dr. Laura will do differently on TV is explore issues and viewpoints rather than counsel those asking for help. "The show is an interactive and passionate experience," Schlessinger says.



Dr. Laura Schlessinger

In addition, the Internet will be used for a daily poll, and the host will learn the results when the audience does.

The inside word is that Dr. Laura has made the transition from radio to television like a pro, although one source hinted at the usual tension during the early weeks of a show, saying she recently stalked off the set.

Monday's Best Bets

Olympic Summer Games

6 p.m. on NBC

Thanks to an injury, U.S. favorite Michael Johnson bowed out of the 200-meter competition, but he's looking to make amends by giving it his all in the 400-meter final. World record holder Stacy Dragila looks to make history by being the first competitor to take home a medal in the first year of women's Olympic pole vaulting.

Princess Diana's Dresses

6 p.m. on MAX

Two months before Princess Diana's death, more than 70 of her dresses had been auctioned off for charity. When she died, the dresses underwent an invisible transformation for their new owners — from merely pricey celebrity mementos to precious pieces of history. The designers and new owners of some of the dresses tell their stories in this special from British documentarian Christopher Sykes.

The Simpsons

7 p.m. on FOX

In "Bart to the Future," an American Indian seer gives Bart a peek at his adulthood, and it isn't pretty. He's a divorced, destitute rock-star wannabe sponging off Ralph Wiggum. After his latest eviction, he decides to go sponge off Lisa, who certainly has the room: She's in the White House. Of course, he drives everyone nuts, so Lisa ships him off on a "mission" while she tries to negotiate with the nation's creditors — a job, it turns out, for which Bart is eminently qualified.

Brad Garrett
EVERYBODY LOVES RAYMOND

Code Blue: Sweet Charity

7 p.m. on TLC

There's more drama than trauma in this new reality series set at New Orleans' Charity Hospital, a community-centered, open-to-all facility. Viewers will find themselves identifying with both patients and staff — from a woman resisting the inevitable amputation of her foot to a patient liaison who refuses to detach emotionally from the pain of those she counsels. A strong stomach may be required at times, but the show's compelling storytelling is worth enduring the occasionally graphic content.

Everybody Loves Raymond

7:30 p.m. on CBS

The Barones run into Joanne (Suzie Plakson), Robert's (Brad Garrett) former wife, which leads to an evening of reminiscing about the pair's marriage. Some of those memories are hard for Robert to handle, but he's not completely averse to Joanne's suggestion that they get together sometime. Ray Romano and Debra Heaton also star.

Tuesday's Best Bets

Olympic Summer Games

6 p.m. on NBC

In a precursor to his platform diving final later in the week, swimmer Mark Ruiz gets into the championship state of mind with the men's springboard diving final. Other events to be decided include weightlifting and synchronized swimming (duet final). Rowdy Gaines is among the announcers at the aquatic events.

Buffy the Vampire Slayer

7 p.m. on WB

Buffy (Sarah Michelle Gellar) feels a little like a Junior Golden Gloves wannabe facing Muhammad Ali in his prime in "Buffy vs. Dracula." That's right; she gets up close and personal with the granddaddy of all vampires (guest star Rudolf Martin) and discovers her powers are no match for his. She's not the only one under his spell; Drac has tapped Xander (Nicholas Brendon) as his No. 2 man, and soon the whole gang is in danger. The season premiere introduces a new companion for the vampire slayer: a younger sister (Michelle Trachtenberg). Next, Angel, Cordelia and Wesley (David Boreanaz, Charisma Carpenter, Alexis Denisof) also acquire a new friend: vampire hunter Charles Gunn (J. August Richards) in the season premiere of "Angel," "Judgment."

OLYMPIC SUMMER GAMES

20th Century Fox: The Blockbuster Years (1965-2000)

7 p.m. on AMC

This salute to the Fox flicks that raked in the big bucks over the past 35 years is somewhat disjointed in its presentation, but film fans will appreciate the generous serving of clips. Featured features include "The Sound of Music," "Star Wars," "The French Connection," "Romancing the Stone" and "Titanic." James Coburn narrates.

Movie: Alien 3

7 p.m. on SCIFI

Ellen Ripley (Sigourney Weaver) experiences a series of rude awakenings after crash-landing on a prison planet, starting with the discovery that her young ward, Newt, and her friend Hicks are dead. Then it becomes apparent that she's a very unwelcome visitor; the inmates being held here despise women. And speaking of unwelcome visitors, guess who came along for the ride. None other than Ripley's jut-jawed alien nemesis. Fighting off the slimy creature will be more difficult this time around; the ragtag army of convicts that Ripley assembles is not only hostile toward her leadership, but unarmed. Charles S. Dutton, Charles Dance and Lance Henriksen also star in this 1992 sequel to 1979's "Alien" and 1986's "Aliens."

Wednesday's Best Bets

Olympic Summer Games

6 p.m. on NBC

Olympian cyclists show their mettle on the pedals in the men's road race, while world champion Gail Devers hits the track for the women's 100-meter and 400-meter hurdles and discus final. The men also compete in the finals of the 800-meter, 400-meter hurdles and decathlon.

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

Twenty-five years ago, powerful union boss Jimmy Hoffa vanished, never to be seen again. Nobody knows who did it, but the conventional wisdom is the mob was involved; Hoffa was extremely tight with organized crime. That made him a villain to mob-chasing Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, but his efforts on behalf of working people made him a hero to thousands. "Jimmy Hoffa: The Man Behind the Mystery" remembers him through interviews with his son and namesake, his biographer, friends, and a suspect in his disappearance.

Jane Kaczmarek
MALCOLM IN THE MIDDLE

Malcolm in the Middle

7:30 p.m. on FOX

It's Monday morning, but Lois (Jane Kaczmarek) is sick in bed and too out of it to realize that. She thinks it's Sunday, and Malcolm (Frankie Muniz) and his brothers are not about to set her straight. While the boys can't use the unscheduled day off to run wild — if it's the weekend, they're still grounded — they do find an interesting new indoor game: asking Mom questions when she's too sick to tell anything but the truth. Bryan Cranston also stars in "Smunday."

Cover Me: Based on the True Life of an FBI Family

8 p.m. on USA

In "Killing Me Softly," Danny and Barbara's (Peter Dobson, Melora Hardin) latest undercover assignment — catching a gang of hit men — requires them to pretend they're divorcing. Although they're just faking it, going through the motions puts them through an emotional wringer that's real. Cameron Richardson, Antoinette Picatto and Michael Angarano also star.

The Drew Carey Show

8:30 p.m. on ABC

With tongue planted firmly in cheek, the cast covers the spectrum of controversial topics and emoting opportunities in a quest for Emmys. For starters, Drew (Drew Carey) is illiterate, Oswald (Diedrich Bader) is a kleptomaniac, Mimi (Kathy Kinney) is battling obsessive-compulsive disorder, and Kate (Christa Miller) is dying. And did we mention everyone is gay?

Thursday's Best Bets

Olympic Summer Games

6 p.m. on NBC

Marion Jones has her work cut out for herself in the women's 200-meter final. Besides the stiff competition, Jones faces pressure from the fact that she's trying to become only the second track and field athlete to win five gold medals in one Olympics. Other events include the women's springboard diving final and synchronized swimming.

Whose Line Is It Anyway?

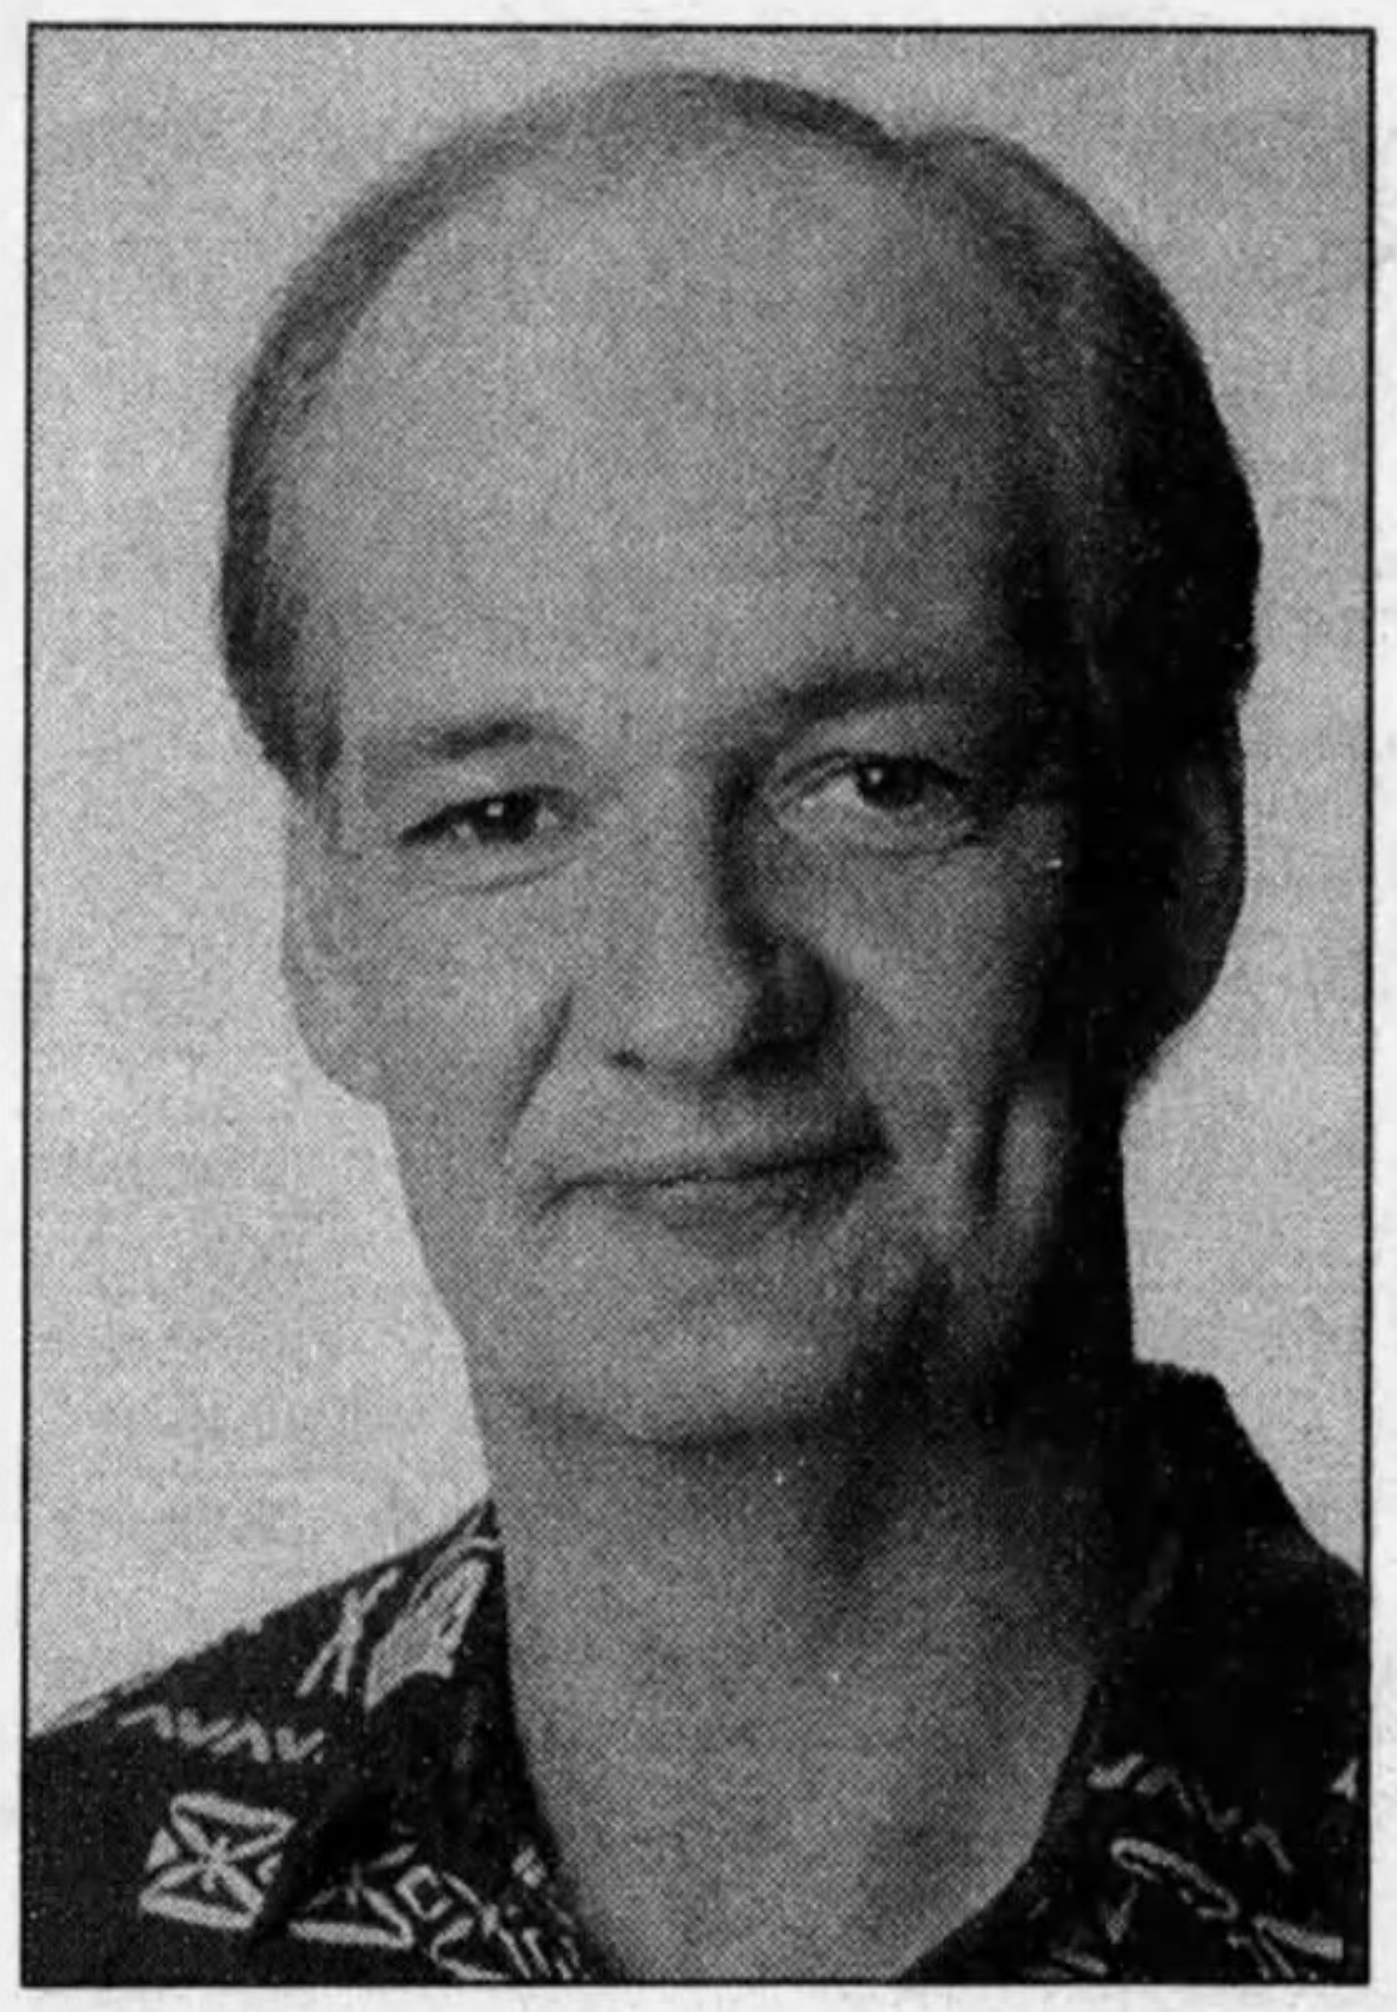
7 p.m. on ABC

"Show No. 211" spotlights Ryan Stiles as a fuming farmer in a "Let's Make a Date" sketch, along with segments devoted to "Props" and "Party Quirks." Improv masters, and series regulars, Colin Mochrie and Wayne Brady add their talents to the mix.

The Simpsons

7 p.m. on FOX

Homer (voice of Dan Castellaneta) takes a test in a magazine and learns he won't live to a ripe old age. His extreme reaction to this news sends him to a psychiatrist, who prescribes a vacation in Florida. But this is no ordinary family trip; it's spring break, and Homer is thrilled at the opportunity to recapture his youth. But of course, disaster ensues, and soon the whole family is trying to stay one step ahead of the law.



Colin Mochrie
WHOSE LINE IS IT ANYWAY?

Movie: The Great White Hope

7 p.m. on AMC

James Earl Jones and Jane Alexander earned Oscar nominations for recreating their Broadway roles in this 1970 drama. Jones plays a black heavyweight champion battling racism for his ring success and his white mistress.

Hospital

8 p.m. on DISC

Forget desert islands, wired houses and millionaire dating games. The hospital is becoming the hot new venue for reality TV. Discovery's entry, set at Duke University Medical Center, zeroes in on the most dramatic cases it can find. The premiere spotlights a man with a brain tumor who undergoes nail-bitingly delicate surgery, while awake.

Investigative Reports

9 p.m. on A&E

Computer viruses can't kill you, but they can deal a serious blow to your productivity. "Caught in the 'Net" looks at these scourges of our wired world, which have infected computers in homes, businesses, schools and government. As users get more savvy about viruses, their creators are getting cleverer, too; many people who wouldn't normally open e-mail from a stranger found the "I love you" subject line of the infamous "Love Bug" virus impossible to resist. Bill Kurtis hosts.

Friday's Best Bets

Big Brother

7 p.m. on CBS

It never grabbed audiences as completely as sister show "Survivor," although the mid-September controversy over whether the whole gang would walk out with a little more than two weeks to go did generate some buzz. Now it's decision time: Who's going back to the real world $500,000 richer? Julie Chen hosts the finale.

Sabrina, the Teenage Witch

7 p.m. on WB

Sabrina (Melissa Joan Hart) hasn't been in college long, but she's learned quickly that it's busy, busy, busy. She casts a complex spell to give herself more time to get everything done, but there's no such thing as a free lunch — or free time. The hours she's using are being taken from her roommates (Soleil Moon Frye, Trevor Lissauer). Speaking of time, Zelda (Beth Broderick) has found something new to occupy hers, although it may be too close to Sabrina for comfort.

Every Night

7 p.m. on VH1

Who wants to be a TV programming executive? VH1 gives you the chance as it unveils five new proposed series and invites you to rate them at the channel's Website, www.vh1.com. The one that gets the most positive feedback becomes a regular series. The choices are "Every Night," designed as a late-night news, interview and performance program; "Reunion," which brings members of broken-up bands together for an evening's performance; "Break. through," a talent contest where viewers vote online for the winners; "Radical Recuts," which splices assorted reality footage into current and classic videos for an entertaining new look; and "Fish & Clips," which offers commentary on current videos from — really! — two fish.

Julie Chen
BIG BROTHER

Survivor

8 p.m. on CBS

The encore marathon of the summer's hit series wraps up with a rebroadcast of the finale. Everyone — even those who have been seeing it for the first time in reruns — knows how it ends — Richard wins — but the impassioned "closing arguments" of the finalists make it worth another look. Jeff Probst hosts.

Investigative Reports

9 p.m. on A&E

Mention organized crime, and most of us think of names such as Gotti and Colombo (or Corleone and Soprano). But members of the world's fastest-growing mob are more likely to be named Ivan or Igor. "Long Arm of the Russian Mob" is a chilling look at how gangsters in the former Soviet Union have wasted no time taking advantage of their new freedom.

Blue's Clues

8:30 a.m. on NICK

Steve and the gang investigate a mystery in their very own backyard. It seems an unknown builder has invaded their turf and is making a fort. The clues eventually lead them to the culprit, who becomes the newest addition to the group of friends. This special episode also will have a prime-time airing today. 'TV-Y'

Tuesday

Freaks and Geeks

8 p.m. on FAM

Former geek-turned-rebel Lindsay gets into trouble after hitchhiking with Kim Kelly. Worried for her safety, Lindsay's parents take Kim's mother's advice and read Lindsay's diary, but they aren't prepared for their daughter's opinion of them. On the geek front, the gym teacher helps Bill and fellow geeks win a victory for unpopular teens everywhere. 'TV-PG'

Wednesday

Movie: The Truman Show

5:15 p.m. on SHOW

Jim Carrey plays a man whose entire life has been engineered to provide TV watchers with the ultimate reality series. Natascha McElhone plays Truman's lost love, an actress whom the producers shipped off to Fiji because she wanted to let him in on the secret. 'PG'

Saturday

Movie: The Love Bug

6:30 p.m. on DISN

In a 1997 sequel of sorts to the original Herbie comedy, Bruce Campbell ("The Adventures of Brisco County, Jr.") plays a washed-up race-car driver who reluctantly teams up with the down-and-out Volkswagen Beetle, with surprising results. Dean Jones reprises his role as Herbie's friend Jim Douglas. 'TV-G'

Saturday's Best Bets

Olympic Summer Games

6 p.m. on NBC

The U.S. men's basketball team looks to roll to yet another gold medal with the help of NBA superstars Kevin Garnett, Vince Carter and Jason Kidd in the finals. Mark Ruiz makes a bid for Olympic gold in the platform diving final, while the United States pins its women's track and field medal hopes on the shoulders of Marion Jones, who's competing in the 4x400-meter relays.

Movie: The Paper

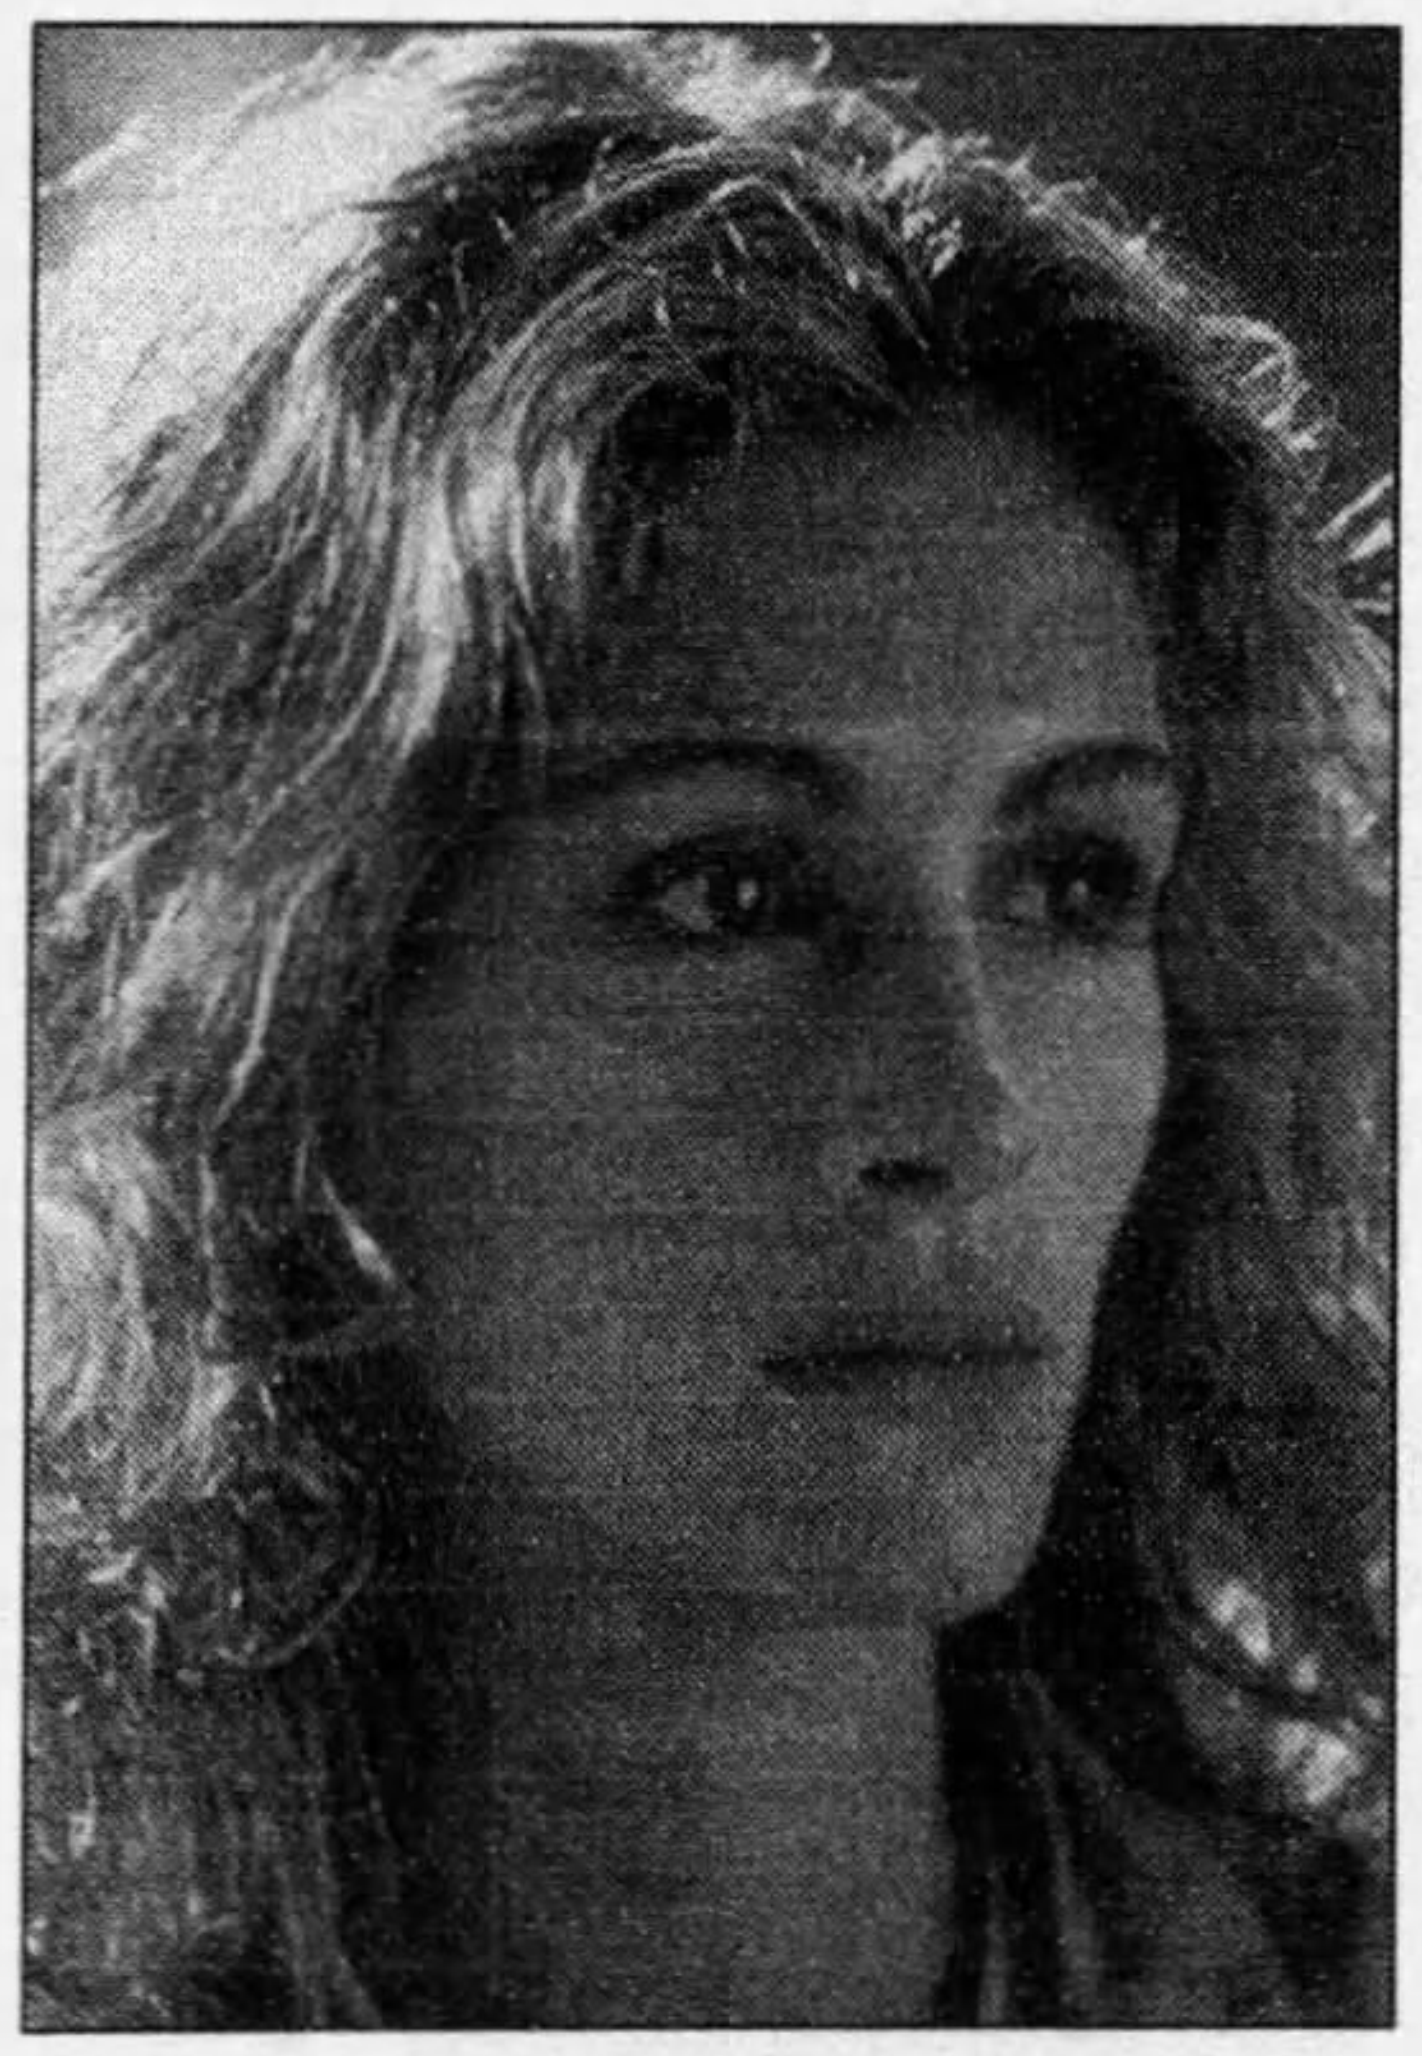
6:05 p.m. on TMC

Ron Howard's 1994 release about a day in the life of a struggling New York newspaper follows a team of harried journalists investigating the suspects in a double murder case. Several real-life Gotham journalists, including Donna Hanover, Pete Hamill and Bob Costas, have cameo roles in the drama. Michael Keaton, Glenn Close and Robert Duvall star.

Movie: First Knight

7 p.m. on ABC

Sean Connery stars as King Arthur, Julia Ormond plays Guinevere and Richard Gere plays knight errant Lancelot in this 1995 fantasy adventure based on the Camelot legend. Scenes of battle and romance alternate as the flawed knight pursues the king's lady at peril to the realm. Ben Cross and John Gielgud also star.



Julia Roberts
THE PELICAN BRIEF

Movie: The Pelican Brief

7 p.m. on CBS

Julia Roberts stars in this 1993 thriller about a plucky law student determined to find a connection between the assassinations of two Supreme Court justices on opposite ends of the political spectrum. She outlines her theory in a brief that draws the attention of the powerful people it implicates, putting her life in danger. Denzel Washington also stars.

Biography

7 p.m. on A&E

"Sherlock Holmes: The Great Detective" profiles the British investigator whose name has become synonymous with brilliant deductive ability. Holmes was fictional, of course, but the program treats him otherwise, tracing his life as if he'd really lived it.

Movie: Lake Placid

8 p.m. on HBO

Bridget Fonda stars in the fish-out-of-water role of a big-city paleontologist investigating a mysterious death in a remote Maine lake — the work of a 30-foot man-eating crocodile. Bill Pullman plays a laconic game warden with whom she clashes and later bonds, and Brendan Gleeson and Oliver Platt play a portly pair of policemen. But the film's real stars are the giant croc himself and Betty White as his best human friend.
